Free Trade In Rice.

The duty on rice was reduced 15.82 per cent by the Gorman tariff. This was a slight reduction compared with many other products, but the result has been an increase of 19,770,625 pounds in our imports of foreign rice at New York since the Gorman tariff became a law as compared with the imports of foreign rice during the corresponding ave months a year earlier. This is an object lesson to the southern rice plantes, who will undoubtedly study the resalts of this first step toward free trade with much interest. Here are the figare of total imports of rice through the New York custom house:

LIVES BLOTTED OUT.

ROILERS IN THE BASEMENT OF A DENVER HOTEL EXPLODED.

Tupaty-Four Have Boon Rescued While the Others Have Perished-Mass of Debeis Twenty, Feet High-Proprietors of the Hotel Were Among the Victims.

DENVER, Aug. 20 .- A portion of the Gumry hotel, the scene of Friday night's frightful disaster, is still standing, gaunt and sinister, constantly threatening to crash down upon those delving in the ruins, at any moment The search for victims has been carried on with the utmost energy constantly since the explosion occurred and was continued Monday night with the aid of 20 arc lights. Flames broke out afresh in the wreckage Monday night and the fire engines were again pouring forth water, still further impeding the work of rescue. The list of dead and missing now numbers 25, making the disaster the worst that ever occurred in the city. Only eight bodies have been recovered, being those of Manager Greiner and his wife, clasped in each other's arms; Gore Robert, a Rock Island railroad conductor: Mrs. George R. Wolfe and daughter; Fred Hubbold, and Will Richards, the elevator operator of the hotel; E. F. McCloskey of Colorado Springs, a wealthy owner of Cripple Creek mines, and James Murphy, who died while being taken out.

Among the missing is now included this man's carelessness that the disaster is attributed. The bodies of Peter Gunry and General Adams are still in the ruins. Judge James Glynn, who was at first supposed to have been in his room at the hotel, turns out to be at Holyoke, Colo., where he was spending Sanday with friends.

The scene surrounding the death of James Murphy, contractor, was heartrending. The firemen engaged in the rear of the building heard the agonizing cries from the man that he was burning, and asking them to continue to play the water. After a few hours' heroic work the firemen reached him. His lower limbs were pinioned between heavy joists. After the most herculean efforts with dense smoke blinding them the firemen released Murphy's left leg. At this moment a sheet of flame compelled them to withdraw. Murphy then offered his rescuers $1,000 to get him out and piteously demanded that they chop his leg off. A second later the west wall collapsed and covered Murphy with tons of ruins.
