for taxes delinquent on your town lot or on your farm. Of course, if you paid the tax when due, you are all right. If you paid it even when it became delinquent, you are again all right. If you paid after that and before sale, you were only paying the county a little interest, a part of which will come back to you, but if your property has been sold for the taxes you are paying a rate of interest just exactly double what the banks are allowed by law to charge, viz: 20 cents on every the use of the forces of nature would dollar, $20 on every $100 for a year, and that is more than you can afford, but it is quite an inducement to those who have ready money to invest it in this way, and it is a good investment, about the best we know of in these times, provided you are sure of the value of the property on which you buy a tax-lien. The plain, clear object of the law is to induce the owner to pay his taxes promptly, by the motive of self-interest, and to induce capitalists to invest for the same motive. It is true that there are instances where a considerable amount was invested on one day, and within two days thereafter the redemption money was paid in, and this would seem like a hardship upon the investor, but which, when you come to consider, is not the case, as the oftener interest is paid, the more remnnerative it is to the lender. If it could be paid every week, say, it would then be compounded fifty-two times in the year, and what better

-Circumstances are different with different counties. According to the Quill, Colfax county commissioners let the use of the county money to the First National Bank there at the rate of five per cent interest for the ensuing year. He does finally swear that one bank was or should be were principally of the World's Fair and indebted to Merrick, $3,000, at the present time, and another $10,000. Before this action had been taken the cashier of the two banks in question had been summoned to appear before the board and testify as to whether they had paid any interest on moneys deposited with them by the county treasurer, and they had refused to testify. It was quite a surprise to several people that Supervisor Olson of Creston was elected chairman of the county board last week, when there were only two republicans on the board. Elliott. for the democrats, Pollard for the populists and Olson for the republicans were the candidates, and the ballots were 7, 8, 2; 8, 8, 1; 7, 9, 2; 6, 8, 4 and so on until the eighth, when Olson was elected, the vote standing: Olson 11; Pollard 6; Elliott 1. Imagine two men holding the balance of power, between nine on one side and seven on the other, and each of the larger sections afraid at each balloting that the other section will come to the "balance" and elect, and you have the situation with the board last week. Niels Olson will make a good chairman,

-John Tannahill has an uncle in Canada by the name of David White, and once in a while letters pass between them; of course, matters of general interest to Canadians and United States citizens come up occasionally, and among these latterly, was the proposed reduction of tariff on lumber and barley. Mr. White says that if the United States takes the duty on imports into her territory from these two articles, the Canalian government will undoubtedly put on the same an export duty, fully equivalent to that taken off, as that would bring a revenue to the Canadian government. So that if the democracy succeed in foisting the Wilson bill upon the country, it will not result in cheaper lumber or barley from Canada, if Mr. White is correct in his reckoning.

FOUND GUILTY OF MURDER

Andrew Debany will Probably pay the Death Penalty for his Crime. It will be remembered that on the 4th of July Debany, who owns a farm south of Genoa, shot his wife three times and then stamped on her, because she would not live with him. He concealed himself two days along the river, but hunger compelled him to ask for food at a farm house, where he was recognized and given over to the sheriff. Mrs. Debany was brought to the Columbus hospital, where she died five days after the terrible crime. Debany has been kept in the Platte county jail since he was caught to await his trial which took place last week before Judge Sullivan, at Fullerton. Dr. Evans of this city was one of the witnesses, testifying as to the fatal character of the wounds received by the unfortunate woman. The evidence of Debany's little girl was positive and unshaken and to the effect that Debany came to the house and wanted Mrs. Debany to return and live with him, which she refused to do. He then asked if she would never return, and when she replied that she would not, he shot her. Her mother fell to the floor, but after a moment raised herself up and exclaimed: "My God, my God," whereupon Debany rushed back, saying "Then you are not dead," and stamped her face and head. Debany testified in his own behalf, as to his difficulties in life, and troubles with his family, going to show the exasperating circumstances that surrounded him, and which doubtless had much to do with his disposition towards the members of his family.
