Hox. A. E. Capy of St. Paul is again mentioned as a candidate for governor by the republicans. He would make a good one, if elected, and would come as near deserving election as any man in the state.

THE chief editorial writer of the New York Journal, Arthur McEwan, comes out in a signed article in that paper strongly criticising William J. Bryan as clinging too closely to the idea of 16 to 1 to suit progressive democrats. The substance of the criticism is: "Bimetallism, by all means. It is the money of the constitution, and therefore democratic, but why a ratio of 16 to 1 or death? What decre of heaven has given that ratio a sacredness beyond all other possible ratios?" SENATOR ALLEN'S closing paragraph of his recent speech in the United States senate (a copy of which he has kindly sent us) is on the financial policy of the government. He commends to his readers the words of the great Irish patriot, which are so sound that we reproduce them: "It is the common fate of the indolent to see their rights become a prey to the active. The condition upon which God hath given liberty to man is eternal vigilance; which condition if he break, servitude is at once the consequence of his crime and the punishment of his guilt."

Mason of the house of representatives has appointed the committee to investigate the alleged attempt to bribe Representative Otis of Hamilton county to vote for Marcus A. Hanna for senator. the Negotiations of the Bimetallic Commission With European Countries Secretary Wilson Purnishes a Statemen Concerning Production of Sugar.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18 .- Features of Monday's proceedings in the senate were the speech delivered by Senator Wolcott of Colorado, chairman of the bimetallic commission, upon the negotiations of the commission with European countries relative to international bimetallism and the passage of the Lodge bill restricting immigration into the United States. The proceedings were the most interesting and important that have characterized any single day's work of the senate during the present session. In anticipation of them the galleries were crowded at an ministered the oath. At the conclusion of the morning's business Mr. Wolcott at 12:15 was recognized to begin his address. He was in fine voice and commanded the earnest attention of his auditors. At the conclusion of the speech Mr. Wolcott was instantly surrounded by his Republican friends desirous of tendering him

Wolcott's Speech Mr. Wolcott enumerated the obstacles with which the commission had to contend, in which he included the remarkable drop in the price of silver, the coincident tariff legislation in the United States and the statements of New York bankers in England, who, he said, sought access to the English officials and assured them that any senticandidates for fusion governor. If har- ment which had formerly existed in the the bankers, according to Mr. Wolcott, were the following: That the mission was sent solely as a sop to a few far men in Ohio to defeat the McKinley ad- western Republicans; that the country ministration, Mark Hanna came out generally favored the gold standard, and that the president of the United States shared this view.

"The statements were," Mr. Wolcott said, "of course untrue, but in support of them these people assumed to present interviews and statements of the director of the mint, a hold-over from the last administration, the late comptroller of the currency, an equally precious legacy, now out of the public service, and translated to a Chicago bank, and pretended statements in letters and interviews from the secretary of the treasury to the effect that there was no chance for international or other bimetallism, and favoring the permanent adoption of the gold standard. Nobody in Europe cared a rap what the the treasury were a different matter. We insisted that the letters must be for-I trust they were, for it was inconceiv- He asserted that we were woefully unable that a member of the cabinet would seek to undermine the efforts of a mission appointed by the president, and whose efforts he was cordially and zealously seconding."

Mr. Wolcott summarized the present situation by saying that it is apparent count on any co-operation from Great sideration of the army appropriation Britain towards a bimetallic agreement. and that while France actively desires to see silver restored to its old position as a standard of value equally with gold, she insists that the problem is one which demands international action. and the co-operation, to some adequate extent, of other leading commercial nations of the world.

Here Mr. Wolcott announced his in tention to retire from the commission. He said: "It is my sincere conviction that an international bimetallic agreement is still feasible, by the terms of which certain countries will join us and open their mints to the unlimited coinage of silver, and others will contribute to the plan an enlarged use of that metal as money; and I say this the matter has been omitted from the re- Paris Anarchists Break Up a more freely because I shall give way ports. upon the commission to somebody more fitted for such negotiations and better able to give them his constant time." Rap at Secretary Gage.

At this point he referred to the attitude of Secretary Gage on the financial question, contrasting it with the president's position, his words on this point being as follows: "When congress convened on the 7th of last month the president, in his references to the subject of international bimetallism, spoke earnestly and anxiously of his desire to see an international bimetallic agreement consummated. His assurances gave renewed hope to bimetallists all over the country, and seemed final and conclusive answer to those who had claimed the president was not in earnest in his efforts towards international est in his efforts towards international bimetallism. For myself, I needed no BIG BATTLE FOR WAGES such proof. I had again and again been made to know how genuine was the president's devotion to this settlement of the vexed question. As he sat down there was a burst of applause throughout the chamber, and for several minutes he was surrounded by his colleagues, who desired to tender their congratulations.

Vote on Immigration Bill.
At the conclusion of Mr. Wolcott's speech the immigration bill was taken up and discussed until 3 o'clock, the hour at which, by previous agreement, it had been arranged to vote finally upon the amendments and the bill. An amendment offered by Spooner (Wis.) providing that the ability on the part of the immigrant either to read or to write should be accepted as sufficient test of his literacy, was adopted by a vote of yeas, 42; navs, 22.

Another amendment by Mr. Spooner providing that the members of the family accompanying an immigrant re jected under the conditions of the bill should be returned to the country whence they came by the steamship companies, was adopted. Other attempts to amend the measure were made, but failed. The bill passed by a vote of yeas, 45; nays, 38. The bill as passed provides that al immigrants physically capable and over Foraker (O.) presented Mr. Hanna's 16 years of age, shall be able to read and write the Euglish or some other lauguage; but a person not able to read or write, and is over 50 years of age and is the parent or grand-parent of a qualified immigrant over 21 years of age and capable of supporting such parent or grand-parent, may accompany the immigrant, or the parent or grand-parent may be sent for and come to join the family of a child or grand-child over 21 years of age qualified under the law; and wife or minor children not able to read or write may accompany or be sent for and come to join the husband or parent who is qualified. The act does not apply to person coming from the island of Cuba during the continuence of the present disorders there, who have heretofore been inhabitants of that island.

Wilson on Sugar Production. WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—Replying to a resolution of inquiry, Secretary Wilson sent to the senate a statement concerning the production of sugar in this country and his opinion of the effect the importation of Hawaiian sugar upon the production beet sugar in the United States. He gave the average importation of sugar to this country for the past seven years as $101,575,293 worth. of which the Hawaiian importation was $9.973.924. He coucludes that Hawaii will not seriously compete with sugar producers in the United States and says that "When the people of those islands come to consider the possibilities of coffee production it will be found that they have a monopoly with which no state in the Union can interfere." Mr. Wilson also expresses the opinion that Hawaii would be a very profitable acquisition because of its
