The greatest of all comic operas!

Under the management of the Columbus

Militia Co.

An elegant organ cheap, to make room. E. G. Fitzpatrick.

REMEMBER! E. T. Bowers, veterinary surgeon, will be in Columbus the first week of each month, to answer calls. If

Wilhelm Roth, carpenter and builder, corner of I and Eighth streets, is ready at all times to talk business or do work, as necessary call. 3m

Cards have been received here announcing the marriage June 2d, of Ed.

M. Cox and Miss Lillian Gore both of Omaha. Miss Gore has many friends here who wish her well.

G. W. Schilling, one-armed athlete,

28 years old, footing it from Pittsburg to San Francisco and back on water to cover the distance of 7,000 in 10 months, was in the city Friday. He is quite a stepper.

Nebraska people, at least in this portion of the great state are learning that it is not difficult to get up a rain almost any time this year. Even the northwest portions of the state are now receiving rain.

Victims of Madison, Fowler of North Bend, Moller of Platt, Cheney of Kelly of Fremont, Sprecher of Schuyler and Wells of Central City were among the number of newspaper men here at the silver conference Monday.

St. Francis Academy, this city, holds commencement exercises next Monday, June 23. A splendid program has been prepared. Graduating honors are to be bestowed upon Misses M.

English, H. Neile and R. McKivitt.

R. W. Burrill will have charge of the work promptly done, as agreed upon.

THE JOURNAL editor is in receipt of an invitation to attend the celebration of the Twenty-fifth anniversary of the founding of the Omaha Bee, June 19th.

A quarter of a century, perhaps not exceeded by any other known to the history of mortal men, for the advancement of the race in every direction in which the Bee has been a very important factor for its locality.

The increased demand for window glass the last two weeks brings out the fact that there are factories with 215 capacity in operation at St. Joseph,

Wilmington, Del., Norristown, Pa.,

Dunkirk, Alexandria and Pendleton, Ind., and Ithaca, N. Y., and that the independent factories have been encouraged by the unexpected demand. It is, indeed, "an ill wind that blows nobody good.

The Boston Comic Opera Co. is a guarantee attraction by its militia boys.

It is worth the money and everybody ought to patronize it. Don't forget the date, Monday,

June 22, 1896. Reserved seats

We were afraid that Mr. and Mrs.

Fred Gerber would find trouble going home Saturday week with their new high. One of their team was young and inexperienced, got down into the water, scrambled around, interfered with the other and was tramped on, but there was helpers near by and the horse got out of the water. The young horse, however, died the same night, having got water into his lungs.

A sad accident, resulting fatally, happened to Miss Martha Brunhoefer in Omaha last Saturday. She was on her porch twelve feet high, which fell with her, injuring her so that she was unconsionally shortly before death, which took place Sunday. The parents were day.

W. O. Anderson is off for Chicago for a week.

Banker Wolf of Creston was in town

Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Backus arrived in the city last week.

Misses Minnie and Ida Meagher have been visiting in Omaha.

Miss Ada Bloedorn of Platte Center, is visiting relative here.

H. G. Cross and daughter, Miss Lucy visiting in Leigh last week.

Miss Nellie Schomlau of Omaha is visiting with her home people.

Jessie Becher is home from the state university to spend the summer.

Walter Galley is making a two weeks visit with his uncle at Oregon.

Snpt. Williams left for Denver, Monday evening, to spend a short time.

Fred. Hess returned to Omaha Sunday after a visit with his parents at Duncan.

Mrs. Ernest Stenger and young child of Omaha are here visiting Mrs. Brugger.

city last week, on his way to Franklin to visit home folks.

Mrs. J. A. Kramse and children re-

DIED.

HARRY—June 12, of paralysis, after an illness of four months, at the residence of his daughter, Mrs. C. J. Carrig, John Haney.

Mr. Haney was born in Ireland in 1834.

When he came to this country, he settled in Pennsylvania. In 1857 he came to Nebraska, locating on the farm, four miles east of Columbus, which was afterwards his home during all these years.

For some time there were only two houses between his own and Fremont.

A few years ago, in the month of June,

Mrs. Haney died, and Mr. Haney never recovered from the irremovable loss of his life companion. Some three or four half years ago, his horse ran away, throwing him to the ground, injuring him so severely that he never gained health and strength.

The funeral was held Sunday, a large concourse of people following the remains to the Catholic church, where services were held, and so on to the cemetery near by, the pall bearers being Patrick Murray, Patrick Murphy, Denis Sullivan, Michael Doherty, John

Locke and John Mackay.

John Haney was a large-hearted man of generous impulses, devoted to his family and friends, and his departure will be missed by all who were acquainted with him.
