—The largest real estate deal ever consummated in the county, or perhaps the state, has recently been closed. It was the holdings of Samuel Allerton between here and Cedar Rapids consisting of about 10,000 acres. It was bought by a syndicate represented by Mr. McKillip of Humphrey. When this land is subdivided into small holdings, as it is proposed to do, it will be a great benefit to the county. It will greatly increase the population and taxable property, and benefit the trade of all the towns in the south half of the county.—Albion News.

A FAMILY MATTER

Is a family matter when the problem of buying groceries is under consideration. The wife knows what brand of goods has the flavor that suits the taste, and she knows from experience just how much the best should cost. Your part of the matrimonial contract in this respect is to let her choose her grocer—she can do it much better than you—and her mind will tell her to buy her provisions here.

—J. C. Echols received a letter Monday from Senator Millard stating that the location of the postoffice had been settled in favor of the Echols site, but as yet Mr. Echols has had no official announcement from government headquarters. A description of the possible new location will be interesting to our readers however. The building is the east half of the double store structure being erected south of Frankfort park. Elliott & Spicce have the west room and the Echols building is the east half, with a stairway leading to the second story between the two. Elliott & Spicce will occupy the front of their own stair room for their office, while twenty feet off the rear will be connected with the Echols room by a large opening for the use of the postoffice force. The size of the two buildings will be 4420 feet, with north front. Upstairs there will be four suites of rooms for office use, two rooms in each suite. The building will be steam-heated throughout, and will have a dark red pressed brick front with gray stone trimmings. C. J. Scott has the contract for the erection of the building which will cost $7,000. James Porsnell made the architectural designs. Should the government accept the Echols room the lease will be given for five years, beginning with October 1st.

—We learn through reliable authority of one man in Nebraska who last year realized $90 an acre from his alfalfa crop by having an extra yield and by receiving an extra price for the hay and seed. It is a possibility these days for a man to buy 160 acres of land on time, seed it all at once, move to town, send his children to school, carefully harvest and load after his crop of hay and seed, live well and after ten years find himself the father of an educated family of children and the sole owner of the land which he purchased with double its value.—Cedar Rapids Outlook.

—Lightning struck the residence of William Ragatz on Fourteenth street Friday morning about 5 o'clock, starting at the northwest corner near the foundation, the bolt encircling the house and into the ground at the southwest corner, tearing off boards and breaking out bricks in the foundation. The family dog was lying near the corner where the lightning went into the ground and when the shock came he was heard to give a loud howl, ran away but recovered from his scare and returned home the day following.

Voorhis, champion of New York; Phil Wolf, champion of Brooklyn; and Ernest Peterson, the star fiddler of Chicago. George J. Hagel, proprietor of the alley here, says he is making arrangements to have the champions give Columbus exhibition games, and the local bowlers are already becoming interested in the coming event.

—J. E. Mesys and his three helpers are kept busy moving houses these days. In fact carpenters and all who are connected with building have all the work they can possibly attend to. The present season will add many improvements to the city of Columbus, and we doubt very much if there is another place of its size in the state that will do as much in the line of new buildings.

—Spectators at the U. P. depot Thursday afternoon witnessed a rather exciting scene when No. 6 pulled out leaving two of their lady passengers, who had stepped off the train for a rest. One woman managed to get on the lower step of a vestibular car and the other ran about a block at a pretty lively gait before the engineer could stop the train and allow her to again reach her car.
