counties under township organization, and that this is not dead yet, as had been reported. It seems that the main opposition to abolishing the town collector comes from large counties, where it is convenient to have the receiver of public monies near at hand. The special committee, to whom this bill was referred, hoped to amend it so as to leave it optional with the people of the county whether township collectors should be abolished, but we judge that influences have been at work-at least it is announced that the bill will be reported with only a provision legalizing all fees taken in the past by county treasurers for receipting for taxes turned over to them by town collectors. "This," says the editor of the Fremont Tribune (who is at Lincoln giving his attention to watching legislation) "is done to end a great deal of litigation in the state brought against treasurers who acted in

The people don't desire that anbody shall work for them for nothing, or for inadequate pay; we know that, but neither do they wish to pay double. Patch up the past the best way you can without doing injustice, and for the future, if we are to have a township collector and a county collector besides, into whose hands the money is to be paid, let it be set down in plain black and white, what each is to do and the pay he is to get, but don't give the taxpayer a double burden to bear, paying each a full collector's fee. One good round fee is enough, in all conscience. If the county treasurer's work is two-

-We want every mother to know that croup can be prevented. True croup never appears without a warning. The first symptom is hoarseness; then the child appears to have taken a cold or a cold may have accompanied the hoarseness from the start. After that a pe-culiar rough cough is developed, which is followed by the croup. The time to act is when the child first becomes hoarse; a few doses of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy will prevent the attack. Even after a rough cough has appeared the disease may be prevented by using this remedy as directed. It has never been known to fail. 25 cent, 50 cent and $1 bottles for sale by C. E.
