Our readers of this school district will notice that the board make a call in this week's JOURNAL for the people's wish as to the voting of bonds for $18,000 to purchase sites for, and for erecting thereon two school buildings.

The particulars of the call will be found among the advertisements in today's JOURNAL, and the problem is one submitted to each voter for his opinion to be expressed by his ballot at the polls.

The decision is not alone with the voters of the city—all the district is interested in the result.

There can be but one opinion as to the need of the district. The proposed change involves the sale of the property (or a portion of it), now occupied by the schools in the Third ward, the two new school houses to be placed—

The six members of the school board, all conservative, careful men in the expenditure of money, are unanimous in support of the proposition, and it has been for quite a while a problem for their solution.

They have done their part and now take the next step, and submit to a vote of the people, what they regard as the best practical proposition.

We believe there is no doubt but the proposition will be approved by the people, but the more unanimously it is so done the better will the bonds sell, which of course is to the interest of every tax-payer.
