Should King Edward die English insurance companies would be losers to the amount of $10,000,000.

Omaha officials have issued orders prohibiting the shooting of fire cracker inside the city limits until the evening of July 2.

One of the best sales of farm land in that part of the state was made in Nebraska City last week when a 320 acre farm was sold for $25,000.

Mrs. H. A. LOCKWOOD was killed by a freight train while crossing Main street in Valley at 10 o'clock Sunday night. Her horse was killed also and the buggy smashed.

The Des Moines Register and Leader have consolidated into a company, with a capital stock of $300,000. The first number under the new management appearing today, Tuesday.

At a cabinet meeting Friday last it was agreed to issue a proclamation of amnesty in favor of all political prisoners in the Philippines, to take effect on the Fourth of July. It includes Aguinaldo and all others like him.

BROTHERS HOWARD and Allen have got their wires crossed. Howard says Mickey is a Union Pacific railroad candidate, and Allen proclaims Mickey a B. & M. railroad candidate. Come, gentlemen, get together and put your campaign thunder in better and more substantial condition.—Hastings Tribune.

The schools of South Omaha have made some radical changes in their systems. Many of the studies which have heretofore been an absolute necessity for each pupil to take, have been declared elective. The languages, Latin, Greek and English will be studied, but pupils will not be compelled to take as many years in these as formerly. History and mathematics are also placed on the elective list. The board are also considering the establishing of workshops for the boys.

HARRY TORPIN of Oklafile formerly a resident of Fremont, says the Tribune has just had some experience with kid nappers, or, rather, some kidnappers have had an experience with him. Two boys, Sam Fields and Burt Dillon, aged 14 and 17 years respectively, are under arrest, charged with sending a threatening letter to Mr. Torpin. The boys demanded that Mr. Torpin place $50 in an old tree or his child would be abducted. He put a dummy package in the place named and the boys were gathered in.

A LABOR crowd of citizens and others joined in extending congratulations to W. H. Thompson, after his nomination for governor by the democratic-populist convention at Grand Island last week. Already the opposition press are hurrying epithets at Mr. Mickey, the republican candidate, and the following re-produced from Mr. Thompson's speech on that occasion, is the best proof in the world that all such charges are false. Here is what Mr. Thompson said: "In the conflict that was not yet begun no word of disparagement against his opponent would ever come from his lips. That opponent was a man of high character and throughout the campaign, so far as he was concerned, he would treat his opponent as one gentleman should treat another."

SENATOR BAILEY of Texas assailed Senator Beveridge of Indiana Monday evening just after the senate adjourned from executive session. The Texas senator was dragged away and separated from his opponent by some of those about the senate. He was very angry and threatened severe harm to the Indiana senator. The trouble arose from the result of a discussion the two had during the afternoon, when Senator Beveridge had said that Senator Bailey had made "an unwarranted attack" on Solicitor Penfield of the state department. Immediately after senate closed Bailey demanded Beveridge to withdraw his statement which was refused, whereupon Bailey caught him by the neck and was taken from his opponent by men force.

Bradstreet's Saturday report said: "The current week closes a six months' period which, as regards volume of business done—excepting speculation and general prospects at the close—has had few equals and no superiors."

IRRIGATION WILL HELP ALL.

In passing the irrigation bill congress has taken a step of importance to the whole country. One of the closing arguments in favor of the bill was made by Mr. Tirrell, of Massachusetts, a member of the house committee on irrigation, who denied that the development of lands in the arid region would tend to depreciate the value of farm lands in New England or any eastern section. Even in the eastern states, where a decreased area is under cultivation, agricultural production has largely increased. Cereals are not raised there to the former extent, but market gardening, the dairy, fruit and poultry bring a larger return than before. The New England market is at home and keeps pace with the growth in manufacturing and the building up of the arid region will enlarge the demand for New England manufactured articles. Mr. Tirrell referred to the rising wave of foreign immigration as another proof that new lands must be opened to provide for surplus American labor. It is pleasant to hear such broad views from New England on the irrigation bill, which passed the house last Friday by 146 to 55, and whose provisions apply only to Arizona, California, Colorado, Idaho, Kansas, Montana, Nebraska, Nevada, New Mexico, North Dakota, Oklahoma, Oregon, South Dakota, Utah, Washington and Wyoming. In these states and territories the bill creates a reclamation fund from the sale of public lands within their limits, from which the secretary of the interior is authorized to examine, survey, construct, maintain and operate irrigation works. From estimates made the amount of land to be reclaimed under this bill is at least 35,000,000 acres, and the cost of bringing water to the settler is placed at $10 an acre. Congress deserves the thanks of the country for such a vigorous and business-like start in practical irrigation. The subject will grow rapidly now that an actual beginning is at hand.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

DEVELOPE THE POWER.

The following taken from the Omaha World-Herald is interesting to Columbus people inasmuch as it refers to the importance of the power which will be generated by the proposed canal here: Omaha and South Omaha now consume 100 cars, of twenty tons each, of steam coal per day, at an average cost of $2 per ton, or $4,000 per day. This is the coal which is used for making steam, and as many of the large power plants, such as the street railway and electric light companies, run every day in the year the cost of steam coal per year in the two cities is estimated at almost $1,400,000. It is also estimated that the cost of coal at present prices, is close to 60 per cent of the total cost of power, so that each total cost in the two cities is in excess of $2,000,000 per year. A general strike of one week in the soft coal districts would seriously inconvenience the manufacturing, packing house and other industries of Omaha and South Omaha; a strike lasting a month would cripple and close them down.

Of all the commodities in general use, or of the necessities of business, the supply of coal on hand at any given time in comparison with the demand is the shortest and smallest. An example of this is shown in New York and other eastern cities today being compelled to use soft coal in place of anthracite, and this before the eastern coal strike has fairly started, and notwithstanding the fact that the supply ahead of anthracite coal, partly on account of its better storage qualities, is larger proportionately than the supply of soft coal, particularly of the lowest grade, known as steam coal. One lesson which the figures and conditions set forth here should drive home to Omaha and South Omaha is the advisability, in fact the business necessity, of taking advantage immediately of its natural power advantages. The amount now spent for power each year in Omaha and South Omaha would build, and would almost build and fully equip, any one of the three proposed canals to furnish more power to the two cities than is now being used by them. And as two of the three proposed canals would not interfere with each other, the power supply could later be doubled, making Omaha independent, commercially, of the coal mining industry, and giving it a tremendous advantage in case of coal strikes over any and all of its business rivals.

STAR ROUTE BOX DELIVERY.

We print the following, believing it will be of interest to many of our readers who are served by the rural delivery: Notice is hereby given to the public that the contracts in effect July 1, 1902, for the performance of mail service on the star routes in the states and territories hereinafter named provide that, in addition to carrying the mails to the various post offices, the carrier will be required to deliver mail into all boxes and hang small bags or pouches that may be erected along the line of the route, under the following regulations of the department: Any person living on or near the route and not within the corporate limits of any town or within 80 yards of any post office, who desires his mail deposited at a given point on the line of the route by the carrier may provide and erect a suitable box or cradle on the roadside, located in such manner as to be reached as conveniently as practicable by the carrier or horse, and such person shall file with the postmaster at the post office to which his mail is addressed (which shall be one of the two post offices on the route on either side of and next to the box or cradle) a request in writing for the delivery of his mail to the carrier for deposit at the designated point, at the risk of the addressee. The small bag or pouch above described, as well as the

Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Farrand spent Sunday in Fremont at a reunion of relatives. Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Farrand and two children of Council Bluffs went with them to Fremont after a visit here with relatives. The Farrand families have been camping at McPherson's lake. Chief deputy game and fish warden Sinkins, deputy carter and O'Brien and two other hired assistants have been engaged for several days past in hunting down the seine fisherman of the country and enforcing the laws of the state upon them. We understand that in making a trip down the Loup from Genoa to Columbus ten tons were picked up and destroyed. On Thursday two offenders of the law who were traced down were fined before Justice Hudson, one for $25 and costs, the other for $10 and costs. The officers made these arrests to let the public understand that the law must be obeyed, and to give warning to the game warden and the manner in which they may be caught. Fish weighing over 25 pounds cannot be taken from the river only for personal family use, and any one buying such, lay themselves liable to a fine of $50. Complaints have been made that fish have become scarce in the Loup in recent years and as the stream from the mouth up as far as Genoa is considered one of the choicest strips of fishing country in the state, the authorities will see that there is better protection. —Alexander Conkolki who was arrested on the charge of seduction by complaint of Agnes Mestik, and brought back from the Brooklyn navy yard by Sheriff Byrnes, had his hearing before Judge Hudson Tuesday last week. The attorneys for the defendant waived the right to offer testimony, whereupon Judge Hudson placed Conkolki under $1,000 bonds to appear in the district court, which will meet in the fall. On Thursday he was re-arrested on the charge of bastardy and taken before Judge Batterman, where he plead not guilty. The judge asked for a bond of $750 for his appearance at a continuance of the trial on July 9. Reader & Hober are the prosecuting attorneys while Garlow and Gonsdorf are for the defendant. —When you wish good, neat, clean hand-made work done in the line of printing, call at THE JOURNAL office.

Every instructor should have one, every business man, farmer, minister, statistician, professional man, statesman, orator.

The writer met Dr. D. E. Saxton at the Union Pacific depot Wednesday and enjoyed a very pleasant conversation with a gentleman, who twenty years ago was personally acquainted with nearly every man in Boone and Platte county. Dr. Saxton is now located in Tampa, Florida, and enjoys a very remunerative practice. He and his good wife were compelled to leave the northern climate because of some lung trouble and are now enjoying the best of health. As the Columbus ball team was in town that day the doctor's memory reverted to a great base ball tournament twenty-one or two years ago when the St. Edward "Light Foots" composed of E. T. (Hoot) Long, Fid Long and Jap Heater, and a number of other old-timers, with himself as twirler, went down to Columbus, put up at the Clotter house, and remained in the city a whole week playing a number of different teams, Columbus among the rest, and tearing up the prairie grass with everything that had the audacity to meet them. In the game with Columbus the "Light Foots" met the first man they had ever seen throw a ball for a better, it being the universal custom at that time to pitch the ball, and the captain of the "Light Foots" attempted to have the imported froak ruled out, but was called a hayseed for his pains. St. Edward, however, got next in the eighth inning and pounded the sphere all over the recreation. To give the writer some idea of how long all this happened, the doctor remarked that R. E. Case at that time had just rounded enough mile stones to prove his eligibility to the second nine. Dr. Baxter visited at the home of his sister, Mrs. F. M. Garst, while in St. Edward and left Tuesday morning for a few days' visit at his old home in Iowa, after which he will return to Florida.—St. Edward Advance.

—The Tunisia atlas we are offering JOURNAL subscribers is larger than any other atlas yet published. It shows each hemisphere sixty inches in circumference, the two combined forming a map of the world four feet by two and a quarter feet. These are only two out of many maps in the large volume. We will give any of our subscribers an opportunity to own one of these books. By paying up your subscription to date and $2.40 you may have the book and one year's subscription in advance to THE JOURNAL. New subscribers may have the two for $3.40.

Gentry Bros. Famous Shows United.
The consolidating of Gentry Bros. Famous Trained Animal Shows, which have long been the most popular traveling exhibitions in the world, makes an important union of excellent performances by combining what heretofore traveled separately. The exhibition is fully twice its former size; in addition to the augmented professional displays, the performance this season requires double the space and time that it formerly did. The famous shows united will exhibit here Wednesday July 9, afternoon and night, opposite High school.
