Vote The Bonds "Onward and upward" is the watchword of every intelligent, self-respect ing man and community. Now is the time for this city and townone great improvement that will be the solid basis for many a future enterprise business along all lines.

The proposed method is the best avail-

Every voter can put and answer questions for himself, and when he has done this thoroughly he will undoubtedly vote the aid. Let us keep in the line of progress, and not outside of it.

The city has many reasons for voting the bonds, aside from the general progress, among them being that money can be saved in running the waterworks of the city, more than enough to pay interest on the bonds. Besides. Dr. Heintz will not always want to own and operate the electric light plant, and it will be to the city's interest to purchase it, because it will be money saved to them, and, with the canal power, another great saving will be effected. Then, with a sewerage system, which Columbus must have before many years, another great saving in the way of use of water can be effected.

Vote the bonds. Give us a good, cheap power as a foundation for manufacturing enterprises.

Nebraska Stands Up.

THE JOURNAL has, time and again, referred to the solidity of our home banks in the crisis through which we have been passing, as an evidence of not only continued good management on the part of bank officials, but also of the entire confidence of depositors and people generally. Now comes the Lincoln Call with a statement showing how Nebraska generally has stood the pressure. It speaks volumes for the state: In all the turmoil and panicky times of the past three months there is scarceas Nebraska. The banks in this state have stood up remarkably and today show a strength and solidity that other states can look upon with surprise and admiration. On the first of January last there were 522 banks in Nebraska. operating under the state banking law. Of these 522 banks, through all the serious times to financial institutions that have followed from that day to this, only sixteen of them have suspended, and of the sixteen that have suspended only four of them have proven to be in solvent while the rest are paying out dollar for dollar. This is a record on the part of state banks that is fairly up to the record of any year and shows to the world that Nebraska is one of the safest states in the Union in its local banking business. Coupled with this showing of state banks the record of National banks in Nebraska is equally flattering. In the entire state, since the first of January, there have been only five failures of National banks. Those are the Capital National of Lincoln, the American National of Omaha, the Ashland National bank, the first National o for the purpose of planting and caring Ponca and the Nebraska National, of Beatrice. Of these five banks, two of them, the Capital National of Lincoln and the First National of Ponca, were Alaska for some months in charge of the looted and ruined by officials of the banks, entirely outside the condition of the times and the financial stringency.

surpassed by any state in the Union.

Sensible independents in Nebraska admitted, says the York Times, that their party could not elect its candidate for president last fall. They said they wanted to defeat the republican party. however, and the republican party was defeated. The result is evident to all. Are you pleased with the job? You old soldiers who fought bravely for the unwas not good enough for you. You saw your brave comrades fall, bleeding, by your side; you saw them tortured with the anguish of disease that ruined their constitutions and made them invalids for life. How do you like the idea of having their pensions cut off or reduced now by a young southerner, who has learned well the lesson of the war from rebel teachers? How do you like to see your old crippled comrades turned out of their jobs in the departments at are plenty of crippled southern soldiers break down American industry. How do you like the financial situation now? How do you like to have a million industrious men, who would be glad to buy your products at a fair price if they had the money, thrown out of employment? Are you pleased with these conditions? Do you enjoy ruin and havoc, the demoralization of finance, the paumisery of the poor? These are the fruits of your victory over the republi can party last fall. The result was iness charges prejudiced your minds so that you would not listen. bank notes, secured by government bonds are a very satisfactory currency. "In the quarter ended July 31 the net increase of the national bank note circulation was something over $8,000,000. and it will be increased this month at least that amount, in my opinion. The department sent out over $500,000 today and received applications from three New York banks for the issue of $900.-000 to each of them, $1,000,000 being deposited with each of the applications."

In this period of depression when good many older periodicals have been hard beset, it is interesting to learn that the Review of Reviews, although comparatively so young, has won a position as impregnable as any other periodical that could be named in the United States, and that its circulation is not only solidly maintained, but steadily increasing through the intrinsic merits of the periodical. The Review has become a necessity to a large constituency; and whereas in times of financial depression many people give up their luxuries, there is always a steady market for the plain necessaries. Fortunately for the Review of Reviews, its readers consider it as a prime requisite rather than casual luxury, and so its editions are not curtailed by the influence of current financial disasters.

Castoria.

"Castoria is an excellent medicine for children. Mothers have repeatedly told me of its good effect upon their children. Dr. G. C. Osgood, Lowell, Mass

Castoria is the best remedy for children of which I am acquainted. I hope the day is not far distant when mothers will consider the real interest of their children, and use Castoria instead of the various quack nostrums which are destroying their loved ones, by forcing opium, morphine, soothing syrup and other hurtful agents down their throats, thereby sending them to premature graves."

HENRY LOEWER.

Castoria.

"Castoria is so well adapted to children that end it as superior to any prescription known to me."

H. A. ARCHER, M. D., 111 So. Oxford St., Brooklyn, N. Y. "Our physicians in the children's department have spoken highly of their experi ence in their outside practice with Castoria, and although we only have among our medical supplies what is known as regular products, yet we are free to confess that the merits of Castoria has won us to look with

Dear Sir:—After wearing your glasses three weeks I feel I cannot say enough for them, nor for your special method of skillful fitting.
For the past eighteen years I have been a constant sufferer from defective sight (Compound Myopic Astigmatism). Nothing I could get was satisfactory until your examination which I noticed was strictly scientific, and inspired me at once with confidence in your ability.

I now have no trouble in reading the finest print by night or day; and to all those in need of print by night or day; and to all those in need of glasses I most cheerfully recommend you as a Scientific Optician.
