

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 4, 1920.

REPUBLICAN CITY TICKET.
Mr. Dickinson, candidate for mayor, is a man of the people. He believes in the best interests of the city of his choice, the home of his family, and where his children are being educated. As was said by Mr. Gluck when nominating Mr. Dickinson, "there is no man in the county in whom the people have greater confidence; he has the best interests of the city at heart. He will be the mayor of no faction, but of all the people with a view to the best interests and the rights of all concerned."

Mr. Dickinson, in his essential character, his occupations, his habits of thought and his friendships, is a plain, honest, genial, fair-minded man and neighbor, and these are included in the qualities which make good executives—fidelity, honesty and capability.
Bert J. Galley for treasurer has no opposition in the race and will do as he has done—account promptly, faithfully and rightly for every cent received and disbursed by him.
J. M. Curtis for police judge, is unusually well qualified for the position to which he has been nominated. He will continue to do his duty. Judicial integrity is one of the qualities somewhat rare among men. Pick from your own recollection of past events some transaction, endeavor fairly and impartially to hold the scales even, while weighing pros and cons, putting aside every prejudice, and you will find how difficult it is to get rid of preconceived notions in the decision of what is right or wrong, personal feelings have so much to do with influencing the judgment. Judge Curtis has the judicial mind.
J. H. Galley, candidate for member of the school board, is without opposition. He has for a long while been a member of the board, is well versed as to every phase of school work, and the patrons of the schools may well congratulate themselves on being able to secure his services.
J. A. Ernst, candidate for council from the first ward, is the well-known resident of the ward, residing on Seventh street where his father used to work in the early days as a blacksmith. He is a man who attends strictly to his own affairs, and as councilman, will, as he did when he formerly held the position of councilman, attend to the business of the ward and of the city in general, so far as his individual vote and influence may go, with fidelity and force.
C. S. Easton, the candidate for councilman, Second ward, the well-known business man of Eleventh street in that ward, is worthy every vote in the ward without respect to party lines. He believes in treating all men fairly and squarely, and on the council would not allow any preconceived notion of his personality, to weigh in his judgment against duty and right. He is comprehensive in his views of public affairs, and would work for the general interests of the city, which always include the particular interests of the Second ward.
Thomas Boyd, candidate for councilman from the Third ward, is a young business man, who has the respect and confidence of all who have dealings with him. His experience in public life has been along the right lines, and when he shall enter upon the duties of the office, the council will be but a step forward in the line of public duty, illustrating the same general principles which have actuated him hitherto in his individual affairs.
A STUDENT of the Iowa Agricultural college who had been here for about one of his semesters. This may be a rough remedy, but the evil is a serious one, and there appears to be no good reason, either in law or equity, why a student has not the same right to defend himself as other portions of humanity.—Omaha Bee.

The evils of hazing, as practiced in many of the so-called colleges and universities of the land are, without doubt, very serious, but the common sense of the country ought to be equal to the occasion. It is scarcely compatible with the American idea of a school of the "rough" that are allowed to have their representative police force, have the same right to enter the sacred precincts of the school as they have to enter any other place where the law of the land is being committed. As Shakespeare says:—
"The art of hazing, yet, I see, 'Tis hallowed ground, and he who treads 'Tis to be hallowed, and he who treads 'Tis to be hallowed, and he who treads 'Tis to be hallowed."

At Des Moines, Ia., a bill has passed the house by a vote of 29 to 16, prohibiting the playing of baseball or football on Sunday.

A Sad Accident.
About eight o'clock Monday evening the news spread through our city that John Conner had just arrived with the body of Tom Propoyki who had accidentally killed himself while hunting on the Platte. The Leasing started out to investigate and found the body of Tom lying at the foot of a tree, the entire top of his head blown off. The story of the accident, as we gathered it from Mr. Conner, follows: He and Propoyki had been hunting on the Platte for several days and at the time of the accident they were lying in the boat surrounded with cans of ice to conceal them. Propoyki's gun was lying at his side with the muzzle pointing over his shoulder at full cock. A flock of mal-

Execution of the public will must follow the public judgment. And this is only possible when the same public is alert and determined that its judgment shall not be a cold formality, but a living fact, to be respected and enforced.—William McKinley.

lards came down the river and at a signal from Conner, Propoyki started to raise his gun and in so doing brought the muzzle in front of his face, when it went off killing him instantly, the body pitching forward upon the gun. Three men from Shady were in a blind a few rods away who hastened to the scene and assisted in getting the body to the shore which was nearly a mile away, it taking about three hours as the ice was thin and would not hold. They then placed the body in a wagon and Conner started on a lonely drive across the country with the body of his dead friend, arriving here at about eight o'clock. The deceased had been a resident of our city, engaged in the blacksmith business, for about a year, and leaves a wife and one child about two years old.
Coroner Johnson came down Wednesday morning but as the death occurred in Merrick county he notified the coroner of that county who ordered the body taken back to the scene of the accident, where an inquest was held Wednesday afternoon. The verdict of the jury was to the effect that the deceased came to his death from an accidental wound inflicted by a gun in his own hands.
Undertaker Pearson then brought the body to Omaha and from here it was taken to Columbus for interment.
The above from the Genoa Leader is reproduced in THE JOURNAL, where the many friends here of the deceased man may be informed of the sad end of a useful life.
The body of the unfortunate man was buried here Thursday afternoon, in the Catholic cemetery. He was a Pole, a blacksmith by trade and leaves a wife and child. His father lives near Tarnov, this county.

Death of John Huber.
John Huber, Sr., who had been ailing for many months, and who, at times, had suffered amazingly, died of liver trouble, at 7 o'clock Tuesday evening of last week. He was born April 13, 1828, at Geneva, New York. In his early manhood, he removed to Warrington Junction, Va., and at that place, where he was employed during the War of the Rebellion as a railroad engineer, he had some thrilling and unusual experiences, consequent, mostly, upon Mr. Huber's custom of telling out loud plainly his inner thoughts, because he was a Union man.
From South Bend, Indiana, where he was engaged in the livery business several years, he came to this city, we believe in 1871, engaging in the same business here. He carried the U. S. mail for a term of years between Columbus and Albion, and also to Norfolk; was deputy under Sheriff Spielman, and for about twenty years was bailiff in the district court. To a goodly portion of the general public he was best known, probably, as an auctioneer. He was prominent in all matters concerning protection against fire, was a charter member of Engine company, and always an ardent worker for the interests of the fire department.
He had joined the Odd Fellows at an early date in life, and Wilder Lodge held him in high esteem, the brethren, in the beautiful and touching ritual of their order, paying their last tribute of respect to him Friday afternoon.
Mrs. Huber died here about four years ago. The children surviving are: Mrs. Emma Williams of Beloit, Wisconsin, and John Huber, Jr., of this city.
Services at the Methodist church were conducted by Rev. Luce, in the presence of members of Wilder Lodge, I. O. O. F., and of the City Fire department, besides a large number of friends and acquaintances.
Mr. Huber was a frank, sincere man, and in the matter of charities, help to the helpless, and the kindly offices that always prove the native good-will of the donor, he was the honest doing of the deed, he did as he would be done by. His kind heart responded readily to every call for help in distress. He was generous in doing his duty to the best of his ability, and had done a share of good work during his life time. Peace to his memory.

In Memoriam.
FIREMAN'S HALL, COLUMBUS, NEB.,
March 21, 1920.
Whereas, it has pleased Almighty God to call from our ranks an honorary member in the person of John Huber, and in view of the loss we have sustained by his death, and in view of the still heavier loss sustained by those who were nearest and dearest to him, therefore be it Resolved, That it is but a just tribute to the memory of the departed to say that we mourn for one who was in every way worthy of our respect and regard.
Resolved, That we sincerely condole with the family of the deceased, on this visitation with which it has pleased Divine Providence to afflict them, and commend them for consolation to Him who orders all things for the best and whose chastisements are meant in mercy.
Resolved, That this heartfelt testimonial of our sympathy and sorrow be forwarded to the family of our departed friend and brother fireman, and a copy of the same be spread on a special page in the minute book of the Columbus Fire Department.

WILL ZENKER, MORTUARY, I. PLATE, Committee.

Legal Notices.
America is a tolerably free country when you think right down to the foundation of things, and not accordingly. THE JOURNAL has had thirty years' experience in handling legal notices of all descriptions, and takes this occasion to say that it is thoroughly equipped for this sort of work.
We desire that you remember us when you have work of this sort to be done. When you do the paying, you have the right to place the work. Special attention given to mail orders. Call on or address, M. K. TUGGERS & Co., Journal Office, Columbus, Neb.

—You can buy blank farm leases at THE JOURNAL office, good form, two for 5 cents; five for 10 cents.

Personal Mention.

Mrs. George Winslow and Mrs. Knox left Saturday for Stuart, where their husbands have already gone and will make their future home. Stuart has now quite a settlement of Columbus people and we hope they will enjoy happiness and prosperity in that nook of our beautiful state.
Captain J. N. Kilian and family, who have been stationed at Chicago, this state, and friends at Ft. Riley, Kansas, and are expected in this city today, for a visit on their way out to the Philippine islands, where the captain has been ordered by the government.

GRAND BERTS & Co.
Our notes this week begin with THE JOURNAL of January 12, 1881, and close with that of February 23, 1881.
Born, Feb. 15, to Mrs. M. Welch, a son. Lincoln contained a population of 14,000.
Frank English and R. Brandt dissolved partnership.
Tickets from Germany to Columbus, Nebraska, were $40.
G. W. Hulet slipped on the sidewalk, fell, and broke a leg.
Married, Jan. 5, Eugene Nichols to Miss E. D. Westcott.
A hog weighing 1,000 pounds was marketed at Lincoln.
John Birby bought an interest in the Nance County Journal.
A Sidney coach took out of Deadwood one day $300,000 in bullion.
A fire at Osceola destroyed court house and some of the records.
The Nemaha river was reported frozen to the bottom in many places.
Diphtheria, croup and measles prevailed in many localities of the state.
Three hundred and twenty acres of land near Fremont sold for $4,250.
The infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Baker died at Omaha Jan. 26.
Robert Uhlid sold his hardware business to Geo. D. Foster, near North Platte.
Matthew Burke advertised a sale of stock, etc. John Huber was auctioneer.
Married, Jan. 1, by Elder H. J. Hudson, Charles E. Chapin and Miss Jennie Wood.
G. W. Hulst and V. T. Price purchased the lumber and grain interests of W. H. Hunneman.
J. W. Early advertised for sale 200 acres of choice land in Platte county at $10 an acre.
The losses, by fire, in the United States for the year 1890, were claimed to be $375,513,100.
Gus Lockner struck a good market at Omaha for hogs and was correspondingly happy.
One hundred and forty-eight deaths from smallpox were reported in New York City Feb. 9.
Mr. Ross of the banking firm of Anderson & Ross arrived in the city Feb. 10 from Decatur, Iowa.
Died, February 3 of diphtheria, Carrie, oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Becker, aged 8 years.
THE JOURNAL, then as now, endeavored to put the important news of the day in the smallest compass.
K. Stewart of the "Tutternall" stable lost by colic his fine young Clydesdale horse, valued at $2,500.
January 20, Hudson Murdoch lost his residence in Monroe precinct by fire. Loss $450; insurance $250.
Died, Jan. 23, of diphtheria and lung disease, Anna K., daughter of P. J. and Anna K. Schmitt, aged 2 years, 21 days.
A man in Bucks county, Pennsylvania, had just ended a law suit of forty-two years' standing, and recovered six cents damages.
G. H. Van Wyck was elected U. S. senator, Jan. 22, the vote being Van Wyck 68; Paddock 32; Vance 4; Absent 2.
Fernando Wood died at Hot Springs, Arkansas, Feb. 13. He had been a congressman from New York for nearly twenty years.
A. N. Burgess & Co. moved their printing material to the room owned by W. C. Sutton, one door north of Arnold's jewelry store.
An early as Feb. 1, apprehension was felt that a sudden breaking up of the ice in the Loup would form gorges to overflow its banks.

L. V. Kennedy, postmaster at Fairview, Nebraska, confessed to robbing registered letters, after being arrested by detectives Furry and Seybolt.
Between Feb. 8 and 15, no trains were able to reach this city over the A. & N. from Lincoln, or from Norfolk over the Jackson branch, owing to the heavy snow drifts.
Henry Bean and Mr. England, the latter gentleman in his eightieth year, walked to town, a distance of five miles, in an hour and a quarter. Four miles an hour is not bad for an octogenarian.
Home talent gave a three nights' entertainment, "The Octoroon," the chief characters being: Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Bowman, H. J. Parr, Walter Phillips, S. C. Hunt, Miss Lou. Hudson, Mrs. T. T. Robinson.
At a meeting of the directors of the Music Hall association, the following directors were elected: J. E. North, J. G. Higgins, R. H. Henry, C. A. Speice, John Stauffer. Charles Schroeder was elected treasurer.
Indian chief Bain-in-the-Face, who the savage who killed General Custer. In the Sioux tongue he is said to have made this confession: "I killed him. I made many holes in him. He once took my liberty; I took his life."
During the recent snow storms stock perished; some in overcrowded stables, some drowned while trying to get water in creeks, some by getting into snow drifts and breaking their spines and a few by being smothered in the snow.
Among patents then just received at the U. S. land office, Grand Island, were: J. B. Kyle, H. Gresson, M. Christmas, C. Bump, Peter Plant, E. A. Sage, H. Bohrens, R. Gentleman, H. S. Redenbaugh, Wm. Lisco, R. E. Wiley, H. Whitehead.
Ed. Parker, who had been a member of the state legislature, and afterwards appointed mail agent on the U. P. road, confessed to throwing from the train a bag of registered letters while passing along the banks of the Loup and afterwards going back and robbing it of its contents.
John Gleason of Streator, Illinois, wrote to THE JOURNAL expressing his confidence that a drill hole sunk some where in the bed of Looking Glass creek near the bluffs—where the coal comes nearer the surface—would demonstrate the fact that coal exists there and is practically accessible.
The paper mill at West Point was using a large quantity of flax straw, farmers within hauling distance reaping a benefit. This is what builds up a community, utilizing what otherwise goes to waste; finding or making uses for home products; developing the natural resources of the country.
At a meeting of the Execlior Literary society the subject for debate was: "Resolved, That it is better to send a man into the world with money than with an education," the debaters being Charles Brindley and George Sweet in the affirmative, and Prof. Cramer and Henry Lutzner in the negative. Harry Arnold was elected president.
An east-bound freight train on the Union Pacific, a short distance east of Clarkville Jan. 7, encountered a broken rail, was thrown from the track, and after bouncing over the ties for some distance was detached, resulting in the wreck of several empty cars, but no loss of life nor serious injury. Dr. Martyn was in the caboose at the time, suffering a few bruises—a narrow escape.
The indebtedness of Platte county as per the statement of John Stauffer, county clerk, ending Nov. 1, 1890, was, mainly: $25,000 bridge bonds bearing 8 per cent interest; funding bonds, bearing 10 per cent interest, and amounting to $45,000; L. & N. W. R. K. Co. bonds redeemable 20 years after date, at 8 per cent interest, and amounting to $100,000. The cash in the treasury was $14,535.50.
S. L. Barrett, superintendent of public instruction of Platte county, who had been disposing of forged school warrants, fled the county. His plan of operations was, as agent for eastern firms, to sell to school districts in the county, school books and school furniture and take payment in an order on the district, signed by the director and moderator. He possessed himself of blank orders and by forging the names of the above mentioned officials of the district that he chose to make instrumental in helping him to a ruin of funds, he had negotiated papers, unless the forgery was detected. Some were sold to Anderson & Ross, some to I. Gluck, John Higgins, John Wernuth and others. The general suspension was that the school book and furniture firms held the larger portion of the forged paper.
Card of Thanks.
We wish to extend our sincere thanks to our many friends and neighbors who so kindly assisted us in our recent bereavement.
J. C. BYRNER, MR. & MRS. J. B. GRITZER AND FAMILY.
