The Gazette says that eight loads of cattle, purchased by E. H. Henry & Son at Wyoming came into Bellwood on an early hour on Saturday morning by special train. They will be fed and fattened here, thus devouring considerable hay and corn.

Buck Taylor, well known to many of our readers, as one of the characters of Buffalo Bill's aggregation when it first started out from here, was in a railroad collision the other day at St. Louis, in which the two engineers were killed, and occupied with his life, but with one of his legs broken.

The creamery company had a meeting Monday evening and elected new officers as follows: Carl Kramer president, M. Whitmoyer secretary, George Scott treasurer, L. Gervard and L. Jaeggi directors. The company are now out of debt and feel encouraged for future prospects.

The Norfolk News tells the following without comment of any kind, when it knows it must be an unconsooling yarn: "A Platte county man points with pride to the fact that his wife has worn one bonnet for twenty-five years. The feeling with which the wife points to her husband has not yet been described."

The Sunday School Union held services in the Congregational church Wednesday afternoon and evening with large crowds in attendance. Several good papers were read. In the evening Elder Hudson gave a talk, reminiscent of the Sunday Schools of Platte county, bringing up many interesting incidents of pioneer life.

At the meeting of Baker post Saturday night, Commander Brock gave the boys a rare treat in the shape of some nice juicy apples that were grown in Missouri on trees set out by Mr. Brock some seventeen years ago, and to see them disappear down the lanes where has gone so much hard work and baked beans, was proof that they were relished.

The Pabst Brewing Co. of Milwaukee has let the contract to Frank Clark to construct for them a refrigerator and ice house, the capacity to be about two car loads. It will be erected on grounds leased from the Union Pacific company, east of the Farmers' and Merchants' elevator, and the work will begin this week. Arnold and Mike Abts will have the agency of the company.

At the fire of the Rightmire residence last Tuesday Harry Rightmire did noble work in saving furniture in their beautiful home. At one time he came near falling through the second story floor and burned his hands badly in catching the timbers. At the fire Saturday at their farm residence Harry went into the house while it was all in flames and got out several pieces of furniture and rolled out two kegs of powder.

Thomas Wentworth Higginson, one of the great literary men of this age, says of his mother that her whole formula of training of her children consisted in these three things: "To retain the entire confidence of the child; to do whatever seemed wisest and to be patient." No better sentiment or method could be suggested to every teacher of the land. You are not responsible for every childish fault, neither are the parents.

Last Sunday week A. J. Arnold, formerly of this city, now of National City, California, was accidentally injured in the knee by the discharge of a pistol. Friday, Dr. Harry Arnold of this place received a telegram telling him of his father's injury, and that there was nothing serious, but for him to come at once; and he left on Saturday afternoon for National City. Mr. Arnold's many old friends here will be sorry to hear of his injury, and will hope for his speedy recovery.

The large barn on the Markell farm near Blair was burned to the ground the other night, supposed to be the work of tramps who were sleeping in the hay now, as there is where the blaze started. There were burned up 4,000 bushels of onions and about 5,000 feet of pine lumber. It would have been cheaper for the owner, probably, to have invited the tramps into the house to supper, lodging and breakfast, but a better way still would be to so arrange matters that the tramp nuisance be reduced to the minimum.

B. C. Stanley of the Willow Springs (Missouri) Republican, was a caller on THE JOURNAL one day last week. He has been editing a republican newspaper several years in Howell county, in the southern tier of counties near the Arkansas line and says his city and county are now republican. The chief product there is fruit, one party this year having been offered and refused $10,000 for the product of 100 acres; it being estimated that they will realize $200 an acre for the apple crop of this year. Mr. Stanley was a former resident of Silver Creek, this state.

THE ELECTION.

Platte County Sovereigns Declare Their Will.

That is true, but the counting was so slowly done that the returns this (Wednesday) morning, are rather meager than usual. We give them briefly, as we have received them. Columbus will be found tabulated.

Table of election results for Platte County, listing candidates and their vote counts.

Columbus township gives majorities: Kilian 94, Graf 17, Carrig 33, Kavanagh 27, Ayers 131, Lisco 64, Wiggins 27, and George Meays town clerk by 10, Henry Engel treasurer, J. J. Galley justice 21, Banasch and Meays, constables, George W. Galley assessor, J. M. Curry district 1, Krzycki district 11, W. H. Randall district 23, road overseers, Lisco, Byrnes, Tannabill, judges, and G. W. Galley and W. J. Newman, clerks of election. On the state ticket the votes were for Judge: Mahoney 42, Maxwell 83, Norval 34, Phelps 22; for regents, Norval 34, independent 50, republican 14, 39, democrat 18, 33, prohibition 15. District judge, Ewing 55, Hollenbeck 70, Marshall 64, Patterson 31, Sullivan 124.

Bismark gives majorities as follows: Pohl 23, Kilian 48, Kavanagh 70.

Lost Creek gives majorities for Pohl 140, Kilian 180, Kavanagh 120, Carrig 100, Jewell 80.

Loup gives majorities as follows: Graf 49, Carrig 9, Kavanagh 50, Phelps 12, Rothleitner 33, Rovanter 55.

Butler gives majorities: Kilian 7, Graf 50, Elliott 29, Kavanagh 13, Phelps 17, Rothleitner 30, Rovanter 32.

From Humphrey there is word that Hale and Jewell have majorities of 147.

Monroe gives majorities: Kilian 100, Pohl 93, Elliott 18, Hale 13, Jewell 45, Brindley 92.

One o'clock Wednesday, the returns come rushing in, and we must go to press. The figures are not the official canvass (which may not be made until tomorrow), but they will probably answer the purpose.

Majorities in county: Kavanagh 345, Phelps 265, Rothleitner 367, Rovanter, about 250, Elliott 397.

The above all democrats. With only two of the citizens' ticket, viz: Kilian 197, Pohl 197.

It looks, as we go to press, as though Marshall and Patterson, republicans, carry the judicial district against the field.

The Rightmire Residence Burned. Tuesday night of last week at 9:30, the alarm of fire was sounded, the location being the Rightmire residence in the west part of the city. It was quite a while before the proper pressure was placed, but when it was the firemen soon had the flames under control, and a small portion of the house saved.

The house was built about five years ago, at a cost of $3,500. The improvements would probably bring the aggregate to nearly $11,000.

There was $9,000 insurance on house and furniture.

The cause of the fire is unknown.

Mr. Rightmire was at his farm, and Mrs. Rightmire and daughter were down town at the time, and Harry was at a neighbor's.

The firemen are certainly deserving of great praise for the promptness with which they responded to call, and for the very effective work done, so soon as the direct pressure was turned on. Their run alone, from headquarters was a good half mile, and their work was earnest and decisive. It is estimated that the few moments delay in putting on the pressure at the city waterworks cost the insurance companies about $400.

Since placing the foregoing in type, another fire, Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock, destroyed the house on Mr. Rightmire's farm (the John Miller property west of the city), loss $900, besides 400 bushels of potatoes, which were stored in the cellar, some of which probably, will be worth something. Nothing was saved of the contents of the building except young Rightmire's trunk, and there was no insurance whatever.

Mr. Rightmire and son were in the meadow at the time, fighting fire that had been caused by sparks from passing engines of a Union Pacific train—a double-header.

The old adage, "Misfortune never comes singly," seems to have an exemplification in this case, and all the acquaintances of the family will sincerely sympathize with them in their trouble.

Prof. Herbert Bartlett, an expert geologist who has been investigating the gold finds around Milford for several months past, has finally given in his report. He says, in short, that "there have been but two similar ones known, one the great middle field of Australia from which the owner cleared over $2,000,000 and the other in Honduras. Neither of these mines named was in point of value anything like this. I pronounce it of fabulous value." Prof. Bartlett has been connected with federal geological surveys in Colorado, and has had experience in gold mining in South Africa, Honduras and other noted fields. May be we could find gold in our Platte valley sand.

A telegram received Sunday evening from Tarnov requested the presence of the coroner to hold an inquest over a dead man, but when the officers got there in the night, they found that nothing had happened except an ordinary fight between two men, more or less intoxicated. The injured man's name is John Foreman, and he was brought to this city Tuesday and treated by Drs. Evans and Gear. He has a broken shoulder; jaw broke in three places, and a badly sprained back. He laid out all Sunday night. He is a married man, with wife and one child, and is about 26 years old. The name of his assailant is John Slowinski, and there is a warrant out for his arrest. We may add here that Coroner Heintz and Deputy Sheriff Gentleman didn't go further than Platte Center Sunday night.

Married at Oregon City, Oregon, Oct. 29, at 10 a. m., by Rev. Gilman Parker, Baptist minister, Mr. James Lamar and Miss Mabel Spinney, eldest daughter of Mrs. Alvin Levine, formerly of Columbus. The bride was tastefully attired in a dove-colored traveling suit, and looked as sweet and modest as the lovely rose, by which she was so profusely surrounded. The groom is one of Oregon City's enterprising and popular young men and is prominent in church work. After the congratulations of relatives and friends the bridal pair left on the noon train for a tour through the cities of Washington. Mr. and Mrs. Lamar will make their home in Oregon City after the third week in November. We unite our heartfelt wishes for the prosperity and welfare of this new home founded under such pleasing auspices.

The Swiss Ambassador. Last week we noticed very briefly, as space necessitated, the visit of Dr. J. Pioda, the Swiss ambassador. From one of his countrymen who was present at the reception, we get the following, somewhat in addition to the notice in last week's JOURNAL.

Mr. Pioda is a native of the canton Tessin, Switzerland, and is the very type of an Italian nobleman, highly educated, speaking, besides his native tongue, French, German and English, fluently and correctly. On his arrival here he was met by a number of Swissers and a committee of the Gruetli society, and taken in charge by Leopold Jaeggi, whose guest he was during his brief stay in the city. In the evening, a reception was given at the parsonage of the Reformed church by Gruetli society of our city, Rev. De Geller making the speech of welcome, in heartfelt words congratulating the ambassador for his public spirit in undertaking so lengthy a journey in behalf of the people whom he represents. After three cheers given for the distinguished guest, Dr. Pioda responded in an eloquent manner, stating that wherever he found countrymen of his, they had proved themselves not only true lovers of Switzerland but also good citizens of their adopted land, especially of the glorious United States of America. He compared, in language full of life and fire, the two sister republics, reminding his hearers that the two colors in common, red and white, the stars and the cross, both emblematic of human trial and destiny, heaven and earth: the blessing of the new country extend to those who honor sorrow and socially, as well as religiously. Reminding Switzer of the national love of liberty, he counselled them to stand by it here also, on this soil, under the protecting folds of the star-spangled banner, thus proving themselves the worthy descendants of worthy sires. His closing sentiment was the future welfare and prosperity of the United States and Switzerland, and his speech was received with hearty cheers.

The remainder of the evening was passed in conversation, and with renewed love for the distant Alpine land and for the present home, all retired, delighted with Switzerland's ambassador, as "the right man in the right place."

Thursday morning, Oct. 24, a trip was taken into the country, Rev. E. DeGeller, Mr. Bruggen and Leopold Jaeggi accompanying the ambassador. Several farms were visited in which the Doctor showed great interest, inquiring into particulars which would give him a just view of affairs local to this region of the country.

He expressed a favorable opinion with all he had seen and heard, and thinks after all that Platte county, Nebraska, is the place for new-comers or home-seekers, especially for those having limited means.

In the afternoon a reception was held at the church for all who desired to meet the ambassador, and to shake hands with him in American style. The address of welcome here was given by Rev. DeGeller, and a hearty response by the Doctor, who especially counselled the mothers present to teach their children love for America, and yet retain a warm place in their affections for the native land of their parents, thus becoming true Americans and still loving the land of their forefathers.

After addresses given, all joined in the Swiss national hymn, "Rufst du mein Vaterland," the Doctor proving a good singer.

The Swiss colony Gruetli of Platte county was represented by an address written by Rev. Brann, pastor of the community, and in his absence read by Rev. DeGeller, in which he stated facts from the date of emigration of the colony to the present time, for which much credit was due the ambassador.

Mr. H. T. Sperry and Ex-Mayor D. Schupbach followed with very appropriate remarks.

The church, for this occasion, was tastefully decorated with Swiss emblems, besides the national emblem "white cross on red field." The 22 cantons of the Swiss republic were placed in the order they entered the union.

At 7 p. m., a farewell was extended to the ambassador by friends who escorted him to the depot at time of departure.

No doubt the visit will long be remembered by the ambassador, and by all who had the pleasure of meeting him.

Thoroughbred Hogs. Experience has clearly demonstrated that no crop pays our Platte county farmers better than a good crop of hogs. Last year circumstances forced our people to pretty nearly dispose of all their stock hogs, and they will not be slow to take advantage of the opportunity to get some of the fine animals which will be offered for sale at Willard's barn on Thirteenth street on Thursday, November 14th.

It should be borne in mind that in the first place good blood always counts and yields the handsome profits, and that these hogs and pigs are of the celebrated Arcadia herd of large English Berkshires. There are none better. It will be convenient to have the herd right in our midst where our people can come and get just what they want without traveling expense.

Mr. L. A. Reynolds will arrive in Columbus Friday night with his herd of seventy-eight fine blooded hogs and pigs, and all who wish can see them at Willard's barn on Thirteenth street. The auction will take place Thursday, November 14th.

Platte Center Signal: L. J. Neimoller continues to take a swim in Shell Creek about twice a week, although the weather is somewhat cool. He says it is invigorating, and we guess it is, for though Mr. N. is a man over 60 years of age he is as spry as a man of 30 and he feels younger every day he goes older.
