—Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Graves of this city received information in a recent letter from their son George, who has a position in the government printing office in Washington, D. C., that his wife had presented him with a bouncing twin girl, and he is now the happiest man on earth.
—Sunday, February 18, at Wm. Hoefelman's the forty-seventh birthday anniversary of Mrs. Hoefelman was celebrated, the Meridian Silver Cornet Band being present to discourse some choice selections, and all having a good time. E. Pohl of this city, was their efficient instructor about a year ago.
—Mr. and Mrs. F. Seefeld were in the city Friday, and gave THE JOURNAL a pleasant call. Mr. Seefeld had a letter recently from Henry Cramer of South Boston, Va., who spoke of a runaway, which had recently happened him, the team in their plunge, throwing him from a load of wood and putting an arm out for work.
—Mr. and Mrs. I. DeGraw of the vicinity of Cedar Rapids, Boone county, were in the city Friday, homeward bound from a ten weeks' sojourn in Michigan, among old friends of the family, among these being Mrs. DeGraw's mother, aged 80 years. The snow, about a foot deep there on the level, made the trains late. Mr. DeGraw believes in Nebraska.
—John R. Kennedy and family of Burr county, this state, cousins of the Turner family, passed through Columbus Tuesday evening of last week on their way to Canon City, Colo., whither they go to find relief in that climate for members of the family who are badly afflicted with that dread disease, eczema. They expect to remain at least one year.
—The Lincoln Journal of Friday contained the following paragraph in regard to a former citizen of Columbus: "G. H. Harding, a former Nebraska printer whom Fullerton and Columbus papers reported dead some months ago, writes from the northern coast of the Gulf of Mexico that he never felt better in his life. He thinks he knows how it feels now to be buried alive."
—J. E. Evans of North Platte, department commander, G. A. E., for Nebraska, has signified his intention to be present at the dedication exercises, March 15, writing to Capt. Miser, adjutant of the Post, that he has ordered his adjutant to say to each member of his staff that he would be pleased to see them present also. A letter from Gov. Poynter has also been received stating his intention to be present.
—Mrs. C. D. Evans lost a pocket book Saturday last containing valuables. It was found and promptly returned by Nelson R. McAllister, who was duly rewarded. It is in just such matters as this that the truest justice is manifested—doing the right because it is right. It is from the ranks of youth who are steadfastly upright and industrious that the ranks of the world's great and good men and women come into the useful lives which they lead.
—The household inquiry department of "Table Talk" answers all questions that perplex the worried housewife. This department is worked up entirely of questions asked by the subscribers and answered by the editor. "Table Talk" is just what every housekeeper needs every day. It teaches exhaustively the art of good cooking, of wise and economical living. Our readers can obtain a specimen copy of this helpful magazine by addressing the Table Talk Publishing Co., Philadelphia, Pa.
—During their stay here last week the Hawkins-Roberts company gave drawings on several evenings which resulted as follows: On Thursday evening Mrs. A. L. Butler held the number that drew the water set; Friday night Denny Sullivan drew the hanging lamp; at the Saturday afternoon matinee Miss Emily Ragatz held the number that gave her the five dollar gold piece, and Saturday night Jimmy O'Brien's number drew the dinner set of dishes of 100 pieces. The drawing was conducted in a fair manner and created considerable interest.

—Nothing Like Chickens.
A lot of those nice Plymouth Rock chickens for sale by H. F. COOLIDGE.
—Are you sick? If so, investigate the merits of HERBINE. It is a concentrated medicine, the dose is small, yet it quickly produces the most gratifying results, digestion improves, the lips and cheeks lose their pallor, the eye becomes bright and the step elastic. Price, 50 cents. A. Heints and Pollock & Co.
—For all pulmonary troubles BALLARD'S HORSEHOOD SYRUP, taken in the early stages, proves a certain and sure specific. It is equally effective in croup and whooping cough, and if used in season prevents the further development of consumption. Price 25 and 50 cents. A. Heints and Pollock & Co.
—Lewis R. Richardson returned Sunday from his trip to Mexico. As he anticipated he can furnish some interesting stories of that country. He says it was so rough in places that they had to tie themselves to trees to keep from rolling down the mountain side when sleeping at night. He and his brother, Davis, traveled 600 miles inland over some of the roughest country he ever saw. The people there are about 1,000 years behind the times in their ways of living and doing business.—Clarke Enterprises.
—Birby of the Lincoln Journal seems to hold a grudge against Columbus, perhaps because that here he endeavored to edit a republican paper for a while, and then a populist paper for another while, and finally quit in disgust. He and his partner, Mr. Saunders, would do well to "nurse their wrath to keep it warm," strike a gold mine, and come back here, right here to Columbus with her five-six flourishing papers, and make things hum as never before. The truth is that Birby was treated very kindly by Columbus people.
—The family of Lee Newell, living on P. E. Slaughter's farm northwest of Genoa about four miles, are sorely afflicted. Mrs. Newell and three children have all been sick, the children with the scarlet fever. Their oldest daughter, Scott, twelve years old, died the first of the week, and at last report it was feared that another of the children could not live. Mr. and Mrs. Newell have the heartfelt sympathy of the entire community in their affliction and their prayers that the Grim Reaper should not further afflict them.—Genoa Leader.
—From the Madera (California) Tribune we learn additional particulars concerning Rev. Z. C. Bush, whose death has already been recorded in THE JOURNAL. He had been in ill health for about a year past and the last week or two had failed quite rapidly, so much so that he had expressed the belief that he would not last long. He went to Madera in 1891, and founded the Baptist church there. He accepted a call from the Baptist church at Albion, Nebraska, his old home, about two years since, but his health failing, he returned to California, but did not again enter the ministry. He was a native of Pennsylvania, aged 66 years and 2 months, and leaves a wife and four sons.
—The American soldier in the Philippines, a notable article—at once an appreciation and a vivid, stirring picture of our boys in the field—has been written exclusively for the Saturday Evening Post, of Philadelphia, by Senator Albert J. Beveridge. Senator Beveridge writes as forcefully and as brilliantly as he speaks. A keen observer, with the faculty of grasping the thing of vital and human interest, what he has to say will interest every American. This great article, the first and only one that Senator Beveridge has written for any magazine or periodical since his return from the Philippines, appears exclusively in the March 17th number of the Saturday Evening Post.
—The First Congregational church was the scene of the most brilliant event of the fall season last night. Clara Vaughan Wales gave an evening with the short-story writers of the day. She scored a marked success in this, her debut, into professional ranks, and her future as a dramatic reader has highest augury of success. A large number of society people composed the audience.—Chicago Evening Journal, Nov. 23, '95. Miss Ketchum, the soprano soloist of the concert company, is a gifted artist with a voice of rare sweetness and purity. Prof. Bass, the solo violinist, is one of the great musicians at the head of his profession. This company will appear in the Presbyterian church, Wednesday March 7th. Do not fail to hear them.
—Not a very large amount of all the sums subscribed towards the erection of the soldiers' monument remains unpaid, and the committee are very anxious to close the matter. We learn that after the 15th, suit will be brought against such as are then still delinquent. One such suit was brought, but as settlement has been made, no name is mentioned. Some have been laboring under an impression that such subscriptions are not collectible, but they are, being mutual pledges to pay. And, besides, the payment of the subject claimed the ready and interested attention of his audience throughout. The lecture sparkled with humor. The topic was one at once grand and thoroughly studied from the standpoint of a cheering philosopher who looks upon life through optimistic eyes which, while observing the ills of the social system, see the humors as well as the tragedies of life. In his philosophy every tear is balanced with a smile and every moan answered with the music of laughter.—Des Moines (Iowa) Leader. At Columbus opera house Friday evening, March 9.
—From George R. Nunnally, a character who figured rather extensively here as reporter, lecturer, elocutionist, etc., in the twenties, we are in receipt of a circular announcing that the Atechion Champion, the oldest paper in Kansas, will publish for the week beginning March 12, a special edition, "as the devil would do," being the week in which Rev. O. M. Sheldon will publish the Opeka Capitol "as Jesus would do." Presumably, "Antelope Dick," as he used to be called, is as well informed as most people of the smart sayings and doings of his State's Majesty, at least as he has appeared in recent history. Perhaps it is now time to draw a different picture of man's scenes from that upon which he has so long been dwelling. Devil has been defined as being one who knows the right, but does not do it. Certainly, "the true is known by his fruit." Robbie Burns thought there might be some hope yet for Auld Clodius, but so long as there is a thought of him at all left in the minds of people, he will have some, more or less ardent followers. "But if I cast out devils by the Spirit of God, then the kingdom of God is come unto you."—Matthew, xii, 28.

—The merchant who had no faith in our prosperity got left, and must now pay from 25 to 50 per cent more for his goods. We saw it must come and placed our orders last year for a big supply. They are arriving now, and we intend to double our business by selling at nearly old prices. Better still, we are going to distribute among our customers Twelve Standard Polished Oak Drop-head $45.00 SEWING MACHINES, with all the latest improvements, and complete set of best attachments.
One to be given away every month to the holder of the lucky number.
A ticket given with each $1 purchase.

School Notes.

There will be no literary programs held in the High school during the month of March as the school is busy preparing for the local oratorical contest. This contest will be held March 12, at the opera house.
All the grades below the High school were given examinations last week. These examinations were conducted in the morning, and the pupils were released at noon, giving the teachers opportunity to look over the papers.
Hear Col. L. F. Copeland, the "king of the platform," at opera house, March 9, Friday evening. Col. Copeland is the fourth number of the High school lecture course, and will deliver his famous lecture "Seeing the Elephant."
Wm. N. Henley, jr., who has been taking a post-graduate course in the High school, left last Monday for Fort Leavenworth, where he will take an examination for admission to the U. S. Military academy at West Point. If successful in this examination he will go to West Point next June, when he will take his final examination.
The High school cadets elected the following officers on Wednesday: Captain, Prof. W. E. Weaver; first lieutenant, Chas. F. W. Bloodgood; second lieutenant, Gus G. Becker, jr.; first duty sergeant, Walter N. Schroeder; second duty sergeant, A. D. Becker; first corporal, John Early; second corporal, Otto S. Roen; third corporal, John Neumarkter. The by-laws read that the first three officers are to be elected from the Senior and Junior grades, and the other officers are to be elected from Senior, Junior and Tenth grades. The Ninth grade is excluded from holding office, but has the right to vote. The officers are expected to uniform before April 15, 1906.
