

WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 21, 1923

Table with 3 columns: Station, Time, Destination. Includes routes to Lincoln, Omaha, and various local stops.

UNION PACIFIC TIME TABLE - GIVING WAY TO THE GREAT WESTERN. Lists various routes and schedules.

LEWIS, COLUMBIANS AND OTHERS. News snippets including 'Posters and grapes at Wiley's' and 'Herrick for picture frames'.

Society Notices. 'Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Conner living northwest of this city, lost their three weeks' old infant son last Wednesday.'

At their entertainment and fair last Wednesday evening, the Y. M. C. A. cleared over $1K. About one hundred persons were present and enjoyed the evening.

Dr. Schlotzhauer, who some time ago made an assault upon Ed. Wardman was married Friday, so we are informed, to a Miss Pinge of Colfax county.

M. V. Moody of Genoa passed through the city Wednesday last on his way to Colfax Springs, Iowa, where he goes for his health, which is very much broken.

Dr. Neuman is the 'only real graduate in dentistry in Platte county' who can show up a diploma. Any other who claims the same willfully impose on the people.

Miss Enor Clothier of the Genoa Indian school passed through the city last Wednesday from the Omaha and Winnebago agencies, with eleven pupils for the school.

Found, Sunday evening, on the steps of the Methodist church, a lady's gold bracelet. Owner can have same by calling at this office, proving property and paying charges.

The sheriff of Madison county was here over night Wednesday with a prisoner whom he was taking to the penitentiary at Lincoln to serve out a sentence of two years.

Persons wearing the Morris dental plate will have no other. Superior to all other plates. Manufactured only by Dr. E. Y. Hanghawout, Thirtieth street, over Barber's store.

If you want a good dish for your table, take some corn and prepare hominy as your great grand-mother used to do. Instead of lye from wood ashes, take the concentrated lye.

H. P. Coolidge is suffering with a broken limb. He was carrying one of his grandchildren into his house Sunday morning and fell, breaking his right limb just above the ankle.

The contest over the supervisorship of Bismark township between Henry Rickett and Wm. Schreiber has been postponed on account of the serious illness of Mr. Rickett's oldest son.

Our recent cold snap was the overflow of a snow storm away north. The lightning and thunder was something unusual for this time of year. The change in temperature was about 15°.

John Ryan and his tramp comrade who stole a coat from Friedhof's and overcoats from a U. P. train and from Meyer's and were placed in the lock-up, were let out by some one, and left for parts unknown.

The Singer Sewing Machine took 54 World's Fair awards, more than double the number received by all the other sewing machine companies combined. See the ribbon diploma at B. R. Wyatt's office in this city.

A hard working boy, at the Grand Pacific hotel Wednesday night with a man, and when the boy awakened up in the morning his partner for the night was gone and with him $350, all the money the boy had.

Jim Frazier took up a subscription for the little Skilken girl who sells sandwiches at the trains, the result being a handsome Christmas present, consisting of a complete outfit of clothes, costing about fourteen dollars.

The Platte Center Signal says that Misses Lydia and Ada Bloodore are at home during the holidays, from attendance on the State Normal school at Peru; that Mrs. Wm. Bloodore is suffering greatly with rheumatism.

W. A. Way has been selected as agent for the Farmers and Merchants Union elevator company and will at once enter upon his duties, which includes the buying and shipping of grain, in the interests of the company.

Tom Gentlemen propose to have his pistol in good shape all the time now, so that when any prisoner undertakes to out monkey him, he can wing him, anyhow. He pulled twice in his recent escapade, but no response from his gun.

After you have subscribed for a local paper, choose among others those that have supported the theory of protection to our nation's industries, and on this score you will not find any to excel the American Economist, New York City, $2 a year.

I have just received the finest line of candy, oranges, apples and nuts of all kinds that ever came to town. I am prepared to furnish these goods for Christmas at very low prices. Call in and get prices before the rush comes. L. A. Wiley.

Are ministers or missionaries who are engaged solely in religious work are requested to make application for clerical permits over the Burlington lines for the coming year as soon as possible, so that permits will be ready for them by January 1. J. T. Cox, Agent.

As potatoes are high-priced and somewhat scarce, a fairly good substitute may be had in corn at 35 cents a bushel converted into old-fashioned hominy, which with the never-failing pork, makes the combination so fondly cherished—'hog and hominy.'

The entertainment to be given Jan. 4 at the opera house will be well worth several prices of admission. Buy your tickets as soon as you have a chance to do so, and thus secure a seat. Probably the most daring feat of the Rebellion, all things considered, will be vividly pictured to view.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria. Advertisement for a medicinal product.

-J. W. Love, a prominent citizen of Fremont, and well known by many JOURNAL readers, died suddenly in that city last Wednesday morning. He had been ailing for several weeks, but his condition was not considered serious until Tuesday evening. It is supposed that the real cause of his death was some form of malaria acquired while he was consul at San Salvador, Central America. He was born at Mount Vernon, Ohio, Dec. 10, 1860, graduated from the university at Mount Pleasant, Iowa, in 1879, was principal of the high school in Omaha in 1874; married that year Miss Thirza Cushman, also a teacher in the Omaha schools; was principal of schools at Onawa, Iowa; at Plattsmouth, Neb.; in 1880 located at Fremont, which has since that time been his home. He had for many years been one of the trustees of the State Normal school at Peru, and was appointed during the administration of President Harrison as U. S. consul at San Salvador, Central America. He leaves his wife and two daughters, Para and Roma, to mourn their irreparable loss.

-It seems to THE JOURNAL that the revenue tariff advocates lose sight altogether of several of the very plainest and most important considerations on the question, viz: The building up of a home market, the increase of work to do for our own population, and the increase of wages, in the manufacturing industries especially, thus not necessitating that all men go onto farms to make a living. Diversified industries is one of the results of a protective policy with reciprocity features. Those of you who are really interested in knowing the facts on the subject should obtain the documents issued by the American Protective Tariff League, which contain a mass of information, all phases of the subject. No. 22 of these documents comprises a large number of the official hearings before the Ways and Means committee, and is valuable to all desiring complete information on the tariff question. Sent to any address for ten cents. Address: W. F. Wakeman, Gen'l Sec'y, 135 West 23d St., New York.

-A happy New Year to all readers of THE JOURNAL. The spirit of progress carries everything forward and the year 1894 will doubtless find important changes for us all. Necessity, and long ago to be "the mother of invention," and spoken with reference to the advances made in the application of science to the mechanic work, is about to turn her attention to matters mental and spiritual. The law of gravitation has been fully set forth; the worship of mammon has been almost universal and unattended. Now must come a different order of things, or mankind lose the true secret of life, which is not living only, but right living, the instant result of right thinking, the instant result of right motives. This, doubtless, is the burden of the christian's prayer: "Thy kingdom come, thy will be done on earth as it is in heaven." It is the direction in which we are traveling that counts. If we wish to reach New York we would not act wisely by starting in the direction of Halifax and keeping on that way.

The Nebraska association of sheriffs had a session in Lincoln last week; Sheriff Karavangas was present, and was appointed one of the committee on grievances. Of course, all classes of people have such things as these, but what do our sheriffs want more? They are supposed to be peace-officers. Do they desire to see more people come into court? More rows kicked up, so that they will have more business? Or do they want their fees raised these hard times? What is the matter, gentlemen, that you must take valuable time and spend hard earned money going to and from Lincoln to have an opportunity to talk over your grievances? If there is really anything for the good of the general public that you have in mind, let the people know what it is, but let it go about "gossiping," when you could readily say, when you see your places filled by just as good men, to say the least, at the same price?

-Several years ago Rev. William Pittenger wrote a book called "Daring and Suffering," giving a very graphic description of the raid made by 22 Union soldiers of the 2d, 21st and 23d Ohio regiments, acting under the orders of Gen. O. M. Mitchell, in which a train of cars was captured in Georgia, in 1862, from the enemy's camp, surrounded by 10,000 armed rebel soldiers. W. J. Knight, the engineer of the expedition, the first to board the train and the last to leave it, will be here Jan. 4th to portray, in thrilling language, and many life-size oil paintings, the capture of the train, the escape, the burning of the telegraph wires, tearing up track and the hanging of rebels, the pursuit by rebels, the capturing of several plots to capture the train, the capture of the rebels, the pursuit by blood-hounds, etc., the whole forming one of the most daring adventures in the annals of war.

-A letter received from W. B. Beckus is quite interesting. He says his health is good, prospects excellent, appetite ravenous. If he sun shines the dogs bark themselves hoarse for joy. He mentions the following former residents of Platte county, who are now there, and says they are all well: Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Hurd, Mary Brown, Annie Paulson (nee Lath), Miss Edith Lath, John Fuchs, formerly from Humphrey, now a member of legislature, Joseph Coleman, Alda Morrison, (nee Smith), and Mrs. Waldron. The Puget Sound Mail says, in reference to a hunting party: "We are informed that Mr. Beckus, the lawyer who recently arrived from Columbus, Nebraska, and has been a guest of M. F. Hurd the past week, had the honor of killing the first deer, even if he was a tenderfoot."

-J. I. Wolford has been again heard from. Our readers may remember that he is one of the cattle breeders from Colfax county to Ochs, Alberta, British Columbia, last summer. They broke up some land and raised a few vegetables. He thinks that the country is good and that next year they will have abundance. When he wrote, the thermometer was ranging from 30 to 35 degrees below zero, and yet the weather was not uncomfortably cold, there being no wind. They live in log houses, having plenty of fir and pine timber for use. Some of these trees, he writes, are large, and run straight up a hundred feet to the first limb. As to wild animals, they have rabbit, deer, antelope, wolves, and a few moose.

The Nebraska collecting company. His family will remain here for the present. Mr. Kramer is one of the most accommodating men in the world, and this kind generally make good collectors for other people than themselves. We haven't any doubt that close attention to business will bring him a considerable revenue in his new business venture.

J. P. Olson, foreman at the U. P. coal sheds, was hurt Friday morning, by being caught by a passing car pushed up the incline for unloading. His right knee was crushed against a bin. He was taken to the office of Dr. Martin, Evans & Gees, for treatment. He is now lying at the Sisters' hospital, and it is not thought that his limb will have to be amputated.

C. F. Brown recently received a handsome bronze medal presented to the Gettysburg veterans by act of the New York legislature. During the skirmish preceding the battle, Mr. Brown was nearly killed by a runaway horse and was picked up for dead. He lay in the hospital when the battle was fought. So says the Schuylker Quill.

Don't forget the entertainment on the 4th, at the opera house. All old soldiers and their families should see it to picture to them the old times during the war. Patriotic people all should go to renew and deepen their fidelity to country. We hope there are no other kind of people in the community at the present time.

The only real graduate in all branches of dentistry in Platte county can be found at Dr. E. Y. Hanghawout's dental parlors. Has fifteen years' experience in all branches of dentistry. Has the only successful method of extracting teeth without pain. All dental operations performed in a superior and careful manner.

The Pioneer Hook & Ladder company are beginning to prepare for their annual work, which promises to exceed all former ones, and that is saying a good deal. The boys always have a good time, for themselves and their patrons. Those who dance should keep this entertainment in mind.

The marriage of Alvah W. Bears and Miss Edie E. Brown takes place today at the home of the bride's parents in Creston. THE JOURNAL extends congratulations to the happy young couple and wishes them a blessed home on earth, and which is supposed to be a requisite of heaven.

-J. W. Love, a prominent citizen of Fremont, and well known by many JOURNAL readers, died suddenly in that city last Wednesday morning. He had been ailing for several weeks, but his condition was not considered serious until Tuesday evening. It is supposed that the real cause of his death was some form of malaria acquired while he was consul at San Salvador, Central America. He was born at Mount Vernon, Ohio, Dec. 10, 1860, graduated from the university at Mount Pleasant, Iowa, in 1879, was principal of the high school in Omaha in 1874; married that year Miss Thirza Cushman, also a teacher in the Omaha schools; was principal of schools at Onawa, Iowa; at Plattsmouth, Neb.; in 1880 located at Fremont, which has since that time been his home. He had for many years been one of the trustees of the State Normal school at Peru, and was appointed during the administration of President Harrison as U. S. consul at San Salvador, Central America. He leaves his wife and two daughters, Para and Roma, to mourn their irreparable loss.

-It seems to THE JOURNAL that the revenue tariff advocates lose sight altogether of several of the very plainest and most important considerations on the question, viz: The building up of a home market, the increase of work to do for our own population, and the increase of wages, in the manufacturing industries especially, thus not necessitating that all men go onto farms to make a living. Diversified industries is one of the results of a protective policy with reciprocity features. Those of you who are really interested in knowing the facts on the subject should obtain the documents issued by the American Protective Tariff League, which contain a mass of information, all phases of the subject. No. 22 of these documents comprises a large number of the official hearings before the Ways and Means committee, and is valuable to all desiring complete information on the tariff question. Sent to any address for ten cents. Address: W. F. Wakeman, Gen'l Sec'y, 135 West 23d St., New York.

A happy New Year to all readers of THE JOURNAL. The spirit of progress carries everything forward and the year 1894 will doubtless find important changes for us all. Necessity, and long ago to be "the mother of invention," and spoken with reference to the advances made in the application of science to the mechanic work, is about to turn her attention to matters mental and spiritual. The law of gravitation has been fully set forth; the worship of mammon has been almost universal and unattended. Now must come a different order of things, or mankind lose the true secret of life, which is not living only, but right living, the instant result of right thinking, the instant result of right motives. This, doubtless, is the burden of the christian's prayer: "Thy kingdom come, thy will be done on earth as it is in heaven." It is the direction in which we are traveling that counts. If we wish to reach New York we would not act wisely by starting in the direction of Halifax and keeping on that way.

The Nebraska association of sheriffs had a session in Lincoln last week; Sheriff Karavangas was present, and was appointed one of the committee on grievances. Of course, all classes of people have such things as these, but what do our sheriffs want more? They are supposed to be peace-officers. Do they desire to see more people come into court? More rows kicked up, so that they will have more business? Or do they want their fees raised these hard times? What is the matter, gentlemen, that you must take valuable time and spend hard earned money going to and from Lincoln to have an opportunity to talk over your grievances? If there is really anything for the good of the general public that you have in mind, let the people know what it is, but let it go about "gossiping," when you could readily say, when you see your places filled by just as good men, to say the least, at the same price?

-Several years ago Rev. William Pittenger wrote a book called "Daring and Suffering," giving a very graphic description of the raid made by 22 Union soldiers of the 2d, 21st and 23d Ohio regiments, acting under the orders of Gen. O. M. Mitchell, in which a train of cars was captured in Georgia, in 1862, from the enemy's camp, surrounded by 10,000 armed rebel soldiers. W. J. Knight, the engineer of the expedition, the first to board the train and the last to leave it, will be here Jan. 4th to portray, in thrilling language, and many life-size oil paintings, the capture of the train, the escape, the burning of the telegraph wires, tearing up track and the hanging of rebels, the pursuit by rebels, the capturing of several plots to capture the train, the capture of the rebels, the pursuit by blood-hounds, etc., the whole forming one of the most daring adventures in the annals of war.

-A letter received from W. B. Beckus is quite interesting. He says his health is good, prospects excellent, appetite ravenous. If he sun shines the dogs bark themselves hoarse for joy. He mentions the following former residents of Platte county, who are now there, and says they are all well: Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Hurd, Mary Brown, Annie Paulson (nee Lath), Miss Edith Lath, John Fuchs, formerly from Humphrey, now a member of legislature, Joseph Coleman, Alda Morrison, (nee Smith), and Mrs. Waldron. The Puget Sound Mail says, in reference to a hunting party: "We are informed that Mr. Beckus, the lawyer who recently arrived from Columbus, Nebraska, and has been a guest of M. F. Hurd the past week, had the honor of killing the first deer, even if he was a tenderfoot."

-J. I. Wolford has been again heard from. Our readers may remember that he is one of the cattle breeders from Colfax county to Ochs, Alberta, British Columbia, last summer. They broke up some land and raised a few vegetables. He thinks that the country is good and that next year they will have abundance. When he wrote, the thermometer was ranging from 30 to 35 degrees below zero, and yet the weather was not uncomfortably cold, there being no wind. They live in log houses, having plenty of fir and pine timber for use. Some of these trees, he writes, are large, and run straight up a hundred feet to the first limb. As to wild animals, they have rabbit, deer, antelope, wolves, and a few moose.

The Nebraska collecting company. His family will remain here for the present. Mr. Kramer is one of the most accommodating men in the world, and this kind generally make good collectors for other people than themselves. We haven't any doubt that close attention to business will bring him a considerable revenue in his new business venture.

J. P. Olson, foreman at the U. P. coal sheds, was hurt Friday morning, by being caught by a passing car pushed up the incline for unloading. His right knee was crushed against a bin. He was taken to the office of Dr. Martin, Evans & Gees, for treatment. He is now lying at the Sisters' hospital, and it is not thought that his limb will have to be amputated.

C. F. Brown recently received a handsome bronze medal presented to the Gettysburg veterans by act of the New York legislature. During the skirmish preceding the battle, Mr. Brown was nearly killed by a runaway horse and was picked up for dead. He lay in the hospital when the battle was fought. So says the Schuylker Quill.

Don't forget the entertainment on the 4th, at the opera house. All old soldiers and their families should see it to picture to them the old times during the war. Patriotic people all should go to renew and deepen their fidelity to country. We hope there are no other kind of people in the community at the present time.

The only real graduate in all branches of dentistry in Platte county can be found at Dr. E. Y. Hanghawout's dental parlors. Has fifteen years' experience in all branches of dentistry. Has the only successful method of extracting teeth without pain. All dental operations performed in a superior and careful manner.

The marriage of Alvah W. Bears and Miss Edie E. Brown takes place today at the home of the bride's parents in Creston. THE JOURNAL extends congratulations to the happy young couple and wishes them a blessed home on earth, and which is supposed to be a requisite of heaven.

-J. W. Love, a prominent citizen of Fremont, and well known by many JOURNAL readers, died suddenly in that city last Wednesday morning. He had been ailing for several weeks, but his condition was not considered serious until Tuesday evening. It is supposed that the real cause of his death was some form of malaria acquired while he was consul at San Salvador, Central America. He was born at Mount Vernon, Ohio, Dec. 10, 1860, graduated from the university at Mount Pleasant, Iowa, in 1879, was principal of the high school in Omaha in 1874; married that year Miss Thirza Cushman, also a teacher in the Omaha schools; was principal of schools at Onawa, Iowa; at Plattsmouth, Neb.; in 1880 located at Fremont, which has since that time been his home. He had for many years been one of the trustees of the State Normal school at Peru, and was appointed during the administration of President Harrison as U. S. consul at San Salvador, Central America. He leaves his wife and two daughters, Para and Roma, to mourn their irreparable loss.

-It seems to THE JOURNAL that the revenue tariff advocates lose sight altogether of several of the very plainest and most important considerations on the question, viz: The building up of a home market, the increase of work to do for our own population, and the increase of wages, in the manufacturing industries especially, thus not necessitating that all men go onto farms to make a living. Diversified industries is one of the results of a protective policy with reciprocity features. Those of you who are really interested in knowing the facts on the subject should obtain the documents issued by the American Protective Tariff League, which contain a mass of information, all phases of the subject. No. 22 of these documents comprises a large number of the official hearings before the Ways and Means committee, and is valuable to all desiring complete information on the tariff question. Sent to any address for ten cents. Address: W. F. Wakeman, Gen'l Sec'y, 135 West 23d St., New York.

A happy New Year to all readers of THE JOURNAL. The spirit of progress carries everything forward and the year 1894 will doubtless find important changes for us all. Necessity, and long ago to be "the mother of invention," and spoken with reference to the advances made in the application of science to the mechanic work, is about to turn her attention to matters mental and spiritual. The law of gravitation has been fully set forth; the worship of mammon has been almost universal and unattended. Now must come a different order of things, or mankind lose the true secret of life, which is not living only, but right living, the instant result of right thinking, the instant result of right motives. This, doubtless, is the burden of the christian's prayer: "Thy kingdom come, thy will be done on earth as it is in heaven." It is the direction in which we are traveling that counts. If we wish to reach New York we would not act wisely by starting in the direction of Halifax and keeping on that way.

The Nebraska association of sheriffs had a session in Lincoln last week; Sheriff Karavangas was present, and was appointed one of the committee on grievances. Of course, all classes of people have such things as these, but what do our sheriffs want more? They are supposed to be peace-officers. Do they desire to see more people come into court? More rows kicked up, so that they will have more business? Or do they want their fees raised these hard times? What is the matter, gentlemen, that you must take valuable time and spend hard earned money going to and from Lincoln to have an opportunity to talk over your grievances? If there is really anything for the good of the general public that you have in mind, let the people know what it is, but let it go about "gossiping," when you could readily say, when you see your places filled by just as good men, to say the least, at the same price?

-Several years ago Rev. William Pittenger wrote a book called "Daring and Suffering," giving a very graphic description of the raid made by 22 Union soldiers of the 2d, 21st and 23d Ohio regiments, acting under the orders of Gen. O. M. Mitchell, in which a train of cars was captured in Georgia, in 1862, from the enemy's camp, surrounded by 10,000 armed rebel soldiers. W. J. Knight, the engineer of the expedition, the first to board the train and the last to leave it, will be here Jan. 4th to portray, in thrilling language, and many life-size oil paintings, the capture of the train, the escape, the burning of the telegraph wires, tearing up track and the hanging of rebels, the pursuit by rebels, the capturing of several plots to capture the train, the capture of the rebels, the pursuit by blood-hounds, etc., the whole forming one of the most daring adventures in the annals of war.

-A letter received from W. B. Beckus is quite interesting. He says his health is good, prospects excellent, appetite ravenous. If he sun shines the dogs bark themselves hoarse for joy. He mentions the following former residents of Platte county, who are now there, and says they are all well: Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Hurd, Mary Brown, Annie Paulson (nee Lath), Miss Edith Lath, John Fuchs, formerly from Humphrey, now a member of legislature, Joseph Coleman, Alda Morrison, (nee Smith), and Mrs. Waldron. The Puget Sound Mail says, in reference to a hunting party: "We are informed that Mr. Beckus, the lawyer who recently arrived from Columbus, Nebraska, and has been a guest of M. F. Hurd the past week, had the honor of killing the first deer, even if he was a tenderfoot."

-J. I. Wolford has been again heard from. Our readers may remember that he is one of the cattle breeders from Colfax county to Ochs, Alberta, British Columbia, last summer. They broke up some land and raised a few vegetables. He thinks that the country is good and that next year they will have abundance. When he wrote, the thermometer was ranging from 30 to 35 degrees below zero, and yet the weather was not uncomfortably cold, there being no wind. They live in log houses, having plenty of fir and pine timber for use. Some of these trees, he writes, are large, and run straight up a hundred feet to the first limb. As to wild animals, they have rabbit, deer, antelope, wolves, and a few moose.

The Nebraska collecting company. His family will remain here for the present. Mr. Kramer is one of the most accommodating men in the world, and this kind generally make good collectors for other people than themselves. We haven't any doubt that close attention to business will bring him a considerable revenue in his new business venture.

J. P. Olson, foreman at the U. P. coal sheds, was hurt Friday morning, by being caught by a passing car pushed up the incline for unloading. His right knee was crushed against a bin. He was taken to the office of Dr. Martin, Evans & Gees, for treatment. He is now lying at the Sisters' hospital, and it is not thought that his limb will have to be amputated.

C. F. Brown recently received a handsome bronze medal presented to the Gettysburg veterans by act of the New York legislature. During the skirmish preceding the battle, Mr. Brown was nearly killed by a runaway horse and was picked up for dead. He lay in the hospital when the battle was fought. So says the Schuylker Quill.

Don't forget the entertainment on the 4th, at the opera house. All old soldiers and their families should see it to picture to them the old times during the war. Patriotic people all should go to renew and deepen their fidelity to country. We hope there are no other kind of people in the community at the present time.

The only real graduate in all branches of dentistry in Platte county can be found at Dr. E. Y. Hanghawout's dental parlors. Has fifteen years' experience in all branches of dentistry. Has the only successful method of extracting teeth without pain. All dental operations performed in a superior and careful manner.

The marriage of Alvah W. Bears and Miss Edie E. Brown takes place today at the home of the bride's parents in Creston. THE JOURNAL extends congratulations to the happy young couple and wishes them a blessed home on earth, and which is supposed to be a requisite of heaven.

Large advertisement for GREISEN BROS. featuring 'CLOTHING!' and 'Gents' Furnishing Goods, Hats, Caps, Gloves, Mittens.' Includes sections for 'OVERCOATS', 'BOOTS and SHOES!', and 'CASH ONLY' offers.

PRISONERS THWAITED. Delaney, the Wife Murderer, Saves His Jailor's Life. Last Thursday evening at about 5:30, as Thomas Gentlemen, the jailor at the county's lock-up was about to give them "feed" for the evening, a thing unusual happened.

PERSONAL. Mrs. Stewart returned Friday from a trip to Texas. Mrs. J. H. Pope of Silver Creek was in town Thursday. Charles Waka, jr., came down from Genoa Christmas.

Advertisement for Henry Ragatz & Co., 'Eat, Drink and be Merry.' FANCY GROCERIES. 'Leave Your Orders Early, and Avoid the Rush.'

Advertisement for C. A. NEWMAN. REAL - ESTATE AND INSURANCE. 'When you want FIRE, LIGHTNING or TORNADO insurance on city and farm property; if you want an ACCIDENT POLICY; if you want to buy or sell farm or city property; if you want bargains in real estate, call at the Real Estate and Insurance Agency, BASEMENT COMMERCIAL BANK, COLUMBUS, NEBRASKA.'

Advertisement for HUGH HUGHES. 'Can furnish you with the BEST'. LUMBER LINE. 'Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.'