The only trouble is in finding a practicable route between David City and Wahoo to shorten the line between these two points." We have nothing to say against neighbors, all should work for their own interests, but when you take down your map, and see the crooks and curves and turns that are laid down for the different lines of road, sometimes nearly an ox-bow, you can rest assured that there is a solid foundation in fact for such waverings from a direct line. Along of Miss Anna Hamer, who was at home the valley of the Platte for long stretches, the track is a straight line, and, if once in a long while, a span or two of a rather low bridge goes out, the expense is comparatively trifling to that of grading and tunneling, twisting and turning and forever repairing. DALE-Carrie, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Dale, in Chicago, Thursday, March 16th, of tuberculosis, aged 24 years. The deceased had been a sufferer for a number of years. About a year ago she went to Chicago and underwent a severe operation. She was obliged to go back again two weeks ago to have the tumors which had grown so rapidly on her neck, removed. The physicians removed over one hundred small lumps from one side of th tion. Services were held at her mother's home in Omaha, Sunday morning and the body funeral was held here Monday at 1 o'clock from the Episcopal church, starting from W. T. Rickly's at 12:30. The services were very impressive. Rev. Jaudon delivering the sermon. The choir, consisting of Mesdames Evans, Cornelius and Chambers, and Messrs. Cornelius and Schroeder, rendered appropriate music. The ball-bearers were Meesrs. Streight, Negele, G. W. Phillips and C. E. Pollock of this city. The church was crowded with sympathizing friends of the family. Miss Dale went from here about six years ago to make her home in Omaha. She was a favorite with all who knew her, and had many accomplishments in spite of her years of suffering, through all of which she bore herself as wise beyond her years, and with a fortitude truly christian.

CARLSON—Thursday last, after an attack of yphoid fever lasting through six weeks, Louis arlson, aged 32 years. The funeral took place Sunday afternoon from the Methodist church, Rev. Mr. Carlson leaves : wife and two children to mourn the irreparable loss of a loving husband and indulgent father. He had been a resident of this city five years and in all that time had conducted himself as a good citizen-had not an enemy, but a host of warm friends, who sincerely mourn his departure from among the living. The stricken widow and the fatherless children have the heartfelt sympathy of all who know them, but no human kindness can bring back the departed or mitigate the sorrow of the living. If the golden rule were exemplified by all as strictly as it was by our they will certainly appreciate a large stop traffic for two weeks. Oh no! exemplified by all as strictly as it was by our brother, this world would be heaven begun. Four days and a piece are quite sufficient. Peace to his memory.
