Coming Events.
Reunion of Shiloh Veterans, Columbus, Nebraska, April 9 and 10.
Pan-American Exposition, Buffalo, New York, May 1 to November 1, 1901.

SEVERE snow and wind storms in West Virginia Thursday.

AGUINALDO has taken the oath of allegiance to the United States government.

NOT a single case of yellow fever was reported in Havana April 1, the first time known to history.

Mrs. MARIA TODD, widow of Ohio's war governor, died, aged 88 years, at Youngstown, Ohio.

EX-SENATOR JOHN M. TRUSTON has been designated chairman of the St. Louis fair commission by the president.

For the first time in the history of Russia, ministers have notified the czar that a law he promulgated could not be enforced.

THE New Mexico fruit crop will be a total failure, owing to the heavy snow storm, the thermometer dropping a dozen degrees.

A CONNECTICUT man is about to start a rattlesnake farm, expecting to make money out of the oil and the skins, each being worth at the rate of a dollar an ounce.

SCHLATER, the once famous divine heeler, arrived in Sioux City Wednesday, taking up quarters at a hotel. He registers under the name of Dr. Charles McClain.

DR. GEORGE McLAUGHLIN, formerly of Tekamah and Omaha, dropped dead in New York Saturday of heart disease. His sisters lived with him in New York. He was 30 years of age.

It seems to be conceded that the fanatics will have five members on the Supreme court commission and the republicans four. Appointments had not been made at Monday's meeting.

ALBERT ENSLER of Okadale thought he would kill a chicken with a revolver, but as it did not go off, he looked down the barrel to see what was the matter. It went off and he is now in the hospital.

ANDREW C. FREEBURG, the farmer near Gretnah who secured $7,000 from a David City bank some two years ago, on cattle he did not own, was recently arrested at Iola, Kansas, and is now in jail at York.

"UNTIL the people come to their own in a co-operative commonwealth," is the wind-up of a lengthy editorial in the Cedar Rapids Outlook, touching the tendency of trusts to consolidate and grab everything in sight.

THE Rambler copper mine near Laramie, Wyoming, is reported as a bonanza, and it is said will soon be one of the richest producers of copper in the world. It has been located and re-located a dozen times in twenty years.

NO LICENSE won by fifteen majority at Cotard. The anti-saloon people gained the day at Central City. The temperance ticket was elected at Lexington. License was triumphant at Tekamah; it has been three years since Tekamah had a saloon. The temperance ticket won at Stromberg.

THE old cannon which Congressman Burkett secured for the veterans of Cass county, has arrived and will be mounted on the court house grounds at Plattsmouth. It is hoped to have the old gun in place by April 9, the date upon which they will hold a campfire in memory of the anniversary of Gen. Lee's surrender.

GUY ANDERSON of Waco, an industrious young farmer, committed suicide last Sunday, trapping barbed wire around himself, tying the wire to a post at a stack of straw, then setting fire to the straw, and cutting his throat. Of course he must have been crazy, for there is no reason can be assigned for the act.

WHILE the three little boys of John F. Schula, living east of Lyons, were having a good time exploding grain powder in empty glass bottles, one of the bottles exploded in the hands of Walter, destroying the sight of one eye, a piece of glass cutting the eyeball over the pupil. The lad was taken to the Methodist hospital at Omaha for surgical treatment.

MISS EMMA BONAC was assaulted last Wednesday evening, near Howells, while on her way home, two miles east of the village. A man got off his horse and asked to carry her grip. She gave no answer, but walked on toward home. He afterwards turned his horse loose, and attempted to take her from the highway, but she fought him, and screamed for help. While she was yet struggling, a team was seen coming, at which he desisted, and she fled away from him. He was afterwards arrested and identified as the assailant of the young lady. His name is James B. Deha. The Lowell Journal says: "The law provides no penalty severe enough for criminals of this kind."

SEVERAL years ago stock growers of Nebraska, Wyoming and South Dakota organized and appointed inspectors to trace up strays, at the great markets. For the year ended March 31, 1901, the result was for South Omaha alone: Total number inspected, 330,081; strays belonging to cattlemen in Wyoming, 1,864, value, $65,915.16; strays belonging to cattlemen in South Dakota, 2,136, value, $72,640.35; strays belonging to cattlemen in Nebraska, 519, value, $19,390.32; total number of strays, 4,564; total value of strays, $159,906.03. The cost of this inspection of cattle at South Omaha was $4,785.98, a saving to the cattlemen of Wyoming, South Dakota and Nebraska of $155,072.10 during the year.

Admiral Ramey has been authorized to accept five hundred Filipinos for marine service.

LIQUID AIR.
Doubtless the following, which we clip from the Norfolk News, will be of interest to JOURNAL readers who have not studied the matter at close range. It is a summary of the lecture before the North Nebraska Teachers' association at their last meeting.

"Prof. Woodman was thoroughly at home with his subject and discoursed on the wonderful substance in elegant language, yet so simple that a child could understand. He gave a history of its discovery, mode of manufacture and described its chemical properties. He handled the material with impunity yet performed feats that had the appearance of being little less than legerdemain. The wonderful manner in which the extremes of heat and cold were produced in an ice tumbler without its being melted was one of the most marvellous experiments I have ever seen. A light carbon was used in an electric light carbon which was frozen so solid that they crushed like glass beads. In this demonstration there was a difference in temperature of several thousand degrees. Nails were driven with a hammer of mercury, frozen solid. A lighted cigarette was immersed in the liquid, flashed up like powder and disappeared 'showing its usefulness in destroying garbage; steel pens were welded; beef steak was 'cooked' until it rang like steel and was broken with a hammer like rock; whiskey was frozen solid and pieces passed through the audience. The liquid was poured on a cake of ice and sizzled around on it like water poured on a red hot stove. The speaker informed the audience that he was turning loose a large quantity of Boston air, it having been converted into a liquid there, and that the people would have the pleasure of breathing the air of that aesthetic city during the evening.

The evening was a veritable trip into the fairy land of science, dealing with temperatures hitherto unheard of and the experiments above described were but a few of those performed. The possibilities of the discovery are not known. The liquid is in its infancy and it may develop as wonderful results as electricity or steam."

FIRST or last a contention is pretty sure to get recorded in court in some shape. A recent decision of the Iowa supreme court involves the idea that animals exercise reason. Mr. Graybill brought suit against the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railway for killing stock at a crossing. The engineer had failed to warn the animals by whistling. The railway company contended that the warning required was intended only for human beings, but when the judge of the lower court gave instruction to the contrary, the jury returned a verdict accordingly and the case was taken to the supreme court, where the instruction was sustained. Justice Sherrin holding that animals have sufficient reasoning power to enable them to recognize the approach of danger and take measures to avoid it. At the best, the business of railroading is extra-hazardous, and the utmost safeguards are none too many. As in all other cases, these utmost safeguards would be the cheapest in the end, saving money to the companies themselves that take the precautions against accident.

THE Omaha High school exhibit at the Paris exposition was received in Omaha again last night and this morning it was opened in the rooms of Superintendent Pearce in the city hall, where it will be kept open for inspection. Since it left Paris it has been on exhibition for two months in Manchester, England, the authorities of which city paid the expense of its shipment from Paris to Manchester and maintained the exhibit there for the enlightenment of pedagogues of the merry old kingdom, who have evidently begun to realize that they are not beyond learning something valuable in progressive school methods from American pupils.—World-Herald.

BOWLING GREEN, Kentucky was the scene of an exciting episode one night recently. Five young women of Potter college had planned to elope with five young men. The young men had assisted four of the young ladies out of second-story windows to the ground, but while assisting the fifth one made so much noise that President Cabell was aroused, and seizing a shot gun, he began shooting at the young men, who returned the fire. Two young men were wounded, the president was unhurt. The girls screamed but returned to their rooms, and the young men went away without them.

J. STERLINO MORROW is one of the incorporators of a crematory company, the others being citizens of Nebraska City, capital stock $10,000. The objects of the company are the maintenance of a crematory furnace and mortuary chapel and cremating of human bodies and storing of ashes, and doing generally the business of a cremating or incinerating establishment. We believe this the first organized in the state.

FOR THE JOURNAL.
THAT MORNING TIME.
BY MISS MARY BAIRD FINCH.
Upon the corn field's checkered floor,
Gives columns mark the corridors,
The gray doves mean in tender tone
Down from the poplar's arms stirred.
Her household comes the brown thrush tells
Down from the poplar's arms stirred.
And fields that shine by paths of mine
Do keep the notes that mean the corn.
The echoes murmur of farewells.

When I recall what thrills me yet
Of corn leaves like and drooping wet,
Then gray doves mean in tender tone
So like the loved who were my own
Who once sat in those bowers and sang
Sweet summer songs and only swam,
I cannot ever reach the corn
The sweetest bindings ever worn.
Whose notes dwell not my groves among.

Professors of wild rose seedlings
By birds have left the thrushes true,
And blue-birds' stream in low ravine
Down from the poplar's arms stirred.
Repeats the echo and the rhyme
That made life's melody sublime.
Down in the hills her beautiful bells
The gray dove rises and softly tells
Of my sweetest bindings ever worn.
Boone, Colorado, March 24th, 1901.

The program was only half carried out, it being so lengthy and the remainder of it was put over until next meeting.

City Council.
The committee on streets and grades reported that Whitaker had used 6566 loads of water, at 450 gallons per load, 2,954,700 gallons, at 88 per gallon, and that the two city wagons had used 1899 loads, 500 gallons per load, altogether making $312.33 worth of water, for which the committee recommended a warrant drawn on the general fund, to apply to credit of Waterworks fund maintaining account.

Memoranda.
[From the Republican.]
The high wind of Thursday evening blew down the chimney on Trinity church, thereby making it impossible to hold meetings Friday and Saturday evenings.
There will be a free ferry another year, as Monroe and Loup townships appropriated $150 and $50 respectively. There was no opposition to the appropriations this year, the voters who attended the meetings realizing the benefit derived from it.
A house belonging to Olof Larson, three miles west of town, was burned to the ground Thursday afternoon. Wm. Darrach, who occupied the house, was burning rubbish around it, when the fire got away from him and caught under the house. Neighbors assisted in carrying out the furniture, the loss being confined to the building.

Shiloh Veterans.

This will evidently be one of the greatest gatherings of the old soldiers held in the state of Nebraska. One of the addresses is to be made by General John M. Thayer, a man of fame as a general, a United States senator and also governor of the state of Nebraska. Colonel Major and Russell have shown their motto in many a fight, and altogether the occasion will be exceedingly interesting. April 9 and 10 are the days for the re-union, and on the evening of the 9th at the opera house the following program has been arranged by the committee, A. W. Clark, president; E. D. Fitzpatrick, secretary; W. A. McAllister, D. N. Miner and R. L. Rossiter: Music..... Columbus City Band Assembly..... Charles Miner Prayer..... Rev. J. H. Pearson, Milford Address of Welcome..... Mayor Held Response..... Col. John Lutz, York Song—"Star Spangled Banner," C. L. Kinney, L. E. Swain, P. B. Derrington, C. G. Hickok. The meeting in Columbus is the ninth annual in the state, and promises to be the best yet. Ohio, Indiana, Iowa and Nebraska are said to contain a vast majority of the living veterans of Shiloh.
The description "On to Shiloh" to be recited this afternoon by Miss Kramer, was written for the occasion by E. D. Fitzpatrick.
The Omaha Bee and World-Herald have representatives here to take pictures.

Café and Waldron's Players.
This company which appears at the Heintz opera house for three nights, commencing on Thursday night, April 11, is headed by the well known comedienne Miss Jennie Calif, who will be remembered as the star in the great play "An American Princess," she having the pleasure two or three seasons past of playing in Columbus, when she scored an immense success. On Thursday night April 11th, that bright and sparkling comedy "An Attorney at Law" will be presented. Friday night the greatest of all farce comedies "My Uncle from New York" will be given; the play is sure to make a big hit here. It is one continuous round of laughter from the rise to the fall of the curtain. Saturday night, April 13, the first act comedy drama entitled "The Boy from Colorado" will be given,—another excellent play. The theatre-going public of Columbus is sure to have a treat in store for them. Don't forget the date, and remember that Miss Jennie Calif heads the company, a big Nebraska favorite. Prices, 25, 35 and 50c. Matinee East Lyons, prices 15c and 25c. Seats on sale at Pollock & Co's drug store.
