Senator North

ED. JOURNAL: I see that quite a number of the democratic newspapers are denouncing our senator, Hon. James E. North, for his vote in helping organize the senate. As I understand the situation, there are 4 democrats, 14 independents and 14 republicans in the senate. No one of the political parties alone could effect an organization; republi cans and independents being a tie, the democrats hold the balance of power. So far, then, as the few democrats are concerned, it is a choice between two evils, and, acting on this principle, I think our senator has done his full duty, not only as a party man, but also as a citizen senator. What right have four men to block the wheels of legislation, especially when no good is to come to their party by so doing! Besides, as a politician, under what obligation is Mr. North to the independents, anyway? Have his political affiliations been with them in the least? Does he owe them anything at all? He is not my kind of a democrat, but
