—A Kentucky Love Story by Henry Chesland Wood appears in the August Designer. It will run through three or four numbers. Be sure to get the first installment. Purchase of J. H. Galley.
—Misses Lulu Plath and Tottie Shannon gave a party Monday evening to about thirty-five of their young friends, at the home of Miss Shannon in honor of her cousin, Miss Irene Leasley of Plattsmouth.
—Mr. John Lawrence Knowles of New York, soloist for Trinity cathedral, who gave a concert recital in this city several weeks ago, was married at Lake Chautauque, N. Y., on the 17th, to Miss May Colson of Fremont, Nebraska.
—Mr. and Mrs. Garrett Hulst returned Wednesday from their wedding trip, going as far south as St. Louis and as far east as New York City. Friday evening after the park concert, they were serenaded by the Columbus City Band.
—Harry L. Tripp, while unloading a pistol at Platte Center yesterday morning, was accidentally surprised and hurt by the discharge of a ball into the palm of his left hand, and supposed to be lodged in the fore arm close above the wrist.
—Some people are suggesting the comfortable coolness of cellars these days and advocating them as good places to sleep in. That depends entirely on what kind of cellar it is, and the number of mice, rats, spiders or other creepers there may be.
—Scott Gardner, one of our draymen, has small chunks of ice wrapped up in cloths and fastened to the bridle above the heads of his team. Hulst & Adams' teams are provided with straw hats. Any modification of the extreme heat is very advisable.
—We supposed that Biby of the State Journal might possibly give expression to the views of many people in regard to the long-continued hot term. He says: "There is some consolation in thinking that it isn't much worse anywhere than it is everywhere."
—Under the head of "Economy" the Platteville Blatter has this joke, which may be regarded as appropriate to our scientific age: "Please, papa, give me a quarter to see the big snake in the menagerie." "Morris, my dear, here's the magnificent glass. Go look at an angleworm."
—Ed. Hahn was in the city Thursday morning quite early with a load of hogs for the market. He started with them from home at 1 o'clock and got there a few minutes after sun-up and the hogs were in the best of condition considering the hot weather. The merciful man is merciful to his beast.
—Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Gietzen, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Byrnes and Mrs. Fred Roberts attended the funeral of Mr. McGarvey in Omaha Sunday. The latter, who was an operator in the headquarters of the U. F. office, died Friday, leaving a wife and two children. Mrs. McGarvey is a sister of Mrs. Gietzen and Mrs. Roberts of this city.
—Thursday afternoon at about 4 o'clock, at the Barreau place south of the city, a fire, supposed to have been caused by an overloaded journal, consumed a separator, self-feeder and oscillating stacker, all new and used for the second time, owned by Al. E. Fike. Lorran Barreau tells us that he lost about fifteen bushels of oats, and a straw stack worth $30.
—Charlie Segalka has returned from Lawton, Oklahoma. It is a very dry country down there now, but under ordinary circumstances they must do considerable business. Such towns as Kingfisher show what can be done one year with winter wheat, which is also used in winter as pasture for a limited number of cattle.
—The Gieck buildings will probably have the basement walls completed or very nearly so by the time this paragraph reaches JOURNAL readers. The street is certainly booming up. The Harman Oakleigh building on the north side of the track received its roof the past week, and now that the Auditorium, farther north on the same street, is to be erected, it may be said that M street holds its own this season with Eleventh and Thirteenth attachments. What may it not be another season?
—Dr. Dave Martyn returned to Columbus Tuesday, after a stay here of several weeks taking care of Dr. McKinley's practice. Dr. Martyn is a young man in the profession and he certainly has a very bright future before him. He won many friends during his short stay here. Martin Bloodors left this week for Oklahoma to make an effort to get a slice of Uncle Sam's land down there. It won't be Martin's fault either, if he don't get a good chunk. LATINA.—Since the above was put in type, Mr. Bloodors has returned, having given up going to Oklahoma on account of getting sick.—Humphrey Democrat.

—A clear saving of trimmed hats, collars, leg-horns, handkerchiefs, combs, stockings or underwear, at J. C. Fillman's. 11.
—There is an unprecedented call for lemons all through the drought-stricken region. Good, cold buttermilk is an excellent drink—in small quantities, often repeated.
—George Duffy and sister, Miss Marie, were called home last week by the serious illness of their mother, Mrs. D. R. Duffy. She has been gaining strength, and since Sunday her recovery has been more encouraging.
—Those who live on farms are especially liable to many accidental cuts, burns and bruises which heal rapidly when BALLARD'S SNOW-LINIMENT is applied. Price 25 and 50 cents. A. Heintz and Pollock & Co.
—Wednesday last Otto Schoenrock, passenger on a Union Pacific train west-bound, suffering breast prostration, was taken to St. Mary's hospital, where he died at 10 p. m. The body was embalmed and sent to Portland, Oregon. His wife was with him. He was 47 years old.
—Thursday night last Joseph Gardner of Crowley, Louisiana, arrived in the city, stopping with his son, Scott Gardner, going the next day to visit relatives at Hillbrook. The old gentleman suffered from breast prostration four weeks ago at his southern home, but has fairly recovered from its effects, notwithstanding his age, 89 years.
—Peter Speicher, living two miles east of town, lost eight stacks of grain by fire Friday night, estimated loss about $250, with no insurance. Everyting indicated that the stacks were set on fire and a man camping in the road was suspected. He appeared of unbalanced mind, but nothing was done to arrest him, and he left before morning.
—Mrs. Bowser, a former matron of the State hospital for the insane, at Norfolk, is attracting considerable attention at the Buffalo exposition, selling beans and biscuits in her Nebraska and house. The Omaha Bee says "she stands over six feet in her socks, is tough as a pine knot, weighs 300 pounds and is making more money than the president of a railroad."
—The reading of Frank Walker's communication will give JOURNAL readers a glimpse into a section of the United States, whose ordinary, everyday transactions partake of the marvelous, and whose extraordinary "deeds in dust" seem more like fairy tales than the commonplace dealings of men who were once penitents, but who now draw upon their gold banks for their daily needs.
—The scoffers at the governor for calling for a day of prayer, are legion, but they must admit that since the day was set for prayer we have had showers throughout the state every day, and none before for several weeks. Biby in his usual way says: "No doubt whatever but the prayers of the people are better than gunpowder in securing rain."
—J. J. Nichols will have a hundred acres of the best paying crop in this part of the country which is fax. Sixty acres of it is estimated at sixteen bushels to the acre, and the balance at ten bushels. At this rate, Mr. Nichols will thresh 1,300 bushels of fax and at $1.75 per bushel which will be a conservative price will bring him $2,360. It seems that fax is a good crop yet in Nebraska.—Leigh Work.
—George Merkert who lives a neighbor to Will Newman several miles east of the city, gave THE JOURNAL an agreeable visit Monday. He is investigating the practical problem of getting power to draw the water he wishes to use in irrigating his orchard and for his stock. Mr. Merkert sold $40 worth of cherries alone this season, and is now delivering some peaches, with a nice lot of apples to follow later on.
—Highest scores made for week ending July 27, at Hagel's Bowling alley: Ten pins—W. J. Gregorius 180, Dr. Gietzen 174, Jasper Nicols 200, 210, G. Hagel 183, 187, 199, 184, John Cornells 183, 176. Nine pins—W. A. Borden 7, D. W. Baner 7, 8, Will Baker 8, 8, Cooked hat—W. F. Schram 39, Dr. Gietzen 33. Four-back—Jap Nicols 67, W. F. Schram 71, 73, 74, 75, Dr. Gietzen 70.
—Adolph Leno, who made registration for a chance in the Oklahoma land lottery, is home again. He has a good opinion regarding that country, when there is rain sufficient. This season's winter wheat crop was among the best they ever raised, and business in the town is good. It had been dry there, as elsewhere, and since returning he has received a letter stating that a good down pour had refreshed everything.
—Geo. Sohran started to the Yellow Banks Saturday evening to join the picnicers, but when he got as far as the Fairview school house one of the horses he was driving dropped dead. He was fortunate enough to be taken in by Frank Peterson who was on the way to Beat Creek, and finally reached camp at the river during the early morning. The team Sohran was driving belonged to W. C. Elley.—Madison items in Norfolk News.
—Frank Brindley of Rochester, N. Y., after an absence of fourteen years, arrived in the city Wednesday for a week's visit among his numerous relatives and friends. His line of business is drying, owning and running a large number of teams one paper firm alone using six of his teams. He recently erected a stable one hundred and fifty feet in length. Mr. Brindley is a married man and has one boy 11 years old. He stopped at the exposition at Buffalo on his way out, gives it high praise, and says they are making quite a success of it.
—Henry T. Sperry has for several years been endeavoring to have the department take up and allow Mrs. Hanson Wilson, a soldier's widow, a pension, finally being successful in part and partly not, in an appeal to the secretary of the interior, from a decision of Commissioner of Pensions Evans rejecting two claims, one of them being approved, the other reversed, so that, after many years, the widow will now get tardy justice, at least, the amount not being known as yet. It would seem that the tendency with a certain class of eastern people called to pass upon western claims, is an almost total misapprehension of the general conditions prevalent in the west.

SUMMER-TIME TOILETTES.

Very dainty and pretty results can be obtained by those of our patrons who visit our Paper Pattern Department to inspect

STANDARD PATTERNS
JUST RECEIVED

The clerks in charge of the department will be pleased to aid any of our patrons in deciding on best styles for women's wear.

Be sure to buy a copy of THE DESIGNER at the pattern counter. It is only 10 cents, but it gives a splendid survey of styles, and in addition contains very interesting general information, without which a practical woman's home would be incomplete.

10 Jul 17

—The Fremont Tribune gives particulars of the death July 12 of Mrs. Walter Price, nee May Morton, a former Colfax county teacher, whose home was in Richland precinct. She had not succeeded in lighting the kitchen fire for supper, and poured some coal oil directly from the can onto the kindling. The result was an explosion shattering the can and setting fire to her clothing. Before the flames could be put out her garments were almost entirely burned from her body. Her face was slightly burned and her body and limbs were badly scalded by the fire. It was at once seen that there was no substantial hope for her recovery and after lingering in excessive pain for six hours she passed away. It is thought that Mrs. Price poured the kerosene upon the material in the stove thinking that the fire had all gone out. Some sparks must have been still smoldering in the stove, however, as the explosion took place while she had the oil can in her hand and before she had applied a match to the fuel. The unfortunate woman leaves a husband and seven children. She was 37 years of age. The funeral services were held at the family residence at 2 o'clock this afternoon, conducted by Rev. F. H. Sanderson. A large number of sympathizing neighbors and friends of the afflicted family were present to pay their last homage to the deceased.

—Tuesday morning's Omaha World-Herald has the name of Adolph Leno as holding number 147 in the Lawton district of the Oklahoma lands. The Lawton district is near the Indian reservation and is the most valuable of the lands. The city of Lawton will be the county seat and will be incorporated with about 10,000 inhabitants. The gift from Uncle Sam to Mr. Leno may mean several thousand dollars to begin with, and his friends here are congratulating him over his good fortune. He will probably have the last of the week to make the selection of land.

See Yellowstone Park in August. August is the best month in the year to make the trip through Yellowstone Park—and the last half of the month is better than the first.

The climate is perfect. The Middle-West may be sweltering with heat, but Yellowstone Park is as cool as cool can be. It could hardly be otherwise, for it is 8,000 feet above the level of the sea, and completely surrounded by snow-capped peaks.

Write to J. Francis, General Passenger Agent, Burlington Route, Omaha, Neb., for folder giving full information about the Park. It contains a large map of the Park, as well as a description of the principal points of interest.

Excursion rates daily—ask the ticket agent about them.
