—The bridge builders among readers of THE JOURNAL will find in today's paper an advertisement of Mr. Lueschen, clerk of Sherman township, asking for bids for the construction of a bridge. 3

—The Fremont Herald says that the second lecture by Robert Nourse was one of the most eloquent efforts ever listened to in that city, and delighted a good audience. He speaks at the Congregational church here this evening.

—Mrs. A. J. Downing on her way to Boone county last Saturday, was carried from the train to the Meridian hotel, where she gave birth to a child within about five minutes from her arrival.

—Conductor Overton now makes the run into Columbus from Norfolk, and goes right back, while Conductor Knab makes the run from Lincoln and return, the two exchanging trains at this point.

—The ceiling and walls of the THE JOURNAL chapel have lately had spread over them twenty gallons, (less or more) of white paint, and they fairly glisten with light. The office towel looks lonesome.

—S. J. Ryan, J. D. Cox and John Powers of the Ancient Order of Hibernians, went to Omaha Monday to make arrangements for the order to go in a body to the national convention to be held there May 8-11.

—The Farmers' club meet at Carl Bobbe's Friday of this week at 2 o'clock. This is an authoritative announcement, and we so state it because there has been a misunderstanding as to the hour of meeting.

—At the Lancaster County Farmers' meeting the other day Prof. Ingersoll spoke of the profit realized from alfalfa. He reports ten tons per acre from three cuts at the state experimental station last year.

—Mrs. Hattie Wright was sentenced to three months imprisonment in the county jail, being convicted on the charge of keeping a house of ill-fame. She appealed to the supreme court, and gave bond for $500.

—Sheriff Danberry of Cheyenne county passed through the city Monday on his way to Lincoln with Thomas Noonan and Jack Abney, convicted of burglary and sentenced to one year each in the penitentiary.

—See W. H. Randall's advertisement in another part of today's JOURNAL. By the way if you have not owned a pair of mules see that you get them—there is no animal that can be relied on to the extent that the mule can be.

—A farmer bought ten hogs at a sale February 23, fed them until April 12, when he sold them, realizing 48 cents a bushel on the corn that he fed to them. Of course the hogs were good ones and did their part of the work all right.

—George Savidge of Humphrey, returned from Texas last Monday. He was caught in a little railroad wreck, and was laid up for about ten days, though not seriously injured. George says the crops look good down in Texas.

—Adolph Streakenber, cashier of a Swiss bank, who was here looking after the interests of his house, left for home last Saturday. He is very favorably impressed with the resources of Nebraska, and Platte county in particular.

—Miss Ellen Beach Yaw, accounted the most remarkable soprano since the days of Lenerzia Ajugari, is to be in the city in a few days. She sings from G below the treble staff to E natural above high E, a compass of nearly four octaves.

—An exchange says that the postmaster General has issued an order that hereafter mail be not taken on the mail car unless it first passes through the post office. The custom has become so prevalent in places as to overburden the railway mail clerks, hence the order.

—J. H. Wurdeman recently sold forty-five steers to be delivered the first week in May for $4,000 a hundred. They were bought by a dealer at Leigh for export to England. On the 6th of March they averaged 1432 lbs., and Mr. Wurdeman says they gain at the rate of two pounds a day.

—An entertainment under the auspices of the Congregational Y. P. S. C. E. will be given at the Congregational church Friday evening, April 27, 1894. At the close of a program rendered by home talent there will be a laughable farce by the Peak sisters of Alaska. Program next week.

—FOR SALE! A rare opportunity is offered to any one wishing to step into a beautiful home, complete in every particular and elegantly furnished, on Fourteenth street. This is one of the most desirable localities in Columbus. Terms can be made to suit purchaser. Alonzo Haight. 7t

—'Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde' will be impersonated and lectured upon by the wonderful Washington, D. C., dramatic orator, Robert Nourse, on Wednesday evening, April 25th, in the Congregational church. A rare opportunity will be lost if our citizens fail to hear him. Admission 50 cents.

—Abts & Stapfel have opened a meat market in the place formerly occupied by W. T. Rieky, on Olive street, where they keep, for the accommodation of their custom, fresh meats of all kinds and varieties—anything you may wish in their line of business. Fish always on hand. Telephone No. 10. 1t

—Anton Sakowski was arrested here last week by Policeman Phillips under suspicion of being one of the men wanted for the robbery of George Scheidel's place some weeks ago of about $200 worth of goods, some of which, we are informed, were found in his possession. As we go to press he is having his hearing before Judge Henaley.

—County Superintendent Rothleitner has a scholarship, to give away, entitling the holder to tuition from October next to the following May, in the Martin College, an oratorical institution, Washington, D. C. The scholarship is worth $100 and the only conditions are that the holder must be a resident of Platte county and a studious person of good moral character.

—The following corn planters are sold by Henry Leiber: Barlow, steel frame, Tait's Iron Dandy, Tait's Jim Dandy, the old reliable Standard, Evans adjustable frame, Beloit Pick up Planter, something new, don't fail to see it. He also sells the Norwegian and Bock Island Clipper Plows. The Norwegian-Norwegian tongueless cultivator; should be seen by everybody that expects to buy a tongueless cultivator. It will please. 4

—Some ten or twelve boys for three nights scared the folks at John Elliott's residence by use of the tick-tack. Four of them were called up before the police judge, who lectured and warned them. As the racket was made after some of the family had retired for the night, and frightened the others considerably, they thinking that it was an attack of tramps, the mischief-loving boys may well congratulate themselves in not being trouped by the Colonel.

—Number eleven of our Tour pictures, due this week, and ready for you, contains scenes in Africa, that land of mystery, which the world has read so much about in the explorations of Livingstone and Stanley. By the stupendous works the ancient Egyptians have left, we can understand something of their life and times, but Africa as of old will doubtless always be a wonder world to the human race.

—State Sup't Gouby has given it as his opinion that when school districts vote bonds, it should not be done unless the petition provided by law has been presented, and then should be in a meeting entirely separate from the annual meeting, called at a different hour. As quite a number of Platte county districts are contemplating the voting of bonds at the June meeting, it will be well to keep these things in mind.

—Of all the great, great newspapers of the middle and western United States, the Chicago Inter Ocean, as a paper for the home, is the best, because it can be enjoyed by every member of the household, and the paper has not only struck its gait, but is bettering it every week. We have made arrangements so that we can furnish you this paper along with your other literature. Come and see us about it, or drop us a line.

—In the line of raising additional revenue, the city council should consider the large number of bicycles owned and used in the city. The man who owns a $25 plug has to pay taxes on it; why should not the $125 bicycle be taxed? Besides the wheel is more of a luxury than a necessity. The foregoing is from the Schuyler Herald. If the bicycle is taxed, that will be an expense that most of the owners have not calculated upon.

—We hear of a Madison county man who borrowed a pair of mules of a neighbor, placed one of his boys on one of them, had another hold the plow handles, while he, with a club, beat first one mule and then the other, from nine o'clock in the forenoon until four o'clock in the afternoon, not ceasing for dinner, and at the end of that time the poor animals were exhausted and shortly died. What ought to be the punishment for such a fiendish deed?

—Dr. Wilson applied to his patient, Mr. Ives, the cleansing method of washing the stomach with warm water and discharging it with a pump by way of the mouth. Lodged in the folds of the stomach had been since October last, last, hundreds of grapes, tomato and apple seeds, and some fish and potatoes were held in the stomach eight days. The day before his death, after one of these cleanings, the patient threw up, for the first time, some unusual looking substance that under the microscope, proved to be cancerous matter.

—A large number of our readers in Nebraska, Iowa and Ohio, were acquainted with Walter B. Beebe of Cadiz, Ohio, having had large landed interests in all three states. Of late years he had been living at Columbus, Ohio, where he died April 17th, aged 77 years. His first, Gen. W. B. Beebe, was one of the first settlers of Ohio, and a prominent man of affairs. Twenty-four years ago Mr. Beebe made an investment in lots in this city and tracts of land in this vicinity, which he afterwards gave to his son-in-law, Col. John A. Norris.

—The National Educational association meets this year, July 6th to 13th, at Asbury Park, N. J., one of the most beautiful seaside resorts on the Atlantic coast, 40 miles from New York City and two hours ride from Philadelphia. The program of meetings will be made up of addresses and lectures by men and women of national renown as educators and orators. A number of JOURNAL readers will desire to take advantage of the reduced railroad fare to attend this annual gathering, which is becoming one of the important educational events of these times.

—An exchange says: 'Lumbergeer cheese laid away in cupboards and refrigerators will drive away ants.' And another responds: 'No doubt of it, it will drive a dog out of a tan yard; it will drive a tramp away from a meal of victuals; it will drive a mule through a barbed fence; it will drive a herd of cattle over a precipice; it will drive a negro away from a chicken roost, or a man into insanity who stays five minutes within ten feet of its unsavory presence. And yet some men will sit up and eat the stuff and profess to like it.'

—George W. Turner of THE JOURNAL forces leaves Thursday, this week, for New York, to join 'Buffalo Bills' Wild West show, which opens its eleventh season there the 12th of May. George has been with the organization almost continuously, with the exception of one season, since its formation in this city in 1883, has traveled over a vast territory both in this and foreign countries, which he has thoroughly enjoyed. He will take his old position in Prof. Wm. Sweeney's celebrated Cowboy Band. Before proceeding to New York, George will visit for a few days the scenes of 'childhood's happy hours' at Cadiz, Ohio.

—At a meeting of citizens held at the council chamber Friday evening, over which Jonas Welch presided, and J. A. Barber served as secretary, a committee was appointed to devise ways and means for starting the canal project, their report to be laid before a meeting to be held in the near future. The committee consisted of W. A. McAllister, Albert Steiger, O. T. Roen, M. Whitmoyer, A. W. Clark, John Wise, Patrick Murray, J. H. Galey, Adolph Jaegg, L. Gerrard and G. W. Phillips. If you have any suggestions to make it would be well to confer with some member of the committee, and after the chairman announces the time of the next meeting, be sure to attend.

—Word was received last Friday afternoon that little Otto Borchert, aged two years, had been playfully hung himself. He had been accidentally hung some all afternoon and about 4 o'clock his mother missed him, and it was at first thought that he had toddled off to a neighbor's, but as he could not be found there a search of the place was made and he was found hanging under a self-binder, dead. It is thought that he crawled under the machine to play with some pups and in going out a piece of iron that is intended to prevent straw from wrapping around the axle caught under his clothing at the back of his neck and he was unable to free himself and slowly strangled to death. The bereaved parents have the sympathy of their many friends.—(Scribner News.

PERSONAL. Ben. Brod-fuhrer had business in Monroe Monday. A. J. McKelvey of St. Edward was in the city Monday. J. E. North and son Ed. were up from Omaha over Sunday. J. S. Graves of Humphrey was a guest of the hotel Clover Sunday.

Harry Phillips of Henderson, Iowa, is visiting his sister, Mrs. Ellis Brown. Mrs. Frank Stevenson of Columbus, is visiting 'Charlie's' folks in this city. —Fremont Herald. John Wiggins is up from school at Fremont, visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Wiggins. E. M. Thomas of Batterly, Stanton county, was in the city yesterday on business. He was on his way home from Omaha.

Dr. and Mrs. J. F. Wilson of Chicago arrived in the city Saturday, the Doctor returning home Tuesday. Mrs. Wilson will remain awhile and visit friends. Mrs. Frank Bridell arrived in the city Sunday from St. Louis. Mr. Bridell has been here for some time, and they expect to make Columbus their future home.

IN MEMORIAM. Sorrow sits brooding in our midst. The alarm which no one cares to hear and no one dares to challenge, has come to the door of our asylum. The angel of death received the fatal mandate, and on Saturday evening, April 14, 1894, just as the shadows lengthened and twilight deepened, Sir Knight Charles B. Stillman bade us good night here to stay, still morning yonder.

The paleface had his knight at his breast. The sword is sheathed, the knight at his breast. The record of his life is one of thorough integrity and tried manhood. He was a tower of strength to the Masons of Columbus, in blue lodge, chapter, council and commandery. Upon his shoulders rested the prelate's mantle of our order when he received the final summons. He believed in and loved masonry; he modeled his daily life upon its principles and precepts, to which he adhered in the strong belief that he would thereby reach the holy city of the Divine Master. A good man has fallen, Brother, companion, frater,—hail and farewell.

To the family of our deceased frater we extend, all that we can do, our deep sympathy in their great loss, with the assurance that our tears mingle with their own, and that the recollection of the many virtues of their husband and father, our frater, will be a sweet fragrance in the halls of memory forever. It is recommended that the prelate's chair, the altar of our asylum, and our sword hilts be draped in emblems of mourning for the period of sixty days.

CLARK GRAY, J. D. STRAIN, Committee. C. D. EVANS, C. E. POLLOCK, Recorder.

Companions: As the sun quietly passed from sight below the western horizon, closing in darkness the beauties of the day, and on the morrow rises in all its glory and splendor, so passed away another of our companions, Charles B. Stillman, of this chapter of Royal Arch Masons.

We mourn for the loss of our past high priest, who had us farewell at his home in Columbus on Saturday, April 14, 1894, at 2:25 o'clock. A Mason of thirty years, courteous in demeanor, faithful in friendship, learned in Masonic law and literature, esteemed and beloved, not only by the Masonic fraternity but by all who knew him personally. In the quarters as an overseer, or presiding as master, he was ever an example of fidelity and skill. His mission on earth is ended. He has been gathered to his home on high, with the commendation of his companions and the benediction of the good and true.

It is recommended that as a token of remembrance of our deceased companion, the chapter hall and jewels be draped in mourning for the period of sixty days, and a page be inscribed to his memory on our records, and that the condolence of this chapter be extended to his family, together with a copy of this resolution, and that these resolutions and a copy thereof be transmitted to the family of our deceased brother, in this their great affliction.

Resolved, That these resolutions be spread upon the records of our lodge, and a copy thereof be transmitted to the family of our deceased brother, and that publication in our city newspapers be ordered. C. A. STRAIN, J. D. BARBER, J. J. SULLIVAN, Committee.

DIED. Ives—At Chicago, April 18th, at 2 a. m., of cancer of the stomach, E. R. Ives, aged 53 years, 3 months and 14 days.

Funeral services for Mr. Ives were held at the residence of his son-in-law, Dr. J. F. Wilson, formerly of this city, now a resident of Chicago. He suffered intensely during his illness, and virtually starved to death because of his disease, his stomach being four times its ordinary size. The body was received here Saturday and the funeral services were held at the Methodist church Sunday afternoon, at 2. Rev. Bross preaching the sermon.

The Columbus and Silver Creek camps of Modern Woodmen of America, attended in a body. A large number of sympathizing friends of the family also attended the funeral.

J. T. Morris started for Wyoming Sunday where he will be employed some time doing surveying for E. T. Graham. John Nyboer went with him to work for James Graham. Mr. and Mrs. Theo. Wolf, Mr. and Mrs. Beck, Mrs. Stafford and Mrs. Haslock expect to soon become residents of Omaha. Mr. Wolf went to that place Wednesday to rent a house and complete arrangements for moving. Driving by L. J. Nichols's place a few evenings ago we noticed that he has put out a young orchard of five or ten acres just west of his home. It is well sheltered by trees and makes a valuable improvement in his place.—(Creston News.

CITY COUNCIL. At the meeting Tuesday evening last all were present except Councilmen Oehlrich and Wells. The petition of Messrs. R. B. Kummer and Gustave Schroeder for the privilege of erecting poles for electric light and power purposes, using the latest improved machinery, referred to the committee on streets and grades.

The mayor then announced the standing committee, as follows: the first named for the chairman: Finance, Gray, Murdock, Galey. Streets and grades, Welch, Murdock, Wells. Claims, Murdock, Oehlrich, Wells. Police, Wells, Welch, Murdock. Printing, Oehlrich, Galey, Wells. Fire, Welch, Galey, Oehlrich.

The report of the committee to whom was referred the territory to be sprinkled the coming year, was adopted, as follows: 11th street from K street to center of block 13; 12th from N to center of block 56; L from 13th to 10th; M from 11th to alley in block 117; N from 14th to 10th; O from 14th to 10th; Nebraska Avenue from 14th to 12; 14th from Olive to Nebraska Avenue.

On motion of Gray the preparation of a list of persons liable to poll tax was referred to the committee on streets and grades with power to act. The communication from the fire department was referred to the committee on fire. On this subject Galey expressed himself very decidedly in favor of providing the firemen with better quarters and paying much more attention to their needs and then requiring more of them in return. Certain men are on the roll of firemen for the purpose of being exempt from jury duty and poll tax, and scarcely ever attend the meetings of the department. Then, too, they might get out to practice a little occasionally, using the hydrant to make the dead ends of the mains, which they have the right to open, for throwing water.

The mayor then announced his appointments as follows: City Attorney, William O'Brien; Water Commissioner, C. H. Davis; Chief of Police, Charles Brandt; Policeman, Julius C. Phillips; Overseer of Streets, Robert McCray; Members Board of Health, Galey and Murdock.

There having been objection made to the appointment of Brandt as chief of police, Mayor Phillips said that in appointing him he had done so after mature deliberation. It was his understanding that the liquor license (to which Charles Brandt had been appointed) was not to refer to the appointment. Then, too, he might get out to practice a little occasionally, using the hydrant to make the dead ends of the mains, which they have the right to open, for throwing water.

The mayor then announced his appointments as follows: City Attorney, William O'Brien; Water Commissioner, C. H. Davis; Chief of Police, Charles Brandt; Policeman, Julius C. Phillips; Overseer of Streets, Robert McCray; Members Board of Health, Galey and Murdock. There having been objection made to the appointment of Brandt as chief of police, Mayor Phillips said that in appointing him he had done so after mature deliberation. It was his understanding that the liquor license (to which Charles Brandt had been appointed) was not to refer to the appointment.

For quite a little while nothing was said. The silence was becoming oppressive, when the mayor asked: "Does the council wish to take any action on the appointments?" Galey moved that the nominations be all ratified except that of the chief of police and that action on same
