COMMANDER WEISSART.

Boys Turn Out

Their Chief.

Monday evening quite a crowd of citizens, old soldiers and their families were in attendance at the opera house at the reception given to Capt. A. G. Weissart, commander-in-chief of the Grand Army of the Republic, who is making a tour through the country in the interest of the order.

Commander-elect Rossiter of Baker Post in command of a large escort of old soldiers, to the music of the S. of V. drum corps, marched into the opera house at half-past seven, and stacked arms on the stage. The national colors were amply displayed, interspersed with the portraits of generals, and the al-ways-appropriate faces of Washington

General Dilworth, commander of the department of Nebraska, made the first speech of the evening, dwelling upon the tests of comradeship, the soldier's duty to his family, his children and the government, illustrating his views with appropriate incidents and anecdotes. The main sentiment of his speech to the old soldier was: "Never, by word or deed, to detract from the cause for which he fought, or exalt in the least the other

Captain Weissart was then introduced Mrs. F. C. Green, Mrs. J. A. Barber and interested the audience with and Mrs. F. H. Rusche were visitors in speech well calculated to give to out speech well calculated to give to outiders an impartial view of the objects of the order. He quoted from the con-stitution of the G. A. -There is no danger from whooping cough when Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is freely given. It liquefies the tough, tenacious mucus and aids in its expectoration. It also lessens the severity and frequency of the paroxysms of coughing, and insures a speedy recovery. There is not the least danger in giving it to children or babies, as it contains no injurious substance. 50 cent bottles for sale by C. E. Pollock & Co. and Dr. Heinz, Druggists.
