AT Avoca. Iowa, there was a severe twister Sunday evening which demolished two houses in the outskirts of the states.—Seward Blade.

CHARLES A. HANNA, a former citizen of Lincoln, Nebr., for the last two years cashier in the Chicago post-office, has resigned his position there to accept an appointment in the Treasury department in Washington city.

WE are not crediting the reports that American soldiers in the Philippines were ordered to "take no prisoners." The fighting is quite a bit different from what it used to be. In one of the late engagements the First Nebraska, it is said, "reserved its fire," until the 3,000 Filipinos were charging them, and then they put them to rout in no time. But when the enemy charged they were 2,000 yards away-more than a mile and an eighth, and it is not very much wonder that many prisoners are not taken under such circumstances. A man strong enough to march and carry a gun, would naturally make a pretty good sprint if he had 2,000 yards the start of the man who was after him.

Ir has for a long time seemed to us that there was something wrong in the ment station. The Nebraska Farmer of April 27, in a lengthy editorial speaks of this matter at length, closing thus: "The plain unvarnished fact is this: The Nebraska Experiment Station is robbed to pay salaries for professors in the Nebraska State University, in direct violation of the United States law creating the fund: and the Nebraska School of Agriculture, with the exception of the winter short course in agriculture, is a false pretense for getting 224.000 of United States funds for the University. Both the Experiment Station and the School of Agriculture are dowered by the United States governwe cannot but ask. There is one thing sure, there will be trouble until the supremacy of law is acknowledged and enforced.

Those who are good enough to a knowledge the supremacy of the law, will be wise enough to obey it voluntarily, but they are not always disposed to enforce the law upon those who would violate it. This is always the disagreeable part, but everywhere very necessary thing to do. Government is not always, by any means, with the consent of the governed.

It seemed as though we couldn't cheer enough for the sentiments they expressed. We passed the wreck of the Maine and every head was bared. Then we came abreast of the Hospital Ship Missouri, which saluted us as did the Burnside a minute later. The decks of the Missouri were crowded with sick men in paiamas, but how they did cheer, and I dare say they never wished more strongly for anything than that they were with us.
