P. H. Bender and E. Pohl have, by their attorneys, McAllister & Cornelius, and Woosley & Stires, instituted contest proceedings contesting the election of J. C. Byrnes as eheriff, and G. W. Phil-

Judge Kilian has not filed any papers, in contest, and the time-limit for doing

The main points in the complaints allege that the contestants were really elected, and that there were numerous discrepancies in the different townships and wards of the county, making, if duly proved, change enough in the count to change the result as given by a canvass of the returns.

In a contest, it is understood, of course, by our readers, that the ballots themselves are inspected, being the oundation fact of the returns

But, back of the ballots, and the aleged wrongful counting of them for one andidate or the other, is the allegation of fraud in securing the deposit of the ballots, in other words, the "buying of voters;" the "bribing of voters;" the "undue influencing of voters," etc., and this is really the important part of the whole matter.

Everybody who knows anything at all bout electioneering campaigns knows full well that there is scarcely ever a canvass conducted on purely patriotic lines, and it is high time that at least the more flagrant outrages against government by the free will of the people, be recognized as deadly attacks on our free institutions, and the perpetrators be put upon the same plane as those who poison food or drinking water, no matter to what party they may belong.

The idea that skillful, unscrupulous, party manipulators for the spoils of office only, should be permitted, unchallenged, to manipulate and corrupt, or unlawfully influence the two or three hundred voters who usually constitute up from Lincoln to spend Thanksgiving the balance of power in Nebraska counties, is repugnant to every sense of right and decency. We do not for a moment think that Platte county is an exception to any general rule. People here are a good verage, to say the least. But, until the recent publication of the findings of the canvassing board, the general public had no notion that there was such a multitude of irregularities in the conduct of the election in Platte county.

The right to contest is given by ou laws, and only those who are likely to have their meanness or their criminality to oppose the contest proceedings against Byrnes and Phillips, and takes occasion to abuse the attorneys in the case for the contestants.

They are all reputable men, and doubtless what the man who writes such trash for the Argus has to say of them while in the clear line of duty as attorneys, will fall as harmless upon them as water on a duck's back.

The contests, if conducted to cover al the frauds there may be found, as well as to right the honest mistakes made in the count, will be worth all it will cost the contestants and others, and more than all that to the future well-being of the county.
