—A special to the Salt Lake Tribune from Hailay, Idaho, September 12, said: "Senator Thurston, of Nebraska, is ill of cholera morbus at the Hot Springs hotel here. He went out for a plunge bath yesterday, ate heartily of green corn and watermelon and soon took his bed. The water is feared."

—The Adams county supervisors were told by Judge Beall that "they could not be heard to question the constitutionality of the new law as justification of their refusal to obey; they being ministerial officers cannot raise that question, but must obey the law until it is declared unconstitutional."

—The Printers Auxiliary gives a half tone picture of Francis Marion Kimmel with a sketch of his newspaper work. Mr. Kimmel will be remembered as being on the Columbus Democrat, going from here to McCook, where he bought the Tribune, and is now considered one of the leading newspaper men of the state.

—The prohibitionists of Platte county met Saturday and nominated the following county ticket: treasurer, Henry Hockenberger; sheriff, A. L. Russell; clerk of court, Leah Lightner; county clerk, Wm. Bloodgood; judge, E. W. Borders; superintendent, Mrs. C. A. Brindley; surveyor, Robert Stewart; coroner, A. Luth.

—E. D. Fitzpatrick returned last Tuesday from his trip to Cleveland, O. He says that manufacturing industries have started up again in the east, and the prospect is that the outlook will continue to brighten, so far as work is concerned, although the product of all kinds of crops except corn in Ohio, is poor.

—We are in receipt of a copy of the Nebraska State Historical Society Record No. 3. Its contents are The Ghost Songs of the Dakotas by Geo. L. W. Colby; Reminiscences of the Third Judicial District by E. Wakely; Freight Across the Plains in 1856, by Moses Sydenham. Now is the time to gather historical facts.

—The last that the Evans-Chambers Galley party were heard from, they were at Arangeo, Idaho, and lugely enjoying themselves. They had been in a snow and a hail storm in the mountains; Bert had ridden 250 miles in the mountains on his pony; they had plenty of fish and ice cream; they were at Jackson Hole on the 10th and expect to be home about the 25th.

—Friday evening John Tannahill returned from Madison, where he had been in charge of that county's exhibit of fruit, and which was sent to the state fair. There were 61 distinct varieties of apples, among them being very good specimens from Nels Olson of Creston, five varieties of plums, four of grapes and eight of pears, the latter from Henry Clayburn.

—It is a little too warm for much political talk as yet—several weeks until the election and there is plenty of time for the candidates to advise the voters. THE JOURNAL would advise honest voters to beware of hucksters in politics, men who sell their time and labor to the highest bidder for cash in hand, without any regard to the welfare of the community at large.

—Hard coal!! Way & Hockenberger will sell you the best of Scranton, Penn., HARD COAL for $3.00 delivered. Best of quality guaranteed. At these figures, soft coal is a luxury, and not in it. Place your orders soon. Telephone No. 34.

Gerrard, editor and proprietor of the Looking Glass, will give ten subscriptions to his paper for the best and sweetest heads made from flour manufactured in Platte county, by any young lady 20 years old or under (age not to be sworn to) and not connected with nor running a bakery. G. E. Tomlin, Sec'y.

—Among those who are attending the state fair in Omaha this week are: Miss Sarah Fitzpatrick, Miss Ida and Miss Meagher, Miss Minnie McMahon, Miss Hattie Baker, A. Haight, L. Zinckler, W. T. Rickly and family, W. R. Albro, Carl Krumer, Miss Mary Cox, Miss Agnes Keating, Miss Elsie Morse, Miss Kittie Spicer, Mrs. and Mrs. H. T. Spoerry, Miss Esther Johnson, F. W. Herrick and Miss Herrick.

—This is a peculiar season for certain. Not only are the fruit trees out in bloom in all sections of the country, but the flowers are again blossoming. Lilacs are again out in fragrant bloom and wild roses are to be found in all sections of the country. This is a peculiarity that seldom happens and never to our knowledge so profusely. A great occasion now is presented for the speculative to predict.—Schuyler Quill.

—A giant species of corn has been obtained from Peru by the department of agriculture. The grains are said to be four times larger than our common field corn and it is very prolific in ears of enormous size. The species is quite distinct from any found in North America and ten distinct varieties are already enumerated. It is probably a variety of North American corn that originated in Mexico where it still grows wild. In this new variety each kernel is enclosed in a husk, hence the name given it with other varieties, zea tunicata, or clothed corn.—Nebraska Farmer.

—A case of consumption comes up at Omaha, Miss Jessie Allan late city librarian. Her physician says that undoubtedly she contracted the disease while handling books in the library, which had in them the bacillus tuberculosis which got there through being read by persons afflicted with the disease—persons, in short, who coughed consumption into the open books as they read them. Medically speaking, her family history is good, and no consumption can be found, tracing the family back for several generations. A dampened cloth is advised to use in wiping books.

—The populists of Platte county have nominated C. C. Carrig for treasurer and Fred Jewell for clerk of the district court and when they did they did not they need not be ashamed of it. Both are able and competent for the duties of the office. Above all are honest and honorable men. They are true populists and will if elected be a credit to the party and the county. The Quill editor is personally acquainted with both gentlemen and can say from that personal knowledge that if the people of Platte county want honest competent men in office both will be elected.—Schuyler Quill.

—John N. Reynolds was a character who lived here once and had an insurance business here. He came from Iowa here, and afterwards lived at Fullerton. From there he moved to Atchison, started a live-stock insurance company and a bank. His methods were not of the best and he finally landed in the penitentiary on a sentence of eighteen months, but was trusted by the people even after that, being elected, if we rightly remember, to the state legislature. While in prison he wrote a book called "Twin Hells" which had quite a sale. The most charitable thing to say of him is that he was of ungodly mind.

—The Press Visitor of Raleigh, North Carolina, September 7, has a very appreciative article concerning Miss North's acting. The Visitor says: "Miss North is a young woman of taking gifts and has promise of being a high stand in the theatrical world. She is a graceful, young woman, with a decidedly pretty face and charming personality. But her beauty is not her only gift for Miss North has many other qualifications which have won her admiration. Her interpretation of 'The Farmer's Daughter' could hardly be improved upon. She ranks easily with the best emotional actresses we have seen."

—The Newport (Virginia) News also says: "Miss Helen North was an admirable Justice, the farmer's daughter. She gave to the part all the womanly sweet-ness and loving fidelity that the playwright sought to bring out, and her pleasing personality won the sympathy of the audience. Miss North has dramatic talent of a high order and her work gives promise of a future on the stage."

—THE JOURNAL is glad to reproduce these expressions of regard for one of our former Columbus ladies, who has, "from the light that never was on sea or land," carved a corner for herself.

DEED.

—JEWELL—Monday evening, Sept. 16, for an illness of many weeks, Julia Gilpin Jenkins.

Mrs. Jenkins was born in Pennsylvania, Nov. 26, 1824; was married to Levi Jenkins Feb. 26, 1841. Several states they resided in, Wisconsin, Illinois, Iowa, Missouri, Kansas and Nebraska, removing in 1871 to a lovely valley in south Madison county, this state, where her home was for many years, and until she came here to live with her son, E. H., who with his brother Charles, now of Norfolk, survive her, her husband dying December, 1886, and her children, Ursula, Maria, Alice and Ella preceding her to the spirit land.

Services were held at the residence of E. H. Jenkins yesterday afternoon at four, Rev. Pula officiating. Thereafter will be taken this (Wednesday) morning to Madison and placed beside those of her late husband.

Grandma Jenkins was universally beloved and was well worthy the fond affection of those who knew her intimately. To answer the good purposes of a human life for a score of years even, is much to accomplish, but to do as Grandma did, embody christian principles in a life of usefulness for seventy-one years, is a very great work to do, and she has, at last, after many weeks of suffering, fallen asleep, to waken, hale and well and free from pain, among friends long gone to the other shore.

Monday—Tuesday night, September 10, at 9:30 at Grand Prairie, Eulalia, daughter of Mr. E. C. and Mary Morrow, aged fourteen months.

The funeral took place Wednesday from the residence at 2 o'clock, Rev. Rogers preaching the sermon.

J. T. Morris.

—The republican and independent candidate for surveyor is a native of Wisconsin and received his education at Albion, in that state.

He has had fifteen years' experience as a practical surveyor, and understands it very thoroughly.

He came to this state in 1880, and was for four years employed by the B. & M. R. Co. on their lands in Colorado and Wyoming lines.

An adept in his business, Mr. Morris will make Platte county a model surveyor.

Gentle and accommodating, you will always find him just where he ought to be.

—There is coming to be a common understanding among voters of Platte county that two terms of office will be sufficient hereafter for those who are installed in office. After a term or so out, if then the people again wish to place a man in office, they can again do so. It is best all around, best for the office-holder, best also for the community. It will not do for men to be so long in office that they lose their individual independence. Besides, if the education, the honor, the emoluments, the exercise of the functions of public office are so gratifying to certain people, why don't they consider that these things are as necessary to others as they are to themselves?

—Miss Lulu Schroeder was given a surprise party Friday evening at her home. Dancing and games were the amusement until a late hour, when refreshments were served. The following young people were present: Misses Emma Cornell, Mamie Glick, Lillie Keating, Clara Hohl, Minnie Tannahill, Lucy Martyn, Clara Inly, Belle Ayers, Jessie Swartzley, Mary Morse, Anna Hoppes, Florence Routson, Angie Early, Mattie Heston, Alberta Post, Eunice Warnick. Messrs. Charlie Evans, Fred Roberts, Ed. Thurston, George Stratley, Joe Coudon, August Wagner, Leo Stanley, Port Dolanow, Roy Miller, Chas. Vanalstine, Alfred Elliott, Fred Williams, Dave Martyn, Jay Cushing and Walter Schroeder.

—The long of it is that on last Thursday the democratic judicial convention of this district met in this city and nominated Judge John J. Sullivan as a candidate for district judge to succeed himself. Hon. C. Hollenbeck of Fremont was selected as his running mate. In the convention there were contesting delegations from Nance and Merrick counties, but it didn't concern the assembled statesmen so very much as E. F. Gray son calmed the troubled waters by moving that the gentlemen named be declared the unanimous choice of the convention, and thus it was done. The district committee was chosen as follows: J. W. Sparks of Merrick, chairman, Waldo Wistersteen of Dodge, secretary, Fred Barabold, Colfax, J. A. Osborn, Nance, J. M. Goudring, Platte, and there being nothing else to do, the assembled representatives of democracy adjourned also die.

F. H. LAMB & CO.,

COLUMBUS, - - NEBRASKA.

Fred Jewell.

The candidate for clerk of the district court was born at Weston, Ill., June 7, 1856. He graduated from Weston college when 18 years of age; came to Nebraska in 1875, to teach school; liked the country, purchased a farm in Platte county and returned here in 1881, since which time this has been his home.

He was a republican until 1889, when he helped to organize the populist party, accepting a nomination from them for state senator in 1892, and although defeated, received a greater vote than any other candidate on his ticket in the two counties, except Wm. Schelp who tied him in Platte county.

He was for two years associated in business with Mr. C. A. Boardley at Columbus, under firm name of Boardley & Jewell; for three years in the general mercantile business at Coocoo with his brother Walter, under the firm name of Jewell Brothers, and has for the past two years been traveling as agriculturist for the Norfolk Beet and Sugar Co., but has all of this time been conducting his farm and any one traveling 1 1/2 miles south of Platte Center will testify as to his ability as a farmer as well as a business man.

It is safe to say that Fred Jewell will make a splendid clerk of the court, and there can be no gaining it.

—To Chicago and the East.

Passengers going east for business, will naturally gravitate to Chicago as the great commercial center. Passengers re-visiting friends or relatives in the eastern states always desire to "take in" Chicago en route. All classes of passengers will find that the "Short Line" of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway, via Omaha and Council Bluffs, affords excellent facilities to reach their destinations in a manner that will be sure to give the utmost satisfaction.

A reference to the time tables will indicate the route to be chosen, each by asking any principal agent west of the Missouri river for a ticket over the Chicago, Council Bluffs & Omaha Short Line of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway, you will be cheerfully furnished with the proper passport via Omaha and Council Bluffs. Please note that all of the "Short Line" trains arrive in Chicago in ample time to connect with the express trains of all the great through car lines to the principal eastern cities. For additional particulars, consult time maps, etc., please call on or address F. A. Nash, General Agent, Omaha, Neb.

—Fine job work done at THE JOURNAL office.
