-The editor of the Genoa Banner ran against a man and a republican the other day in the person of H. A. Saunders, of Woodville, and seems to have got the worst of any argument that took place, judging by the "racket" that he makes in his paper. It is no wonder that Brer. Thompson thinks Mr. Saunders "is naturally smart," as he says, and he doubtless found also that he had not lived in the world several years to no purpose, but had acquired a fund of information which tallies well with his natural smartness. The editor who begins a meanly personal quarter-column of slush with such a lie as this sentence evidently needs to be born again several times: "The Rep-Demo. press of the country declare that the farmer has no brains, is not intelligent and is not fit for anything but follow the plow." We quote it exactly as we find it in Brer. Thompson's paper, and we judge that if he will lie about republican editors he will lie about the rank and file of the party. We don't doubt but that our old friend, H. A. Saunders, has been misrepresented by the Banner. That was a very interesting write-up of the life of Spencer Campbell, (colored), that was published in last Saturday's Telegram, but as nearly as we can learn, no coffin was purchased for the body, he didn't die at the hospital, and he went to Omaha. information from his abundant store. All Nebraska should continue to be proud of the growth of her great stock narket, South Omaha. Not much wonder when you come to think of it. The crops in Nebraska are nearly always good, which makes the state good feeding ground, and, by the way, for this year there is no better promise any where.
