THOMAS J. MAJORS, the republican nominee for governor, is a man well known over the state. He resides at Peru, is a married man and has an interesting family of children. He has a record of five years as an officer in the war of the rebellion, and twenty years experience as congressman, legislator, lieutenant-governor, etc. In 1873 he was elected contingent congressman from Nebraska and sent to Washington to demand that congress should give Nebraska representation. He went there and made an earnest effort, but was unsuccessful. The people were satisfied with his efforts and returned him for a second term. Then they demanded that he should go back the third time, and in the meantime elected him to fill the unexpired term of Hon. Frank Welch in the 45th con-

Comrade Majors was again elected as contingent congressman for the fourth time, but never took his seat. He was elected a member of the territorial council of Nebraska, and served in the 12th and 20th sessions. He was again elected state senator and served in the second, third, fourth and fifth sessions. He was elected and served as a member of the lower house in the 21st session. and elected lieutenant-governor in 1891. and re-elected in 1893, and is the present incumbent.

Undoubtedly there are many republicans whose first choice as a nominee for governor was not Majors, but a convention of the party having named him as against his neighbors, or whoever wishes the standard bearer in this campaign. most of these will vote for Majors, and indeed the entire republican state ticket. applying party discipline.

No More Free Homes.

If the desires of the present democratc national administration prevail there will be no more free homes for the industrions poor people of this country. For more than thirty years it has been the boast of patriotic Americans that Uncle Sam is rich enough to give us all a farm, but in these degenerate days it is planned to put our remaining gift farms up at auction so that the man with the most money may be able to crowd out his poor neighbors. The homestead laws have long been the pride of the people and the hope of the American laborer. The free home idea is a good rock on which to build free institutions.

It was President Buchanan who vetoed the homestead law when first passed. It was from the south that all the early opposition to the free home idea came. You cannot get a free home in Texas and the result is that the state has millions of acres of idle lands which it cannot sell. A secretary of the interior from Georgia is today working through southern representatives in congress for the passage of a law which will end for all time the free home policy of our government. The old cry of the old democratic party of thirty and forty years ago for disposal of public lands to the highest bidders has been raised again. It is the same idea that Buchanan had.

The pending bill known as the McRae bill proposes to make this important change in our land laws so that the prospective homesteader will have to bid to make a bid, and unless he has an abundance of cash will probably be compelled to take a poor piece of land. rather than seek a doubtful method of There is no doubt that something should be done to avoid the great rushes witnessed at recent openings of new lands. but to set men against each other as bidders is simply to put a premium on be greatly increased. Last night he with advising him as superintendent of the institution to plunder the state to the amount of $20,000. This affidavit was handed over to the republican state central committee. The affidavit says: "The first time Mrs. Lease met the board after we had taken our situations she came into the matron's room and

"Now, Dixon, you have got a chance to make your fortune. Now pay yourself from the income of the institution and charge it to maintenance and repairs of the institution. All you will have to do will be to make your books agree with the amount you take. "My answer was: 'I can't do that; I never had that kind of a record.'

"She again remarked: You let about $20,000 go by you when you were police find it duplicated in their new quarters, judge of Wichita. Now you take care of yourself; don't be foolish. Heusley's Campaign

In the Schuyler Herald (dem.) we find the following report of Judge Hensley's house, Schuyler, Friday of last week: Judge W. N. Hensley, of Columbus, democratic candidate for congress, was forsaken my dearest friends because we differed on new subjects that have recently arisen in politics." The Judge stated how he had, contrary to the feelings of his old time party friends helped organize the Nebraska free coinage

Taking up the matter of his nomination for congress Mr. Hensley explained at length the peculiar position he and his party have been placed in by trickery of one Devine who, disregarding the desires of his own party leaders and many of the voters, persists in his candi-dacy. "Fusion," as interpreted by the pops of Nebraska means "swallowing"-"the total engulfment of one party by another." Then, turning to Mr. Bryan, the speaker in earnest and plain words demanded that Mr. Bryan and the World-Herald which he controls, choose between Devine and Hensley, and declare for one or the other.

Bryan in his speech afterwards declared for Hensley as against Devine.

> THE Sioux City Journal's advice contained in the following paragraph might with propriety be directed toward Senator Allen and all the rest:

"By the way would it not be well when William Jennings Bryan tells you that he and his party associates passed that income tax law to bring the rich man to Limerick and exalt the horn of the poor, to ask him why they did not make a sufficient appropriation to put the law in force? The democratic committee having appropriations in charge struck that appropriation from the list and the income tax will not be worth the white paper it is printed on until after the appropriation is made. Were not they buying the pop vote for the sugar trust tariff bill cheap when they put in the income tax clause and struck out the appropriation to carry it into effect?" WE cannot believe that the people of this state want to see another democrat or pop in the United States senate, and that is just what the demo-pops are working and scheming for. We believe the people are heartily sick of the present congress and its work, and will not vote to keep either the senate or house democratic. The pops are good enough pops at home, when they want votes, but they are democrats when they get down to Washington. They are making desperate efforts to capture the legislature by fusion, promises and everything that will make them a vote.- |Seward Blade.

An effort was made to influence the committee to withdraw his name in the interest of fusion, but the idea was rejected promptly by each member.
