Ninety-nine cents a page seems low to us, and will be quite a saving to the state, as the last contract was something like $2.50. If Mr. Sedgwick can lay up treasures at 99 cents a page, we are satisfied, but it seems low.

ELSEWHERE in this paper will be found a proclamation from President Cleveland asking for rest, which places the ever before, giving employment to some poor office seeker between the devil and the deep sea. What is he to do? Mr. Cleveland should put forth a new bulletin instructing faithful democrats how to go to work to be saved. He could call it "A guide to office seekers who have 8, and will do more than his share to been loyal to me and my policy."

THE second annual exposition of the Manufacturers' and Consumer's Ass'n of Nebraska will be held in Omaha from May 22d to June 3d. The association is organized for the purpose of stimulating the consumption of goods made in Columbian field of colossal glory to fields the state, believing that the best way to less sparkling, but you can see the increase the manufacturing industry and develop the resources of the state and develop the resources of the state sights of dazzling splendor and sights is to create a demand for Nebraska that are not splendid to behold, mingled manufactured goods. The railroads give rates the whole four pages of THE JOURNAL were I so minded. But come, and of half fare within 100 miles of Omaha. good for two days.

THE following item is from the David City Press: "There were about 250 delegates in attendance at the A. P. A. state convention held at Columbus last week. J. S. Hatfield of Columbus was elected state president. He is a miller in the employ of Jaeggi & Schupbach of that place, the latter member of which firm is mayor of Columbus; Rev. Worley, a Methodist minister of Albion, was elected chaplain; J. B. Ragan of Sidney, vice president; W. O. Warswick of Beatrice, secretary. It is stated that Hatfield believes in making the workings of the organization public, or as much so as any other secret organization can be, and making public the declaration of principles of the order."

THE following clipping will show how the brave Mrs. Lease, of Kansas oratorical fame, created a sensation the other day: "She is president of the state board of charities. There are five members, three populists and two republicans. A vote was taken for superintendent of the Soldiers' Orphan's home. The two republicans voted for Faulkner, the present incumbent, and the populists for a new man. Mrs. Lease, having this matter are much mistaken. Every the casting vote, arose and declared that parent, every citizen, knowing what we Faulkner would never be put out by her | do, ought to feel the same way. 'buck-tail' regiment," she said, "and stood beside and cared for my two brothers, who died on the battlefield." The populists roundly abused Mrs. Lease for the act.

WE had not yet got all the particulars of the contest from this representative district, in which, it is our present understanding, that there was really no rely upon honest work, faithfully percontest at all, virtually no expenses, and yet there was two hundred dollars approprieted for the contest. We have the standard of their worth; we believe not yet heard that Representative Irwin covered the money back into the treasury, or any part of it. The State Journal says that "no man in the legislature showed more anxiety for impeaching somebody than W. J. Irwin, the Platte county apostle of fiat and reform, and he walked off with two hundred dollars of unearned swag with as much grace as though he had earned it and it was comething that belonged to him." This is the language of Mr. Bixby, doubtless, when at the same time, we are informed formerly the editor of the Platte County

The President Wants a Rest. President Cleveland has of necessity been called upon to issue the following bulletin, and it is to be hoped that he will be much relieved thereby:

"It has become apparent after two months' experience that the rules heretofore promulgated regulating interviews with the president have wholly failed in their operation. The time which under those rules was set apart for the reception of senators and representatives has been almost entirely spent in listening to applications for office, which have been bewildering in volume, perplexing and exhausting in their iteration and impossible of remembrance. A due regard for public duty, which must be neglected if present conditions continue. and an observance for limitations placed upon human endurance oblige me to decline from and after this date all personal interviews with those seeking appointment to office, except as I, on my own motion, may especially invite them. The same considerations make it impossible for me to receive those who merely desire to pay their respects except on the days and during the hours especially designed for that purpose.

"I earnestly request senators and representatives to aid me in securing for them uninterrupted interviews by declining to introduce their constituents and friends when visiting the executive mansion during the hours designated for their reception. Applications for office will only prejudice their prospects by repeated importunity and by remaining at Washington to await results."

A ride of three miles hanging on the outside of a street car will bring you to the fair grounds, but you will late to see the Duke of Veragua or President Cleveland, for they have seen and been seen, and have retired from the grandest and most grotesque combination of human beings, beings not human; device both of usefulness and for pleasure, and thousands and thousands of things which I could not enumerate in come soon, so that you can make a second trip before the great fair closes. And, I admonish you, do not forget the great Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul road. It will carry you safely, swiftly and surely to the promised land.

I was pleased the other day to greet Senator J. E. North who stopped over a few hours on his return home to Columbus from a trip to Washington City. I hear that W. B. Backus, formerly of your city, was "doing" the fair recently, but did not get to see him.

George Lehman, another gritty Co lumbus man, is here and giving personal attention to his hotel which is located conveniently near the fair grounds, and for his enterprise I should like to hear of his making a barrel of money. The weather here so far this spring has been simply horrible, and everybody is wishing for a change for the better.

School Superintendent.

In a short time the school board will determine whether they will continue the present incumbent or not. We believe in public schools, but not for private and individual benefits mere ly; we believe in superintendents who formed in the best laterest of the community, looking to the up-building of good character in teacher and pupil, as in superintendents who deal justly kindly, firmly and truthfully with teach ers and school board alike; we believe in superintendents who are enthusiastic in their business, allowing the duties the position to absorb at least all the hours of the school day, and who, by their example, their honest zeal for learning, give those under their care an impetus in the better life.

The present incumbent has been here four years, and is now closing a threeyears' contract. This last fact was given as a reason for retaining him last year, to Supt. Scott. Mrs. Evans, Mrs. Chambers and Mrs. Boston favored those present with some excellent vocal music. Sir Knights Needham of Albion, Everell of Leigh and Hon. J. E. North delivered short addresses. The attendance was large and all present enjoyed themselves to their fullest extent.

Among those present from a distance were Sir Knights Henry Gibbon and R. E. French of Kearney; W. B. Thompson and wife, J. E. Harker and wife, W. G. Boston and wife, T. P. French and wife, David City; W. B. Backus and wife, H. A. Riley and wife, L. G. Stocks and wife, O. E. Green and wife, H. E. Adams and wife, Genoa; A. W. Ladd and wife, O. M. Those Contest Fees.

Since writing a paragraph which appears elsewhere in today's Journal, an article has been published in the Argus, under the above heading, and over the signature of W. J. Irwin, which purports to explain how it is that Representative Irwin was entitled to get from the state treasury $200 as contest fees and expenses. The explanation does not explain, however. He says he paid his attorneys $75; now what about the other $125? THE JOURNAL insists that if $75 was all the expense, that Mr. Irwin will cover back the remaining $125 into the treasury. Does Mr. Irwin say he will not? If he says he will keep the whole of it, on what theory will he?

W. A. McAllister was the attorney on the other side. He tells us that on the day and at the hour set for hearing before Judge Hensley in this city, he (McAllister), did appear and take testimony, that of County Clerk G. W. Phillips, in this case: that Mr. Irwin was not there: that Mr. Reeder (whom Irwin now names as one of his attorneys) was in the room and when asked the queetion by McAllister, "Are you going to appear for Irwin?" He replied, "Irwin hasn't shown up, and I don't propose to volunteer my services." At Fullerton, the testimony of County Clerk Eyman was taken by McAllister before Notary Thompson.

Now in this so-called answer it is said: "On the day set for taking depositions in Columbus I was there with my attorneys ready to defend my rights, but for some reason the other side failed to take any testimony * * * * It was no fault of mine that they did not take any testimony, etc." These two things don't agree, and we shall not believe that Irwin wrote this so-called defense until we have to do so. We insist that those who are criticising Representative Irwin as being dishonest should wait until he has had an opportunity to cover the money back into the

WAVERLY, IOWA, Nov. 15, 1892,
G. D. Bruce Tudor, Esq.,
Dear Sir:—After wearing your glasses three weeks I feel I cannot say enough for them, nor for your special method of skillful fitting.
For the past eighteen years I have been a constant sufferer from defective sight (Compound Myopic Astigmatism). Nothing I could get was satisfactory until your examination which I noticed was strictly scientific, and inspired me at once with confidence in your ability. I now have no trouble in reading the finest print by night or day; and to all those in need of glasses I most cheerfully recommend you as a Scientific Optician.
