We have learned one thing since the Maine was destroyed, and that is that we have some good, clear, cool-headed men among our officers. Gen. Congress is discussing means of revising the revenue tax in order to raise money to carry on the war, which now seems inevitable. The revenue on beer will be doubled-$2 instead of $1 per barrel; a revenue stamp will be affixed to all mortgages, deeds, releases, etc. the revenue on tobacco will be largely increased, and all patent medicines and nostrums will be taxed. Bank checks and drafts will also bear a revenue stamp, and things will look much like they did in 1865.

THE New York Life Insurance Co. has offered the government a loan of $10, 000,000 on such terms as the government may think just. The disbelieving of the old world may learn that "a government of the people," has not yet nor is not likely for a while to perish from the earth. It seems as though Uncle Sam may have tendered him all the funds he will need; now if the congressmen will give us a good postal savings bank law, we will have an excellent working principle for all time.

BRADLEY, the great cartoonist on the Inter Ocean, hits the nail on the head every time. In "It takes three to make a bargain" he touches a phase of the Cuban question. Spain is represented by a man as delaring an armistice: Maine is a strong man with a sword across Spain's throat: Insurgent, another man with a sword across the treacherous throat. So far as fight with this country is concerned, it will be found that the United States, through it all, will be mindful of the Maine, and will be anxious to whip Spain on general principles.

THE U.S. senators and representative from Nebraska at the seat of govern ment are all in favor of war against Spain. Senator Allen's reasons are riefly a fair statement of the general view, that war is justifiable on four grounds, first, that of humanity; second because of the blowing up of the Maine: third, because of the wilful murder and unlawful imprisonment of American citizens in Cuba and the constant confiscation of their property; fourth, because the presence of the Spanish government in the island of Cuba is a steady menace to the welfare and social order of the western hemisphere.

AT Malaga, Spain, Friday rioters smashed in the windows at the American consulate, damaging some of the furniture. The American escutcheon was thrown to the ground amid "vivas" to Spain, to the army and navy, and "death to the United States, and death to the pig yankees." Several groups carried with them banners upon which had been printed representations of the pig, now treated in Spain as the emblem of America, and as synonymous with Americans. About as good as could be expected under the circumstances from a nation whose "usual Sunday bull fight absorbed the populace, overshadowing the action of the United States senate as

POPULAR LOAN THROUGH POS-TAL SAVINGS BANKS

When Postmaster General Gary prethe money deposited with the governcountry shall drift into war.

In case of war with Spain the country must raise the sinews of war by borrowing several hundred million dollars. An issue of short-time bonds or treasury notes bearing from 2 to 3 per cent inversal approval of the people of terest has been suggested as the most feasible plan for meeting the emergency. Such an issue of bonds in denominations of $50 and upward would, according to professional financiers, constitute popular loan of which at least $500,000. 000 could be easily floated.

A much more popular and more feasi ble way of raising a war loan would be not be a candidate for governor a third through the establishment of a postal savings bank system. Experience ha demonstrated that an issue of bonds scattered among the people sconer later finds its way into the bank vaults and in due time is converted into big blocks in the hands of the millionaire coupon clippers. A popular loan through postal savings banks would remain in the hands of the common people and would constitute an invaluable adjunct to our money circulation whenever there might be a scarcity of currency. A postal savings bank certificate would always be as good as a national banknote. The greatest value of postal savings banks to the people is their absolute safety. They are, moreover, a stimulus to thrift and patriotism. The wage workers who constitute the vast majority of savings bank depositors become the creditors of the nation and their personal interest in the stability of the government will impel them to up-

HISTORIC SESSION OF SENATE. Senators Fight to Last Minute For Recog

WASHINGTON, April 19.—The tocsis of war has been sounded by the American congress. At 1:15 o'clock this morning the senate received the report of the conference committee of the two branches of congress and 12 minutes afterward had adopted it. There was a fight to the last minute, however, the advocates of recognition of the independence of the island standing together until they were fairly knocked down by a vote of 42 to 35. The minority vote was cast by those who wanted radical action and insisted that the resolution should carry with it recognition of the independence of the Cuban

The adoption of the conference report brought to a close one of the most interesting and tumultuous sessions of the senate held in years. Such scenes of confusion and excitement have rarely been witnessed in the ordinarily staid and dignified body as characterized its proceedings from noon vesterday until nearly 2 o'clock in the morning.

One Overwhelming Question. Interest in all other questions was depositories and borrowing the war the utmost diffidence that senators perfeeling of bitterness grew up between If the postal savings bank has any the senate and the house during the Cooler counsels prevailed, however, and a determination of the momentons question was finally reached.

Those who were fighting for recognition of the island republic early decided that the senate should not take the initiative in requesting a conference between the two houses. They farther resolved that when the senate conferees were finally appointed at least two of them should represent the majority sentiment of the body. The radical advocates of independence slowly, but none the less surely, lost ground, however, being swept back by the powerful and compact minority opposed to them. They yielded only after one of the bitterest contests in the history of the senate. They capitulated, but did not surrender.

The scene in the senate even up to the minute of adjournment was one of wonderful beauty and impressiveness. Many women were in the corridors. On the floor were the makers of the country's history awaiting the verdict from the conference committee. When finally it came there was a hush in the great chamber, which a few seconds before had been thrilling with animation. A verdict had been returned and accepted by the senate, the great audience dispersed quietly, almost solemnly. All realized that the verdict meant war After one of the hardest fought battles and the action taken was too momentous to inspire anything less than awe.

Force Senate to Yield.

WASHINGTON, April 19.—The house after one of the hardest and most desperate fights in its history succeeded in forcing the senate to yield the main contention in the war resolution, the independence of the existing government in Cuba. With that exception the house accepted the senate resolutions. The Republicans who joined the Democrats to concur in the senate amendments entire rallied 14 votes at one time and on every vote thereafter the vote dwindled. When the final vote was taken shortly before 3 a. m. 310 votes were cast for the declaration cast against it. They included five Republicans and one Democrat. Efforts to Secure Warships Abandoned.

Reports are being sedulously circul ated here that General Gomez and Garcia are being reached upon the basis indicated. How Spain grasps at straws may be illustrated by the fact that she pretends to expect aid from Mexico. Upon this point the plea put forward in nilitary clubs and Spanish journalistic circles is that, as Texas was taken from Mexico by the United States, the latter is the common enemy of the countries ruled by President Diaz and the oneen

In addition to gaining time the Span ish energies are being directed toward winning the sympathy of the powers, toward getting Central and American republics upon the side of Spain; toward solidifying the Latin race against those whom they disdainfully call Yankees.

The hope is also cheris Led that should Spain be able to hold her own for a few months against the United States, the Washington government to bring hostilities to a close in a manner not unfavorable to Spain.
