HENRY LUBKER,

THIRTEENTH STREET,
COLUMBUS, NEBRASKA.

Echo Canon, Utah.

Traversed Only by the Union Pacific.

A NOTED ENGLISH TRAVELER SAYS:

"It moves along like some majestic poem in a series of incomparable stanzas. There is nothing like it in the Himalayas that I know of, nor in the Suliman Range. In the Bolan Pass, on the Afghan frontier, there are intervals of equal sublimity; and even as a whole it may compare with it. But taken for all in all—its length (some thirty miles), its astonishing diversity of contour, its beauty, as well as its grandeur—I confess that Echo Canon is one of the masterpieces of nature."

—The German Lutheran will hold a dedicatory service north of Scribner next Sunday, preparations being made for one of the largest gatherings of the kind held in this part of the state. Rev. Friesen, pastor of a church north of this city, will deliver the principal address.

—Jim Frasier returned Thursday from a trip into north Nebraska, going as far as Atkinson, Holt county. It is a good country. Boyd county has the biggest crop of corn they ever had, and such hay as the oldest inhabitant there never saw before. A splendid rain at Winslow's place.

—At the Presbyterian picnic last Wednesday, near Barsum's creek, Marguerite McKelvey, while wading in deep water, came near drowning, sinking the second time before she was pulled out. She had caught the clothing of Elise Brugger who dragged her onto a sand bar and thus probably saved her life.

—Friday evening last about 8 o'clock the fire-alarm was turned in from the boiler house of the Elevator Roller Mills, the wood cornice at the north end of the building near the water tank being on fire. The firemen were promptly at hand. The damage was slight, and it is not known how the fire originated.

—Supervisor Louis Held tells THE JOURNAL that the Loup river wagon bridge with approaches will undoubtedly be open for travel after noon of Tuesday, August 27; all repairs will probably not be fully completed until Friday next, but there will be no further stop to travel at all hours of the twenty-four.

—The ordinary conundrum is not always worthy of mention, but the following has a merit of its own: "Pop, what made the fly fly?" asked a Chilli-cothe youngster of his father the other day. "I don't know," replied the old gentleman. "What's the answer?" "Because the spider spider," returned the bright boy.

—As nearly as we have been able to learn, there are forty men engaged in work at the Union Pacific Loup bridge, expecting to complete the job in about three months. Six of the spans are to be rebuilt, two at the end to be filled with dirt. The bridge will be so arranged that a second track can be readily laid, when thought advisable.

—Mike Savage of Valley was in the city two days last week looking after his property interests in old Platte. Besides being an efficient railroad man in his line of work, Mr. Savage is a good business man, general principles, and during the passing years has secured quite a goodly number of Nebraska's good acres and other valuables.

—W. M. Kern, the new superintendent of public schools of the city, is here after a season spent in institute work, and is taking hold of the year's duties ahead of him with his recognized ability and effectiveness. He comes to Columbus with the best of prior records, and will doubtless give satisfaction to pupils and parents in his conduct of the city schools.

—John J. King of West Point, Nebraska, president, and Frank N. Stevenson, formerly of this city, now of Omaha, manager of the Nebraska-Lowa Creamery company, have been to Chicago gathering information in their line, preparatory to entering upon their duties. They have in view several important matters that have occurred to them as practicable in their territory.

—The three suspicious characters, suspected of being concerned in the Dowling robbery, broke out of the city cooler Sunday night and fitted to other parts. They undoubtedly had help from the outside. The bums make the railroad yards and brush along the river their headquarters, and if any of them get into trouble there is always some one to help them out.—Seward Blade.

—Carl T. Seely of Madison passed through the city Thursday on his way to his new home at Missoula, Montana. He has provided himself with a first-class outfit for a job printing establishment, among which are two job presses, 7x11 and 10x14, with a fine assortment of job type. The city to which he moves has a population of 7,000 with two newspapers, a daily and a weekly. Success to Carl.

—Tom Branigan gave an old-time exhibition of "backing broncho" riding in front of the postoffice Monday. Just as he mounted, and before he secured his stirrups, the pony began his wild contortions. Tom stayed quite a while, but finally mounted his length on the ground. At the second attempt, however, he showed the horse that he knew a trick or two about such animals, and rode off smiling as though he enjoyed it.

—We hear of an ear of corn fourteen inches long from Clarence Gerrard's farm near Osceola. E. B. Sutton returned from Osceola Friday last and reports that he has a very reliable claim covered with walnut timber. We understand that Mr. Emerson has sold 75 acres of cucumbers to a firm from Omaha who will gather them for pickles, salting them here and then shipping them to Omaha to pickle.—Monroe Looking Glass.

—Invitations are out announcing the marriage tomorrow (Thursday) of William John Rieky of Omaha, son of W. T. Rieky of this city, and Miss Blanche Mills of Osceola, daughter of ex-Senator M. A. Mills, the ceremony to be performed at 8 o'clock a. m., at the home of the bride's parents. Miss Mills is a graduate in the music department of the State University. Will was born and has lived all his life in this city, until recent years, when he has been engaged in work in Omaha, and Columbus claims him as one of the worthy young men who deserve a happy and prosperous future.

—Rev. Schimmelpfening, pastor of the German Lutheran church eight miles northeast of Platte Center, met with quite a severe and painful accident last Friday afternoon. He was in the act of shooting a dog with a revolver and just as he pulled the trigger the dog jumped between his legs and pushed his Mr. S's foot in front of the revolver, and the ball entered the top of his foot. He was driven to town at once and Dr. Pugh and Moore dressed the wound. The ball was taken out from the bottom of the foot. He returned home that evening, and we learn that the wound is healing very satisfactorily. The dog escaped injury.—Platte Center Signal.

PATTERNS FOR SCHOOL GIRLS.

SEPTEMBER 9 to 15, 1901,

Is the date set for special sale and cooking exhibit of the truly wonderful

MAJESTIC STEEL RANGE

People wonder how it is that the Majestic Steel Range will bake biscuit in three minutes and with so small amount of fuel. If you will call at C. S. Easton's hardware store on the above-named dates you can learn the secret by seeing one in operation, where hot biscuits and honey will be served with the Blank's brand of coffee every day during the week.

—James Terry of Howard county was calling on friends in the city this morning and relating some experiences of his in connection with the progressive ideas as to the growing of corn. He said he made several tests of corn growing this summer. He selected a small patch of ground, which he plowed at various depths and in which he planted corn at different dates. The different plantings show a very marked difference in color and size from the same soil, the deeper plowing being decidedly the best. A very interesting experiment he made on corn that had been sown after tasselling. No sign of earing was visible. He took a few hills, stripped the stalks of all dead blades, and dug and loosened up the soil about the hills six inches deep. Today those hills of corn have regained their former freshness and vigor and new ears are shooting out, while corn a few feet away is all dried up.—Grand Island Independent.

—Ever since the opening of the irrigating ditch east of town there has been a legion of croakers who have denounced the scheme, declaring that it was of no use whatever except to irrigate grapes, and that corn could not be irrigated successfully. Many of the farmers under the ditch have refused to give it any sight for it to make anything without irrigating. But the Leader believes this year has settled the question. If there are any doubting Thomases left they should investigate the irrigated corn between here and Osceola. A gentleman brought to this office this week some stalks of corn from John Lawson's field a mile and a half east of town that are good for sore eyes. Some of the stalks bore four full developed ears and some of them less than two. He also brought some sugar beets which will yield not less than twenty-five tons per acre. Irrigation is all right and if the Leader man owned one hundred and sixty acres of good land under the ditch we would consider that we had the money by the tail on a down hill pull.—Genoa Leader.

—The Albion News says that some time during the past summer Mr. L. W. Barber of Boone was overcome by the heat, since which he has acted somewhat queerly at times. Last week, accompanied by his three daughters, he went to the Fallerton assembly. On Sunday while attending a meeting at the auditorium he got up and went out. He did not come back, and his daughters looked for him some time before they announced the fact of his disappearance. When evening came they got alarmed and asked the assistance of the sheriff. He called for volunteers and two hundred men responded and prosecuted a thorough and systematic search until midnight and then rested until morning. About noon the next day word came that he was at Belgrade 15 miles distant. His actions indicated that he was totally deranged. Tuesday his son Frank and deputy sheriff Carrier took him to Council Bluffs to the asylum. This is a great calamity, and his family has the sympathy of all. Mr. Barber has been one of Boone county's best citizens. He has always been a hard working man, quiet and unostentatious in demeanor, and was considered one of our best and most substantial citizens. He was overcome while working in the field. It is to be hoped that his recovery will be speedy.

—Several deals in the nature of the transfer of policies of insurance have been attempted, the latest being that of the Imperial Mystic Legion to the Bankers' Union of the World, but they are not mentioned by Nebraska's Insurance department on the ground that "the officers of a fraternal insurance company cannot pledge the business of the company or dispose of its lands without the sanction of the members, and that membership cannot be transferred. Each member must go through all the formalities in the regular way." This ruling was made some time ago when the Bankers' Union tried to buy out the Sons and Daughters of Protestant. The funds of a fraternal company are considered trust funds, and it is estimated that any disposal of the same by officers could be treated as embezzlement and the guilty punished accordingly. The law of embezzlement exists right on with individuals and societies and nations.
