SENATOR QUAY of Pennsylvania has announced himself as a sure-enough candidate for presidential honors. The favorite son theory will not work this year, but it seems to be about the only thing to do against McKipley.

A BILL has been introduced into the Ohio legislature, says the Cadiz Sentinel, to impose a fine of from $10 to $100 upon any one who is qualified to vote at any public election and who, being well and able to do so, omits to vote.

THE interest-bearing debt of the United States has been increased more than a quarter of a billion dollars since the accession of the democratic party to power in 1892, and we have another full year to go before the curtain will fall on that party's last official act. In the meantime another loan of $100,000,000 may be added to the present amount. During the administration of President Harrison the public debt was reduced as much as it has been increased during this one. |Fullerton News.

The silver men who had predicted a much greater showing of strength were disappointed. The "sound money" leaders had been disposed to concede the silver forces 100 votes. An analysis shows that 184 Republicans and $1 Democrats voted against concurrence and 58' Democrats. 25 Republicans and 7 Populists for concurrence. The debate which preceded the vote was of an interesting character, but devoid of any sensational features. The galleries as usual on a field day in the lower branch of congress were crowded to the doors, and quite a number of senators sat through the 5-hour debate. Secretary Herbert was also present. Ex-Speaker Crisp presented the closing argument for the silver men and was replied to by Mr. Turner, a Democratic colleague from Georgia, in a 2-hours' speech. The personal rivalry between the two leaders of the opposing factions of the Democratic side of the house added to the interest of the occasion. Mr. Dalzell (Pa.) closed in behalf of the Republicans. The partisans of the respective champions missed no opportunity to acclaim their approval when telling points were made and at the close the honors seemed even.

ANDREWS GETS AFTER MORTON. Promises the House That Present Secretar of Agriculture Will Be Supplanted. WASHINGTON, Feb. 18 .- The agricultural appropriation bill occupied the attention of the house Monday. A great deal of criticism of Secretary Morton was indulged in on both sides of the political aisle, but as on Saturday no one arose to his defense. At last Mr. Pearson (N. SITUATION IN FRANCE CRITICAL. Present Crisis May Lead to a Change

PARIS, Feb. 18 .- The political crisis which has arisen out of the demand of the senate for a vigorous and thorough inquiry into the Southern railway scandals, that body having emphasized its attitude in the matter by twice refusing a vote of confidence in the Bourgeois ministry, is now practically a struggle between the chamber of deputies, which has supported the Radical ministry, and the senate, which seems bent upon overthrowing it, even at the cost of most serious disturbance. Bat, it is claimed, the resignation of the ministry will not alter matters to any great degree, as it appears to be no longer a question of confidence or of nonconfidence in the cabinet. The chamber of deputies, it is asserted, has practically, by defying the senate, endangered the constitution, and the result is a condition of affairs about as threatening as any since the troublesome times of 1870-71. From the outside of the high building the first notice of impending disaster was the sight of a body of girls as they rushed out upon the fire escapes from the windows, those who were more fortunate crowding out the entrance. Following them was a mass of smoke, with flashes of hot flame in lurid streaks. Then the mass of frenried humanity finding the egresses too small for instant escape, began climbing over the sides of the escapes and bundles of clothing filled with writhing humanity dropped at the feet of horrified passersby. CONGRESSMAN DOLLIVER of Iowa tells the following, which aptly illustrates a condition of the present time: "Not long ago I was in the city of Plainfield. N. J., a city of 10,000 inhabitants and rapidly becoming a fashionable suburb of New York. I strolled into a barber shop. I always like to talk to the barber. He knows everything and has a cheerful way of letting go of it. So I asked him how things were coming on in Plainfield. He said things were bad enough in Plainfield. I asked him what was the matter with Plainfield. 'Well,' said he, 'these New York roosters don't help a town much.' I asked him what he meant. "Why,' said he, 'I mean those fellows doing business in the city of New York. They buy what they need and get shaved before they start home, and just roost in Plainfield.'
