Herbert E. Scripture of Stanton county was in the city Wednesday and Thursday on business, stopping with the editor of this journal. Stanton county is steadily forging ahead; prices of land is rising, and the prospect, all around, is fine.

City papers devote no time and take up no space in complimentary mention of you or your family. The only notice the metropolitan press gives to ordinary people is when they are sent to jail or deserve to be there.—Grand Island Democrat.

Dr. Seymour will not be able to bring his private car to this city as he is expected to, on account of the danger of damaging his valuable instruments during the switching that would be necessary at this point. He will be at the hotel Thurston.

August Weisand, a well-known republican of this county, was in the city Monday. We learn from him that he expects to remove to the Pacific coast, locating either in California or Washington. He has been here since 1898, coming from California, where his father now lives.

Dr. and Mrs. Brill returned to Nebraska Thursday after an all-winter visit in Virginia. They stopped with their son here, on their way home, to St. Edward. They brought with them some interesting documents one hundred years old, original receipts for taxes, and bills of sale for slaves.

Our school board has secured the services of a music teacher, who gives music lessons in our school every Friday at the rate of $3.00 per Friday. They do their upper rooms together and occupy an hour's time taking instructions, while the two lower rooms get a half hour each.—Burlington Gazette.

Major Vickers of Madison was in the city Friday and during the evening inspected Co. K, Evans Rifles. There was a good turnout of the company thirty-eight of the forty-two members being present. We are told that the inspection was entirely satisfactory to the Major, who found everything in ship shape.

E. Van Ripper has had word from his soldier son, Charles, Co. G, Tenth infantry, who has been in Cuba the last two years in the service of Uncle Sam, that the company is now (March 3) in Chicago, destined for Fort McKennis, Wyoming, and going through Seward, this state. His father has not seen him for two years.

Fred Scofield and G. O. Burns left here Thursday for their new home at Stuart, Nebraska. Mr. Scofield's family will follow in a few days. Mr. Burns' family will remain in Columbus for the present, at least. This journal is sorry to see these good people leave this community, but wishes them success in their new home.

Taylor Shields, who resides northwest of Monroe, accompanied by his brother-in-law, Mr. Knapp, was in town Saturday on business, and both were welcome callers at the JOURNAL office.

Tilton Hill has bought Sam Mungler's place. Mr. Mungler intends to move to Columbus soon. The Mungler's will be missed here, as they have hosted friends who are loth to see them go. —Silver Creek Times.

—N. McLean of Shelby, Polk county, was in the city Wednesday doing considerable trading. He is an old veteran of the War of the Rebellion and still takes a lively interest in the great country he fought for in the 60's. We were pleased to have a call from him and to add his name to the list of JOURNAL subscribers.

—Bargains! Great Bargains in all heavy goods. We must have room for our big stock of spring goods. Come and save money. The White-Front Dry Goods Store. E. D. Fitzpatrick. 1f

—Col. McClure of Sioux City, Iowa, formerly a prominent citizen of Holt county, this state, was in the city between trains Wednesday on his way to Grand Island. The Colonel holds his own well in the race of life, and is just as earnest and determined as when he and the writer of this fought together in the legislative battles of 1880-'81, and later in the political battles of 1882.

—Will Gregorian, who returned to this city Monday evening of last week, had been a resident of Seward, (having a position with the Independent-Democrat there), for the last nine months. A passenger on the train up from Lincoln says there was a friendly crowd when Young folks at the Seward depot when Will came away, and he tells us that he was royally treated by everybody there.

—Christian Budtz was charged with embezzlement of funds belonging to the Central Life Insurance company. When the matter came to trial Wednesday last, his attorneys, Kilian & Hobart, asked for the discharge of their client, on the ground that the State had made no case against him. Judge Hollenbeck so held. Mr. Budtz has brought suit against the company and its state agent, alleging $10,000 damage.

—Dr. J. G. Clark, the dentist, started yesterday for Stanton, which town he expects to make his future home. While here the doctor has made many friends who will be sorry to hear of his departure. He and his estimable family will be missed from the business and social circles of the city. THE JOURNAL commends them to the good opinion of the Stanton county people, as in every way worthy of their regard.

—Thursday morning at 5 o'clock fire and the smoke and water connected upon the same did considerable damage to the goods and property of F. H. Lamb & Co., P. H. Hart, Dr. Daesler and Prof. Garlich. Invoices are being taken as we write this, and probably by our next issue the losses will all be adjusted. The building belongs to Anderson & Roen. The fire companies did their full duty, as they always do.

—Miss Olivette Bower, an intelligent and most versatile young lady, who for the past two years has held a lucrative position in the office of the Telegram of this city, leaves today, Tuesday, for Schuyler, where for a short time she will visit friends, thence to Omaha for a short stay, after which she goes to Virginia to enter the store of an uncle where she has the promise of a good position. Her many Columbus friends will wish her well in her new location.

—The City Band have already appointed their committees and are at work preparing a program for their last concert of the winter which will take place on the evening of April 19. The band has been to quite an expense securing new instruments for its members, and now have on the way a new silver-plated baritone horn which is to cost them upwards of eighty dollars; other first-class instruments are to be added as their finances will warrant.

—Our long-time friend, Fred Hengler, of the Bellwood neighborhood closes a letter on business with some items of local interest: There has been a good deal of sickness lately in the neighborhood—scarlet rash and scarlet fever—generally improving now, nicely. Very few cases left in our vicinity—wiped out by the cholera. Cattle—doing well. Wheat and rye are looking splendid. We are all ready to try our prosperity for another year.

—Many lodges throughout the country are establishing themselves in building their own. Never has this movement been so marked. It is a grand thing too. It gives to the order additional permanency and wherever an A. O. U. W. building is erected an indication of progress and growth is given and a monument to the best beneficiary order in the country is established. A lodge that can own a building is by no means dead.—Nebraska Workman.

—An advertisement in an eastern paper stated that on receipt of $1,000 a large book of 600 pages would be sent to any address. "It is just the kind of book for sporty young men" was added. This last doubtless has brought the firm a great many dollars. Several Bloomington youth sent their dollar each and received a bible. It was not such a book as they expected, but if they will make good use of it, read thoughtfully just a little in it every day, it will do them great good.

—John Reese, department commander G. A. R., calls attention to the provision of the statute of Nebraska, Section 4483: "Any one who shall willfully wear the badge of the Grand Army of the Republic or who shall use or wear the same to obtain aid or assistance thereby within this state, unless he be entitled to wear or use the same under the rules and regulations of the Department of Nebraska, Grand Army of the Republic, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be punished by imprisonment for a term not to exceed thirty days in the county jail, or a fine not to exceed twenty dollars, or by both such fine and imprisonment." D. N. Mincer is the special judge for Platte county as to military instruction and patriotic education in the public schools. The department commander urges upon post officers and individual comrades the importance of reducing the number of suspended and dropped members, as well as getting in new recruits.

Fire at Creston.

Monday night of last week a fire originating in Ely's harness shop at Creston, (cause of fire unknown) destroyed $20,000 worth of property, one-third covered by insurance.

The north side of the main street from Palmettoe & Wilson's general store to C. H. Graham's drug store was swept clean, ten buildings and a considerable portion of their contents. Not even a wall was left standing.

The town was without the usual facilities for successfully fighting fire, and the bucket brigade was called into service. A few fire extinguishers at hand were a means of keeping buildings on the opposite side of the street from igniting.

The blaze was not checked on either side of the harness shop until a recent lot was reached. At Palmettoe & Wilson's store wet blankets had been spread on the roof and sides of the building and after a hard struggle was pulled through without loss, the vacant lot saving it.

Mrs. Davis, who lived in the rear of the hardware store, lost her all. A sick baby prevented her from saving her few belongings.

The safe of the Bank of Creston was untouched.

Mr. Zeller had sold his restaurant business and was to give possession the 20th but the purchaser did not arrive until the evening of the fire.

A. M. Peterson lost a $3,000 insurance policy lapses a few days before the fire. His loss of $6,000 was only covered to the extent of $1,200.

A number of the property owners had said that they would erect new buildings at once. We glean from the Leigh World's two-column write-up.

School Notes.

Three months more and we will have vacation.

Miss Ruby Richly, who teaches at Monroe, passed Sunday at home.

The local declamatory contest will be held March 18th, instead of the 13th.

Miss Jennie Saffran, who teaches near Silver Creek, has been home the past week.

Miss Rena Turner of the Junior grade was absent from school Monday on account of vacation.

Longfellow's birthday anniversary was celebrated in several of the departments last Wednesday by recitations.

At the teachers' meeting Friday Mrs. Brindley and Misses Mogrover and Lath gave an account of their visit to the David City schools.

Rose Flynn of the Ninth grade has ceased attending school and is now holding a position in Eimer Bros' store. She was one of our best scholars.

A spectroscope for determining the primitive colors, costing $10.00; a microscope, $17.50 and a microtome, $12.00, for determining the structure of botanical specimens, were received on Monday.
