Coming Events.
Fosty Show, David City, Dec. 17.
You cannot fool "all the people all the time."
This chief product of orange county, California, is the peanut.
It is always safe for public officials to comply strictly with law.
The cornstalk disease is playing havoc with cattle herds near Callaway, Neb.
The Fremont Herald, democratic, says it does not pay to flirt any more with the populists.
Five cases of genuine smallpox though of a very light form, are reported in the northeastern part of Nemaha county.
An earthquake in Cantonbury district, Wellington, New Zealand, has devastated the township of Chivert. Many people were injured.
WALTER J. MCKEYER of North Bend is the inventor of a gasoline engine that promises to be a great success, financially as well as otherwise.
FARMER ROOSEVELT would not think of purchasing docked horses for his family carriage. It might be worth inquiry, and why should he?
COUNCIL BLUFFS had a serious siege last winter from smallpox and is again threatened. Claims filed last year on account of the contagion aggregated $3,500.
The United States commissioner of statistics figures the loss for twenty years ending December 31, 1900, by strikes and lockouts at not less than $400,000,000.
FARMER ROOSEVELT is making an excellent record, and we believe will satisfy the people of the United States, at least as to the ordinary business of the presidential office.
The Carnegie branch of the Free Public Library of St. Joseph, Mo., is about to be opened. Mr. Carnegie's contribution was $25,000. Present plans provide for a capacity of about 12,000 volumes.
It seems that terms of agreement have finally been reached between the city of Omaha and the Union Pacific Railroad company, both parties making some concessions, and now work on new shops will soon begin.
NEWARK, the county seat of Kay county, Oklahoma territory, was destroyed by fire Saturday night, loss, $30,000. No waterworks plant. The fire was caused by the explosion of a gasline in a restaurant.
The United States will lead all countries this year in foreign exports, in foreign trade balance and in its treasury surplus. Under such conditions continued prosperity may be confidently expected. —St. Louis Globe-Democrat.
The report of the Isthmian commission will be placed in the hands of the president at the end of the week. The commission favors the Nicaragua project, the cost of which is placed at about three-fourths the cost of the Panama project.
At Chicago, Nov. 7, the fourth public sale of Shorthorn made by W. D. Platt of Hamilton, Ont., one bull sold for $5,100; one cow for $5,000. No animal of the entire herd sold for less than $500, while but four of the entire number went below $500.—Wallace's Farmer, Nov. 15.
REV. HENRY BOWMAN, perhaps the oldest Methodist preacher, who was active in the pulpits up to the time of his death, died in Bloomington, Illinois, last Thursday, aged 95 years. He preached for seventy-seven years and became famous throughout the south for his abolition utterances during the war.
The Swiss government has named a commission to adopt regulations for protecting against destructive hailstorms which at times have devastated entire districts. Stations will be established where cannon will be fired against the impending clouds. France, Hungary and Italy have already taken similar action.
The Schuyler Quill, populist, reviewing results of the election in Colfax county, and the state, deliberately states the opinion that fusion, having served its purpose, it should now be abandoned. The Quill believes that the populist, if he cannot conscientiously join one of the old parties, should stick to his principles and go it alone if necessary.
Not having put it back before the election returns came it is now pretty sure that Porter, the very righteous pop secretary of state who took home with him a good deal of money that ought to have been turned into the state treasury, will never turn it over. His chances for getting another check at the treasury by reason of preaching reform are very few now that the state is unquestionably in the republican column.—Ord Quill.
MR. GARDNER'S recent remembrance of his old and trusted comrade was as touching as well as generous. He has selected all the "friends" who have been with him many years and presented each of them with an amount of steel bonds of the interest of which equals the salaries they have been getting in the works. It is not only a doubling of their salaries while they work, it is a guarantee, if they hold on to the bonds, of a perpetual salary to them and their heirs after they quit work for good, equal to what they drew in their best days.—Bo Andrew has most effectively stuck by the men who stuck by him in his days of storm and stress, when labor unions were after his scalp.—Lincoln Journal.

"We mourn President McKinley; we also honor him, and the manner of his death should awaken in the breasts of our people a keen anxiety for the country, and at the same time a resolute purpose not to be driven by any calamity from the path of strong, orderly, popular liberty which, as a nation, we have thus far safely trod."—President Roosevelt.

The Omaha Bee in an editorial in Sunday's issue, calls for the resignation of State Treasurer Steuber, alleging that he has not only failed to comply with the resolution of the last state republican convention in giving a monthly exhibit of the amounts and whereabouts of the public money in his custody, but has been "in collusion with an irresponsible broker and caused a loss to the school fund of at least $3,200. On Monday, State Treasurer Steuber gave out a statement in regard to the Burr county affair in which he denies absolutely any wrong use of state funds, and goes into all the particulars of the transaction, so far as concerned himself. He closes his statement thus: "The charge made against me in this particular is an unwarranted assumption. I am not even given the benefit of the principle upon which the administration of justice has been founded time out of mind, that a man is to be presumed innocent until proved guilty. The whole charge is unjust, malicious and without foundation in fact. I have handled public funds to the best of my ability and judgment. I think my record will compare favorably with that of any of my predecessors. I have turned into the state treasury every dollar of interest that has accrued on state funds. I have never derived a cent of profit in any way beyond my constitutional salary."

CONSIDERABLE damage was done in Utah by earthquake Wednesday night. The shock was apparently the heaviest at Beaver City, where the Mormon meeting house, the court house and the Beecher academy were badly damaged, especially the last-mentioned building, the walls of which show great cracks. Chimneys were toppled over and plate glass was shattered. Hardly a house in the town escaped damage, many of them being badly cracked. No fatalities are reported. Another slight shock was felt at Beaver Thursday morning. At Cedar City, Kanah and Parowan the shock is reported as being very severe; plastering was shaken from walls and brick buildings were cracked.

The best estimate places the number of voters disfranchised by Maryland's new election law at 42,000, of which 12,000 are white democrats, 6,000 white republicans and 24,000 negroes. Not a word of protest or denunciation, however, has been heard from the great democrats in these parts who have been so loudly proclaiming the right of the Filipino to self-government. Their eagerness to extend the guarantee of our constitution to all the inhabitants of our island possessions seems to have blinded their perception of constitutionality at short range, when the prohibition against disfranchisement on account of color is ignored to re-establish democratic control of border states.—Omaha Bee.

If we are to judge by isolated cases of ingenuity, and by a new doctrine gaining ground here and there, that people may, by observing fully the laws of health, greatly prolong their lives, the new era shows signs of approach. Lady Catherine Jane Carow, grandmother of the present Baron Carow, died Tuesday last week at Woodstock, Waterford, England, aged 104. She was a guest at the famous Brussels ball on the eve of the battle of Waterloo and was a noted beauty at the court of Louis Philippe.

The gas street lamps were lighted Tuesday evening for the first time. While not giving as much light as a good electric light, they were exceedingly brilliant, and owing to their being placed low down they lighted the walks for a block or two very nicely. Much favorable comment was heard relative to them.—Never before at this time of year was there over so much building in progress in Albion. There are now close to a dozen new houses in process of erection, and new ones are being started every week. There is not an empty house in town, and the prospects now are that next year will be a repetition of this in the amount of new buildings erected.—Albion News.

Our best information is that Saturday evening last Smith Hilliard, who lives several miles east of the city, was on business, and had bought some goods for the family, but in the meantime was considerably under the influence of liquor, his team taken in charge by the police and put into the Brunken barn on Eleventh street, and Mr. Hilliard left in the now to sleep off the trouble. One of our informants tells us that he cannot understand Hilliard's actions, except on the supposition that he had been drunk he was under the influence of drugs. It seems that after running up he hitched his team of mules to his buggy, and started going north of the Lindell to the Union Pacific track, following that west and at North street turning south, breaking the right hind wheel of his buggy, presumably by a short turn while next the rail. The next trace THE JOURNAL reporter finds of him was at Tony Hengler's, nearly eight miles north of the city on Sunday. He had been at a stack where he had doubtless spent the night, having walked the distance from here and driven led the mules. He was told where he was and started on the direction home. The first rumor was that there had been a narrow escape from death by a Union Pacific engine striking the buggy. So far as we can learn, however, there was no train concerned.

F. M. Stone was up from Shelby last week and informed us that he leaves this week for California for a year's stay and if he likes the country and finds something to suit him he may remain permanently. Mr. Stone is one of the oldest settlers in the county and says he drove the first nail in Osceola thirty years ago.
A bad case of glanders in horses was found two miles north of Shelby last week by Dr. Byers at the home of Mr. Roush. A mule was nearly dead with it and a horse had it also. State Veterinarian Thomas of Lincoln came up and examined the case last Friday and his diagnosis agreed with that of Dr. Byers and the animals were at once killed. It is sincerely to be hoped that the disease has not spread among the horses of the neighborhood.
Real estate is still on the rise in Polk county. Tuesday of this week several places changed hands at good prices. C. S. Webster sold his quarter northeast of town to John Wagner of Thawville, Illinois, for $3,000. W. H. Cottrell in the same neighborhood sold his 200 acre farm for $3,000 to Fred Albens of Clear Creek precinct. Mr. Cottrell then bought the old Bar quarter just on the edge of town for $7,000 from the present owner John Faulk. What Mr. Faulk intends to do we do not learn. Mr. Webster will stay on the farm until May 1, 1908.
