ter and Abstractor Sayer gave assist occasionally as seemed advisable them. His talk to the assembled citize tax-payers was to the proposition of renoving obstructions or opening to travel scross the U. P. track, P street, the one in which the freight depot now stands and placing the new proposed freight denot on M street, thus closing that street as a crossing over the track. He very adroitly represented his company, setting forth that the directors had de cided upon this location for several sesons, mainly because they owned the land: that it would be conveniently near their pessenger depot; he claimed that comparatively few people would be discommoded by such location; that their object in double tracking between this and Schuyler is to have room for transferring for their branch lines: that the long freight trains would mostly be handled out of the city, the yard engine Mrs. V. A. Macken and daughter, Miss doing the yard work; that Columbus has more open streets crossing railroad tracks than any other place in Nebraska according to its size-exactly the same as Omaha has: that M street has been used by the road for about forty years. etc.; to make the improvements deter mined upon, $108,000 had been appropriated, and the grading between this and Richland was nearly done. A. Boettcher spoke with special reference to business interests on Eleventh street, and remarked that lengthy freight trains going west and stopping at the depot would lap over L street, and those going east would lap over and interfere for the time of stoppage with travel on the Olive street crossing. He said that railroad companies did not always fulfill their promises or keep the letter of the law, going somewhat into particulars.

J. D. Stires spoke for the opening of M street. He thought a much better place for the city's interests, as well as the company's would be at least two blocks east of the proposed site, where doubtless considerably more land could he had for a less price that their surplus Charles Bloedorn of the Senior grade this way would bring. Opposite the B. was called home Thursday evening to & M. would be, it seemed to him, the most fitting place, not interfering with the central business, at least, of the city.

labor to save money. Our Rock Island planters will plant anything from beet seeds to beans in hills, drills, or checks, and so are just the thing for gardens and farms. These and other implements do for Spring's work what mowers and reapers do for the harvest, i. e., reduce labor to a minimum. Farm operations are best when done quick-

A BOY'S MOTHER.

JAMES WHITCOMB BILEY. My mother she's so good to me, If I was good as I could be I couldn't be as good. No. sir, Can't any boy be good as her!

She loves me when I'm good er bad; An' what's the funniest thing, she says the loves me when she punishes

That don't hurt, but it hurts to see Her cryin'-nen I cry; an' nen We both cry an' be good again. My little cost and Sunday clothes;

An' when my pa comes home to tea the loves him 'most as much as me. the laughs and tells him all I said, An' grabe me up an' pate my head; An' I has her an' hug my pa, An' love him part' nigh much as ms.
