that Councilman Elliott was absent: on the proposition to pass the ordinance, notwithstanding the mayor's veto, they would have a vote of only three in favor, whereas it should be four, and so the only seemingly available practical thing for them to do was to stay away from the meeting, thus preventing a quorum for the transac ion of business the mayor called to order, but there not being a quorum, a wait was made until near 10 o'clock, the council adjourned. We give below a copy in full of Mayor
