WASHINGTON, July 12.—General Nelson A. Miles, commanding the United States army, arrived off Santiago bay shortly after noon yesterday. On the arrival of the auxiliary cruiser Yale, on which General Miles was a passenger, communication was opened with Admiral Sampson and the two commanders were soon in confidence.

During the early afternoon General Miles landed at Playa del Este and communicated with General Shafter, com-

Yale Makes a Fast Run.

The notably fast run made by the cruiser Yale from Charleston to Santiago is particularly pleasing to the naval officials. She left Charleston Saturday morning at 2 o'clock, making the run in a trifle less than two days and a half. She had on board the Sixth Massachusetts, one of the regiments of General Garretson's brigade.

Most of the houses are one-story The Columbia, which left Charleston practically simultaneously with the Yale, carried one battalion of the Sixth Illinois, also a part of Garretson's brigwriting the Columbia has not arrived is quiet. The harbor of Nipe embraces sixty-five off Santiago.

> The arrival of General Miles and the conference between him and the commanding officers of the army and navy is taken by some to indicate that if fighting occurred today it was not of a perious character, for with a heavy engagement in progress it would hardly be possible that Admiral Sampson or General Shafter would find time for conference. It is thought that possibly suspension of active operations in order that the entire situation might be dissussed. But this view of the situation is speculation and without definite advices no one can sav exactly what the day has brought forth at Santiago. Officials contend that a delay of a day or two can only result in bettering the position of the American forces, give opportunity for the reinforcements to go to the front and allow the newly arrived artillery to be placed in advantageous locations. It is believed that a

Endeavor Convention Closes. NASHVILLE, Tenn., July 12.-The closing session of the 17th international Christian Endeavor convention was held here last night and already many delegates were homeward bound, while others left today for Chickamauga. OFF SANTIAGO DE CUBA (via Plava del Este), July 11 .- At 9:30 this morning after several range finding shots over the ridge protecting Santiago from the sea the Newark opened fire into the city with her eight-inch guns. The signal corps officers stationed on top of the ridge reported the effect of the shots. The New York, Brooklyn and Indiana participated in the firing at intervals of five minutes. The bombardment lasted for two hours, when General Shafter reported that the shells were mostly falling in the bay, doing little damage. The last shot struck a prominent church in the heart of the city, which was heavily stored with powder and ammunition, causing a great explosion.

The extent of the damage is not yet known. When the ships had ceased and before Shafter had began a land attack, a flag of truce was seen coming from the city. The object of this was not known at noon. At 2 o'clock the United State auxiliary cruiser Yale, with General Miles and the United States protected cruiser Columbia arrived. Rear Admiral Sampson visited General Miles immediately on his arrival and then the Yale went to Siboney, Way. (Copyright 1998 by Associated Press.) HEADQUARTERS OF GENERAL SHAFTER. July 10 .- (via Port Antonio and Kings on, Jamaica), July 12.—From 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon until dark the American guns have again been pouring deadly fire into the Spanish lines.

Our men are greatly refreshed by their three days' rest and have been fighting with lionlike spirit. The knowledge of the arrival of reinforcements gives them new enthusiasm.

The artillery is in place and doing effective work. The fire from the Spaniards in the trenches is very weak. The city of Santiago is almost in darkness and our men believe that the resistance of the Spaniards is about at an end. They expect a general assault rendered by daybreak. The Americans are much better fortified in the trenches.

Final Struggle Is On. WASHINGTON, July 12.—Secretary long, Admiral Sicard, Captain Mahan and Cantain Crowinshield of the naval war board held a conference with the president at the White House at noon. On leaving the conference at 1 o'clock Secretary Long said that nothing had been received indicating that a decisive engagement was on at Santiago. In answer to an inquiry the secretary said that he expected to get news of the fall of Santiago at any hour. The indications are that all truces are off and that the final struggle may even now be on.

The officials here do not conceal their apprehension that the enemy may escape from Santiago under cover of darkness. and are consequently relieved each day when the dispatches from the front show that they still occupy the town. The president himself was so much concerned over the possible escape of the Spanish force that he directed the sending of explicit orders to General Shafter to prevent it at all hazards.

Several telegrams were received at the navy department over night from Admiral Sampson. It is said that they did not relate to the attack on Santiago. but touched the organization of Watson's expedition and the movement of certain transports which had been the object of inquiry. General Shafter's available force to day, after counting all reinforcements and deducting the dead, sick and wounded, is 22,850 fighting men, according to military estimates.

Senor Sagasta went to the palace today and tendered his resignation and that of the cabinet. It is said that he advised the queen regent to appoint new cabinet, largely consisting of the military element, which would not nec essarily mean the adoption of a warlike policy, but probably the reverse.

It is generally expected that the resignation will be accepted, but the result may possibly be a partial reconstruction of the cabinet. The ministers are now in council and Senor Sagasta has doubtless given them an account of his audience with the queen regent. The cabinet resigned in consequence of irreconcilable differences of opinion on the question of initiating peace negotiations.

FRANK CLEMENTS, married, with several FRANK HANRY, married, aged 29. The tunnel is an immense affair, being built to extend outward from the shore for a distance of four and a half miles, attended with great difficulty. About six weeks ago there was an explosion of gas in the shore end of the big hole. which killed eight men and injured a number of others. Soon afterward a big pocket of quicksand was struck and was stopped for some time. The contractors then asked for permission to the route fixed by the city engineers, but it was refused. Work was finally resumed and had progressed uneventfully until last evening, when the latest and most horrible accident came. The nly man in the tunnel who escaped is Con O'Donnell, a lock tender, who was heard the explosion or series of explogions. He save there were 10 of these shocks and the concussion was something terrible, for it threw him off his feet and for hours he was in such a dased condition that he could scarcely remember what had happened. He finally groped his way out and told what had occurred.

Rescuers Forced Back. Two men, Patrick Vonseer and Martin McCauley, were the first to venture in the tunnel after the accident occurred. They made their way to a lock 5,000 feet from the shore, but were overcome by the gas and fell to the floor. When they failed to return, a young man named James Clements, son of one of the men killed, and who was employed as a mule driver, went to their rescue. He found them almost unconscious lying over a mule cart, and succeeded in helping them to the well at the shore end of the tunnel. The would-be rescuers say all the lights were out beyond the 5,000 feet lock and they could not go any further. A second rescuing party was made up of Patrick Gayton, Mike McCauley, Dan Rogers, Barney Hughes and Ed Corbett. It failed utterly in accomplishing anything, as the tunnel was filled with foul gas and smoke.
