WANTED.

5,000 chickens, ducks and turkeys wanted every week for export.
JOHN SCAMONIA, Agent.

—Robert Downing, in the new play, "The Seventh Commandment," at the opera house, Wednesday, Feb. 6. Prices 25, 35, 50 and 75 cents. Tickets on sale at Pollock's.

—Rev. Butler was unable to drive to Monroe Sunday morning on account of snow drifts. He took Rev. Ward's place in the Episcopal church in conducting services here.

—Herbes Bros. of Humphrey, who succeed D. P. Duffy as publishers, have changed the name of their paper from Platte County Democrat to Platte County Leader.

—Envelopes with your return card printed on them, for 50 cents a single hundred; for larger quantities, and different grades, call at THE JOURNAL office for prices.

—As we write, it is grand-hot day, and as far as we believe there has not been a moment when he could have his shadow, had he been out. Shoot the shadowy sayings.

—E. C. Hochberger was in Lincoln last week, taking an examination as captain of Co. K, state guards of this city, and as a matter of course his examination was satisfactory.

—Arrangements are being made to hold a farmers' institute in St. Edward county, Neb., commencing February 10, in that vicinity will of course take advantage of the occasion.

—Mrs. E. A. Gerrard, Mrs. Gates and daughter, Miss Fanny Woda, of Monroe, and Prof. Campbell Platte Center attended the dedication services of the Baptist church Sunday.

—The new addition to the Methodist church is nearly finished, the room being now ready for the plasterers. The new furnace has been put in and was successfully used all day Sunday.

—When pain or irritation exists on any part of the body the application of BALLARD'S SNOW LINTMENT will give prompt relief. Price 25 and 50 cents. A. Heintz and Pollock & Co.

—The snow extended east through Iowa, Illinois and up into Michigan. Worst blizzard in three years at Burlington, Iowa. The worst snow storm of the season in southern Michigan.

—As always before, THE JOURNAL now gives the exact truth, as nearly as we are able to do so, in regard to current cases of contagious disease. There need be no false alarms or false accounts.

—The Christian Endeavor of the Congregational church will take charge of the evening church service Sunday, February 10. The service will celebrate the twentieth anniversary of Christian Endeavor.

—Chas. Duffy of the Platte County Leader and Albert Billerbeck of Humphrey were in town Saturday. The latter procured a license to be wed on February 5, 1901, to Miss Anna Frye of Humphrey.

—The city council at a late meeting directed Water Commissioner Plath to employ a competent engineer for the waterworks, for thirty days. Peter McCaffrey was selected, and Fred Brunhofer, as assistant.

—William Hoffmann of Grand Prairie called at JOURNAL headquarters Wednesday last. He retains his strong interest in party politics, and rejoices over the fact that Nebraska came round into the republican line last fall.

—George G. Schram has purchased the jewelry business of Harry Hobbs and has taken possession—so says the Madison Star. We have no doubt that Mr. Schram will please his customers, and do a good business.

—LOST, Thursday, January 31, a brown spaniel, 3 months old, had four white paws and breast; answer to the name of Kismet. A suitable reward will be paid to the finder. Miss L. Weinst, north of Pollock's drug store.

—L. G. Patterson, formerly of this city, well known to the newspaper fraternity, has taken editorial and business charge of a newspaper at Station. We have not, as yet, received a copy. THE JOURNAL wishes him good success in his work.

—Judge Hollenbeck held a short session of district court Monday, to hear argument on a demurrer in the Nick Gentlemen case. The demurrer was overruled and next Monday is the day set for the trial on the charge of murder.

—St. Mary's hospital, this city, continues to approve itself as one of the most valuable institutions in central Nebraska. Thomas Miller returned to his home near Geona last week after undergoing an operation for appendicitis, some days ago.

—The body of M. W. Lilley was brought to Albion Wednesday last for burial. Mr. Lilley was a citizen of Albion, temporarily living in Lincoln in order that his children might attend school. He was run over by a switch engine—Albion News.

—We are in receipt of a copy of the Lincoln County Times of Dawsonport, Washington, from Frank C. G. Gibson, foreman, son of A. H. Gibson, formerly a citizen here. It is certainly a very creditable representative of the town whose interests it represents.

—Grandpa Church, one of the oldest, if not the oldest man in Seward county, died at 86 Saturday morning at the ripe old age of 96 years. The funeral took place Sunday, interment being made in the Seward cemetery, and was largely attended.—Seward Blade.

—You can help anyone whom you find suffering from influenza, cough, croup, cold, and other ailments, by giving them BALLARD'S HOREHOUND SYRUP; the great remedy for coughs and colds. Price 25 and 50 cents. A. Heintz and Pollock & Co.

—The case of Mosgrove vs. Nebraska Telephone company has been appealed by the defendant. The plaintiff's attorney is C. J. Garlow, and the defendant's A. M. Post, and it looks as though the case might attract unusual attention because of the fairness of precedents.

—For a week or so C. A. Brindley has been at Humphrey. We presume that he is at work on the Platte County History, which has been engaging his chief attention for several years past, and which will doubtless be a very valuable contribution to the local history of pioneer days in Nebraska.

TO OUR Friends and Late Patrons.

COLUMBUS, NEBRASKA, February 1, 1901.

We have sold our stock of groceries, crockery, glassware, etc., to Hulst & Adams. For the liberal patronage received from the good people of Columbus and vicinity, we wish to thank them one and all, and assure them that although temporarily out of business we will continue to make Columbus our home and hope to do our share towards its up-building.

We retained our books and wish to say that parties owing us on account should make settlement with us.

Those who have a credit will please call and receive the amount.

We have opened an office in the basement of the Commercial National Bank building, where parties having business with us can find us during business hours.

HENRY RAGATZ & CO.

—Don't let the hand of time paint wrinkles on your face. Keep young, by keeping the blood pure and the digestive organs in a healthy condition. HERBINE will do this. Health is youth, disease and sickness bring old age. Price 50 cents. A. Heintz and Pollock & Co.

—Here is a genuine bargain. 160 acres farm, 100 acres cultivated; 60 acres pasture; 6-room frame house; barn for 8 horses and 10 head of cattle; granary; ice house; wind mill; well. Owner will take $2,000, if sold at once. Very easy terms. If you want a good farm, enquire about this.—Nebraska Land and Loan Co.

—The 12th of February, delegates from the local camps of seven states will hold a Head camp convention at Beatrice of the beneficiary order Woodmen of the World. J. E. Johannes and C. J. Garlow are the delegates from here, the latter also being one of the managers. The convention will be in session during two days.

—Nervous children are almost always thin children. The "out-door-boy" is seldom nervous. WHITE'S CREAM VERMIFUGE is the best preventive of nervousness. It strengthens the system and assists to that sort of flesh, which creates strength and power of endurance. Price 25 cents. A. Heintz and Pollock & Co.

—Testimony was taken Saturday last before Irv. Spica, notary public, in the case of Mrs. Gross, widow of the man who lost his life in a railroad wreck in the U. P. yard, together with a lot of horses. She now sues for damages. She was represented by C. J. Garlow, and the railroad company by Edson Rich of Omaha. Suit was brought in U. S. district court for Wyoming.

—The wrecking train was up from Columbus Sunday, having come to a point near Gardner station to straighten up what might have been a serious wreck. A wheel on a loaded car on a freight train, broke, and was dragged over half a mile. Other than this, no serious damage resulted. Joe Coolidge and Denny Sullivan were members of the wrecking gang.—Silver Creek Times.

—A. G. Roll of Palestine, this county, stopped in the city last Tuesday, with his friend, R. E. Jones, and in the evening started on a six months' trip and sojourn in the west. His ticket allows a stop-over where he pleases and is good for nine months. He goes by way of Denver, Pueblo, etc., and makes Los Angeles, California, his objective point, where he intends to stay six months.

—A Platte county farmer, who usually does his marketing in the towns nearest his home, tells us that recently he made five cents a bushel on his wheat by driving a few miles further to Columbus. He remarked that when the load was already on the road and the road good, the added price was good pay for the travel. He thought that possibly the fact that Columbus has two flouring mills in operation is the reason why the wheat market here could give him 5c instead of 5 1/2c.

—The school board met Monday afternoon and evening. Miss Madge Cavanaugh was employed as teacher in the suburban school, in place of Miss Anna Nicola, resigned. Miss Grace Woods was elected as one of the substitute teachers. The salaries of Prof. Brittle, Prof. Weaver and Fred Williams were fixed, respectively at $11.11, $75.00 and $60.00 per month. Prof. Brittle was elected custodian. The board has purchased new libraries for the High school also apparatus for botanical specimens.

—There is evidently a stronger demand now than for several years past for good Nebraska land, and prices are stiffening somewhat. Conditions of the country in general all seem favorable to a rise in real estate, and certainly the cultivated lands, the pasture lands, orchard and timber lands are steadily increasing in actual value every year that the passing season is favorable to crops, and as population increases and the farm life proves itself to be among the best, Nebraska farms loom up in price.

—A late number of the Omaha Bee had a lengthy article concerning Col. Cody and the noted Nebraska's entertainments of the Wild West given for the late Queen Victoria's special pleasure. In one of them it is said that the now King Edward VII was present with the prince and a hundred of the nobility during the mock attack of stage coach, "firing blank cartridges with royalty's true prodigality and poor aim." The princess rode on the stage with Fred Matthews, the driver. Those who remember Fred and know how well he managed horses and mules, can appreciate the confidence of the princess in his ability to make the brief trip in safety.

HENRY LUNKER.

Death of Mrs. J. H. Drinnin.

Sunday afternoon last, at 3:40 o'clock, at the home of the family northeast of the city, Harriet L., wife of Joseph H. Drinnin, suddenly departed this life. The immediate cause of death was the rupture of a blood vessel near the heart, and death was instantaneous, one gasp for breath being the only seeming struggle. She had been afflicted occasionally for some time with stomach trouble, but this was not regarded as serious. For the past two weeks she had had the grip, but had apparently improved, and was up and around Friday, also Saturday from 11 o'clock till 5. Even Sunday, after dinner, lying on her bed in a room adjoining the dining room, the door being ajar, she talked and laughed with the family, and started to arise and dress herself, but a sudden weakness came upon her, and in a few moments came the end.

Deceased was born in Vermont, March 18, 1842, her maiden name Harriet L. Pomeroy. She was married to Joseph H. Drinnin at Toulon, Stark county, Illinois, September 2, 1868. They came to Nebraska, March 1, 1883.

She leaves to mourn the departure of a loving wife and mother, her husband, and their children, Mrs. Eliza Stevenson, Samuel P., George W., Eveline G., and Plessie M. Drinnin; also Mrs. Emma Sewell of Independence, Kansas, and Harry Hickok, the last two, her children by a prior marriage, Harry being a member of the household here since July last.

While Mrs. Drinnin departed this life without any special words of good-bye to the members of her family, her whole life, which was an inspiration of goodness and truth, will be an enduring language engraved in the very sentiments and thoughts of all those who had learned to love or to honor her.

Mrs. Drinnin was a member of the Congregational society of this city, and funeral services will be held at this church this Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, Rev. Munro preaching the sermon—procession leaving the residence at 1 o'clock.

The Baptist Church.

The Baptist congregation, which has been for some time without a regular pastor, are, nevertheless, doing work that seems to be well approved.

The former building, moved from Knicker street, enlarged and improved, would not be recognized by its oldest acquaintance, at least at first sight.

There are two distinct rooms, the lecture room being on the north side of the assembly room, with sliding windows between for joining the two when occasion offers.

Rev. C. W. Brinstead of Omaha, the state missionary for the Baptists, held services morning and evening.

The Congregationalists adjourned for the morning, and in a body attended the services.

Rev. Brinstead's text was Matthew, xvi:18. And I say unto thee, That thou art Peter, and upon this rock I will build my church; and the gates of hell shall not prevail against it. Also, II Cor. iii:18, vi:1. We, then, as workers together with him. The theme of the sermon was that God had his plans of work, and one of these was that man should assist in the work for men. The house of worship illustrated the principle. In its construction there were wood, stone, iron, glass, etc. God's work was essential in all these, he made them in the crude form, the wood in the growth of the forest, stone in the quarry; iron in the earth, and he doubtless could have built the church as it stands, but he did not choose to do so. His plan is that man shall exert himself, his physical strength, his planning ability, his desire for accomplishing good back of all, in order that he may be perfected in his life upon earth, and thus fitted for divine companionship. The idea of the two passages of scripture—"God will do all," "man a co-worker," permeates all the relations of the Lord with mankind.

Mr. Brinstead then made a statement as to the church, placing the value of the property at something like $1,700, but on which there was yet an indebtedness of $280.93. In a few minutes, pledges to the amount of $150 were made, and we understand that at the evening services, $136 was added, leaving the building entirely paid for on the day of dedication.

The ringing of the church bells last night was welcome music to the ears of Fullerton people. Welcome to church-goers as announcing that they could again assemble at the house of worship and attend services after an intermission of six weeks and welcome to the citizens at large as conveying to them the news that the board of health considered the condition of the city such that meetings of all kinds could again be held.—Fullerton News.
