-All before us lies the way: Give the past unto the wind: All before us is the day. Night and darkness are behind. -You can't help but notice Galley's attractive advertisement in today's JOURNAL. He always has something of interest to say to the public, and in making any purchases you are sure of getting goods as represented, and as cheap as they can be sold for. -Last Thursday's Norfolk News contains the following: Arthur Overton, the young son of Conductor Steve Overton, is seriously ill with the grippe, with indications of pneumonia. His condition was such that Mr. Overton did not go out on his run today. -Mr. Talley, manager at the electric light plant in Columbus, was in town Sunday and Monday visiting friends and attending to business matters. Miss Louise Westmeyer, from Columbus, arrived Monday for a short visit with Mrs. Meyers. -Hon. B. R. Cowdery, state bank examiner, was in the city Saturday, returning from Genoa, where he had been looking over the affairs of the State bank of that place. He gives it as his opinion that the institution will not prosper, under the present management, at least. -Mrs. W. B. Doddridge of St. Louis, arrived here last week in time to attend the funeral of her mother, Mrs. Guy C. Bernan, which took place Tuesday afternoon of last week, and was largely attended by relatives and friends. The body was laid to rest in the Columbus cemetery. -Clarence Newman with Engineer Arnold were striking levels on Newman's farm Monday morning at and near his irrigating plant. From now on we expect to see the onion seed and all kinds of garden stuff go into the ground at a two-minute gait as "Bud" has a new garden machine. -John Wiggins, one of the republicans named for the school board, is a parent of the district, has children of school age and takes a very lively interest in all school matters. He has been a member of the board and has done efficient service, giving considerable time and attention. -Henry Durkop, of whose death we had an account last week, was buried Wednesday, Rev. Meisler officiating. The deceased has been in this country 23 years, 18 of which were spent in Texas, the last three near Columbus. Mr. Durkop was 54 years of age and leaves a wife and six children. -Seed corn, home-grown. Grass, field, garden and flower seeds. Garden seeds in bulk a specialty. S. C. & C. C. Gray. -In Justice Wintersteen's court this afternoon the case of Abe Jensen vs. J. N. Kilian is being heard, on a claim of $125.00 for horse boarding. The horse belongs to Mr. Kilian but he contends that he did not contract the debt and is not responsible. The horse was kept at Jensen's by an agent of Kilian's -Mr. Johannes. -Fremont Tribune. -A large number of the Maennerchor attended the funeral Monday forenoon of Frank Miller, at Bellwood. Messrs. Gass, Pohl, Falbaum, Jaeggi, Graf, Vogel, Bastian, Schaubert, Schreiber, Stovick, Gores, Stauffer, Boettcher, Segelke and Roth. The company returned from Bellwood about 1 o'clock, the funeral taking place at ten. -Carl Kramer was always one of the school board, doing all that he could possibly to build up the schools, and make them of greater interest to the pupils. With Carl, it was a labor of love, and his visits were made to the schools because it was a delight for him to do so. He will give the same thoughtful care again. -F. W. Busche, the harness maker on Eleventh street, opposite the hotel, will sell you harness made by experienced workmen from the best oak-tanned leather for the same price that you can buy factory-made harness at. If you buy yours from him and not from some other source, I give you a large stock of all styles of harness on hand. -Does it pay to advertise? I had just been advertising up new, neat, nobby picture moulding and was putting the samples in a shop when I came out and saw the following persons in the paper, forgetting I had advertised them two weeks. But you would think them hearty, if you saw them. F. W. Horrick. -The G. A. R. wish to express thanks to the W. R. C. and those who assisted in making every pleasant evening on the 16th, and to the following persons in particular for helping in the program: R. L. Rosier, Miss Abbie Hurd, Miss Mary Turner, Mrs. Brindley, G. A. Schroeder and Mrs. Warren. Over ten dollars was cleared for the "boys" in helping pay expenses. -One of the signs of the times as regards the initiation of more diversified agriculture in this portion of the state is found in the fact that one gentleman at North Loup has undertaken to raise several acres of vine seeds for a Sioux City seed firm, and another has just received a proposition from a prominent seed firm of Rochester, N. Y., relative to raising 225 pounds of tomato seeds. -L. A. Wiley, the republican candidate for councilman for the Second ward, is the well-known groceryman on Olive street, and one of the most generous hearted men in the city. While he would be economical of the city's money, he would be in favor of no penny-wise, pound-foolish policy - give every man his due, all that justly belongs to him. Mr. Wiley, when elected, give his best attention to the office, to which his fellow-citizens intend electing him. -Julius Krueger, says the Humphrey Democrat, died at his home in this city, Tuesday afternoon, March 19, 1895, at the age of 62 years and 16 days, death being caused by consumption. Deceased was an old settler of Platte county, and was a member of the G. A. R. post at Columbus, members of that organization here performing their last sad duties to their comrade. The deceased leaves a family consisting of a wife and three children. Funeral services were held Wednesday at the German Baptist church.

-Several farmers hereabouts are feeding cottonseed meal to their stock, and claim that cattle like it and fatten on it as readily as corn. It is a great deal cheaper. We noticed several wagon loads going out into the country last Friday. -Madison Chronicle. -We find the following going the round of exchanges, but cannot vouch for the truth of it: "Wood Hopsman went down from Genoa to Columbus to meet his bride and get married. The girl, however, did not see him when his train arrived, and went forward to Genoa, while Wood hung around Columbus for two days before he discovered what had happened. They eventually were married, however." -O. C. Shannon, the republican candidate for city clerk, handles the pen of a ready writer, and it is safe to say would dispatch business at a lively rate. During the sessions of the city council, much of the time is engaged in reading the minutes, and with one who would do this rapidly and yet accurately, the business of the council would be furthered considerably. It is probably not too much to say that no man ever occupied the office who made a better clerk than Mr. Shannon will make. -Thursday afternoon last during the sand storm the U. P. branch train to Cedar Rapids was stopped near Belgrade several hours by a sand drift that was packed over the tracks like a bed of mortar. The engine ran through the mass quite a distance before it was stopped, when it was discovered to be off the track and some little damage done to its pilot, etc. The wrecking train was called to the scene of the accident, put things to rights and brought the damaged engine down Friday morning, and thence to Omaha for repairs. -M. Whitmore, the republican candidate for councilman in the Third ward, is an expert in the law-making business, and has served his ward before in the city council, giving most excellent satisfaction. It goes without saying that he will be a competent, painstaking councilman, always wide-awake to the interests of the city and to all of them. Such a man, a large property owner himself, and in a business that brings him in constant contact with people of all classes and conditions, he is fitted by education and native ability to make one of the very best councilmen the city has ever had. -Let there be no mistake made in regard to aid for seed and grain. There is no charity or no donation - your fellow-citizens are to furnish you seed for sowing and for feeding your work horses, until you raise a crop of corn or oats. When you raise a crop, you pay your loan, and everybody will be glad to see you prosper, as you never did before. Let us all do the best we can. Those of us who have land more than we need to work ourselves, let us be liberal as possible in seeing that it is utilized for the good of the country. Let us not leave anything undone that will bring us prosperity. We can all help a little. -George Spooner, a former citizen of this city, now of Denver, arrived here Friday last and will remain several days. In a conversation with him he said he never saw such depression in all kinds of business as the people in the west are now experiencing. About four weeks ago he was in Sacramento, California, and at one five-cent soap house there were 1,500 men waiting to get their truck meal, a good many not having a nickel to pay were set to work chopping kindling wood. In Denver a good many unemployed men are "washing up" the sands of Cherry creek, from which they get of the precious metal upwards of fifty cents per day. -J. H. Galley, republican candidate for councilman of the First ward, has served his constituents the past year with perfect satisfaction, looking after every interest of the city entrusted to his care with close fidelity. He attends to city affairs just the same as he does his own, promptly and thoroughly, giving the same his individual attention, neglecting or slighting nothing the least. Mr. Galley is very thorough in everything he undertakes, and his work on the council has commended itself to all the members who have worked with him in either committee or full council. A vote for Mr. Galley, will be a vote for honest, capable public work, just such as you would like to see all the time, by all officials. -The republican party is a practical party, believes in common-sense methods. The head of the ticket, W. A. McAllister, candidate for mayor, has had ample experience in city legislation, and understands all the ins and outs of our city government, from the sweeping of a street crossing to the looking after the financial interests of the city, and no dollar will be allowed to wander out of its place. Unlike the democratic party, the republicans do not traffic in idols, their candidates are made of the self-same clay that ordinary mortals are made of, just the same material, even our mayor, while a man well informed in every particular, having lived in Nebraska all his life and grown up with the growth of the people of the state, would resent any idea of superiority from other officials. No idols here. -J. S. Freeman was at Fremont Thursday in the interest of the Iowa, Lake Superior and Gulf Railroad Company. An organization was effected with J. S. Freeman as president. It is proposed that the Nebraska company take the road from where it is built from Bolivar to Beaumont, Texas, and from there the line is to run through Nebraska, to Dakota. It is said the Nebraska division will not run east of Arlington, nor west of the Sixth principal meridian, is a little straggler that the ordinary means of building railroads are not taken in the case. Long before this, the air would have been vocal with high-sounding praises of the new railroad, its far-reaching effects on traffic, and what it might reasonably be expected to bring to the various cities along its route, but there has been nothing of this at all. This is the railroad that THE JOURNAL described at length about fifteen months ago when Mr. Busdell of Wayne was here, and set the scheme forth at the Maennerchor hall. It is intended to make this railroad a working model of the Golden rule, from first to last - everything according to the principle of right between man and man. Can't we help Mr. Freeman to build his road, and help build it through Platte county?

-We clip the following from the Des Moines Daily News of March 21st: Mrs. Nira George, wife of Thomas George, died this morning at 4 o'clock at the family residence, No. 821 West Nineteenth street, after an illness of about two weeks, a gripe developing into pneumonia. Mrs. George was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cyrus Moore and was born at Granville, Licking county, Ohio, 57 years ago, and lived here until her marriage in 1857, when she removed to Cadiz, Ohio, which was the family home until 1864, when they removed to Eddyville, Iowa. They came to Des Moines in 1867 and have lived here ever since. The husband, two sons and a daughter survive her, the children being Russell and Oscar George and Mrs. J. A. Dyer. Mrs. George died strong in the Christian faith. Relatives in Ohio have been notified and the funeral will be held tomorrow at 3 o'clock. -The Omaha Herald of the 21st says the motion for the new trial in the Ryan will contest has been filed. Besides the usual run of alleged errors, on account of which the new trial is asked, special exception is taken to instruction No. 9, relating to the wills of priests made since the passage of the Baltimore decree, a translation of which was published a few days ago. The jury before the will of the priest and it is claimed this instruction, which has an important bearing on ecclesiastical law, was largely instrumental in affecting their decision. In giving the instruction the court held that any law, rule, recommendation or exhortation of any church or other organization of which the testator may be a member which limits his freedom of action or puts him under any control, moral or religious, in the bestowal of his property, constitutes undue influence. The judge referred to the Baltimore decree and said that if the jury found this had that influence or was binding on the priest the will must be broken. -We failed last week to give the program of the A. O. H. entertainment the 18th, in celebration of St. Patrick's day. The following is the program in brief. Instrumental solos, Miss Minnie English; "Come back to Erin," Miss Meta Pohl; vocal solos, "Three Leaves of Shamrock," Miss Katie Hays; "Beautiful Isle of the Sea," Mr. Bates; "With My Maggie," Mrs. J. C. Walker; "My Father's Home," Mr. Gores; "God-bye to the Doorstep," Mr. Bates; "Come Back to Erin," Miss Katie Hays; "The Bohemian Boy," Mr. Gores; vocal duets were, "The Emerald Banner," Misses Flynn; duet, Mr. and Miss Fitzpatrick; "The Dear Little Shamrock," Maggie McTaggart and Irene Dolan; comic song and dance, Master Frank Perkinson; vocal quartet, "Come Where the Lillies Bloom," Misses Sarah and Agnes Fitzpatrick and Messrs. Bates and Getzen. Addresses were made by Rev. Mugan, Rev. Hickey and Frank Coffey. The program closed with a pantomime by Misses Jennie Fitzpatrick, A. Getzen and Misses Sheehan. -M. T. Bohman, accompanied by Harry Woods, was at Columbus last Sunday. They went up there for the purpose of looking up a location for the erection of a house and barn on the land Mr. Bohman became possessor of when he traded off his opera house. He will erect a four room house 18x25 on the land to be occupied by the renter. They left their rig which they went up in a neighbor's house while they took a snap shot of the land on foot. Someone evidently mistook them for missionaries and while they were gone applied everything in the buggy to their own use. Mr. Bohman secured everything but the cushion, however, and thinks he will have no trouble in getting that when he makes another trip to Columbus. The county commissioners have finally succeeded in clearing up the poor farm deal and Colfax county now has a poor farm. William London has rented the farm land for the coming season and the commissioners still retain the hay land. Chris. Hagerman, now of Columbus, was visiting in Schuyler on Sunday. -Those subscribers of THE JOURNAL who have paid in advance and are now receiving the Lincoln Semi-Weekly Journal as a premium, should notice when their subscription expires and act accordingly.
