WEDNESDAY, JUNE 7, 1893.

SENATOR C. H. CLARK died at Lincoln Friday. He was only 23 years old, but had gained an enviable reputation in business and politics.

FIRE destroyed the large furniture house of Sheverick & Co. and Maurer's restaurant, on Farnam street, Omaha, Saturday night. Two firemen were killed and five seriously injured. Loss about $250,000.

THE pension policy of the administration seems to evade the execution of some time there is no doubt in my mind, the laws legally enacted, says the Inter Ocean, and to send pensioners to death under a cowardly spy system that would disgrace any civilized nation upon the prises than it is to find the capital and exface of the globe. Not all have prospered; some handicapped by ill health; some by an inordinate itching for public office; some by too frequent visit to the ruinous saloon, have got on badly. But in spite of the general depression in the business of agriculture for several years, my belief is that the majority of Platte county farmers have prospered. The gradual increase of land values, it is true, has been an important factor in the general been an important factor in the general

Hos Springs, South Dakota, is almost as famous for its beautiful, healthful situation and its pure, rest-laden air as for the remarkable properties of its thermal waters. Nestling cosily in a lovely valley and completely girt about by a circling range of protecting hills, the place is a veritable Mecca for health and pleasure seekers. It combines, to an astonishing degree, the most desirable features of a high class sanitarium with those of a charming pleasure resort. For the strong are superb drives ; in-teresting walks ; out-door amusements ; everything, in fact, that makes the stea-dy hand still steadier and the bright eye still brighter. For the weak are the most valuable, strengthening and re-juvenating waters in America-waters
