County Conventions.

Notice is hereby given that the adjourned republican convention of Platte county, Nebraska, will be held at the court house in the city of Columbus, on Monday, the 8th day of September, 1920, at the hour of 2 p. m. of that day for the purpose of placing in nomination one candidate for county attorney of Platte county, and one candidate for representative to the state legislature from the 35th legislative district and for the purpose of selecting delegates to the republican convention to nominate a candidate for senator for the 12th senatorial district.

R. P. DRAKE,
Chairman of Convention.

KANSAS this year is fifth in the rank of apple producing states. Missouri leads.

The annual coal mine is up in Chicago anthracite coal advanced to $9 a ton last Friday, a jump of one dollar in two days.

H. B. TIFFANY of Texas Valley, N. Y., has a live 5-wheeler that would cost the average man a heart which beats with the normal heart. The monster weighs 120 pounds.

The new battleship Maine made her trial trip over the government course off Cape Ann Saturday last and covered the course in 3 hours 20 minutes 30 seconds, and averaged about 18.6 knots, thus proving her to be the fastest of Uncle Sam's big fighting vessels.

SATURDAY the Götterberg, Nebraska, coal brook, and the addition known as Veal Villa was badly flooded. Chismins were badly engaged for a while in capturing fish which weighed from 4 to 10 pounds each and were selling on the streets at 5 cents a pound.

Our day last week a very smooth crook captured the jewelry establishment of A. A. Webster & Co., Brooklyn, N. Y., and removed from one of the show cases a tray containing forty-two solitaire diamonds, valued at $4,000, and the thief made his escape undetected by anyone in the place since his flight.

The noted writer, General Franz Sigel, departed this life at his home in New York City August 21st, in his 77th year, of old age. He was who could rally the men under him during the days of '61, and all who heard the mention of his name would go to my lengths to fight "Mik." Peace to his memory.

The prominent board of education has adopted a rule restricting the old record interval of fifteen minutes each in the morning and afternoon. This is right. It is hard enough for older people to sit three hours at a time without exercising a little, but much more trying to the constitution of growing girls and boys.

Four hundred telegraph operators, one-half the force employed by the Western Union, are to be laid off in the month of September 1. An order raising the minimum salaries, varying in amounts from $2.50 to $10 a month, was issued by the company Saturday. The action which was voluntary, will add $25,000 to the pay roll of the company.

Tommy evidently liked his "roasting corn." A farmer named William Haher, living near Trempealeau, Wisconsin, is dead as a result of eating fifty ears of corn. Mr. Haher had an especial liking for green corn and at dinner on the 19th last ate twenty-four ears. For the evening meal he ate six more ears. He had had some corn in his usual health. He was sweating during the night by taking a shower bath and when he awoke he found to his horror eleven ears of corn in his stomach. In the morning his wife could find him dead, he having apparently died in great agony.

The campaign work of both parties is slow in starting up in this state, but the same is true in other agricultural states as well. Politics can't get the right of way over prosperity.—Omaha Bee.

NO TARIFF REVISION.

The present tariff law stands on sure foundations and approved principles remarks the Chicago Inter Ocean. It is like a house with a few faulty stones in the walls, but solid on its foundation and strong as ever for all the purposes for which it was constructed.
No owner of such a house, no architect would entertain for a moment a proposition to tear down the house because of unimportant or trifling weaknesses.
So, no statesman, looking at the experience of the last five years, no business man, no manufacturer, no man engaged in industrial employment or enterprise, with knowledge of what the Dingley law did for the country and is doing today, is honestly in favor of disturbing our splendid industrial fabric merely to rectify a few crooked lines.
It is a maxim in business as well as in statecraft to let well enough alone. Judged by results, the Dingley act is the best tariff law ever enacted. It means well. It is doing for the country in 1920 as much as it did in 1897. It is not perfect, but under it the country has been and is enormously prosperous.
Leave it alone.

W. K. FOWLER, the republican candidate for superintendent of schools has done more for the advancement of education in Nebraska than any superintendent the state has had. He works with a purpose in view and with a vim and energy that astonishes those who come in contact with him. Mr. Fowler visits the country schools in the pioneer districts as well as those of the prosperous counties and has raised the standard of both. Last winter he published a book giving detailed statistics of the condition of the schools of the state with many illustrations, which was commended by leading men of the state as the most important document issued by the state during the year. Within a few weeks another book on a course of study will have been printed which will be of great service to the country teachers. Mr. Fowler is the kind of man the state needs for officers, conscientious, energetic, truthful and who show by their work that they are worthy the trust of the public.

THE September number of the Woman's Home Companion opens with an article of unusual interest to Bible students, "Digging Up a Bible City." It proves the creation to have been many hundreds years before the date usually assigned. Another article of extreme interest to novel-readers will be London Knight's description of "The Real Strangeness on the Pike." There are three notable short stories, "Abercrombie's Wooing," "The Boat," and "Lady Lee—The Story of a Horse." A magnificent double page is devoted to the St. Louis Exposition. Mothers will be interested in Miss Gould's article on "Clothes for School Children." Published by The Crowell Publishing Co., Springfield, Ohio; one dollar a year; ten cents a copy; sample copy free.

An associated press dispatch from Sterling, Colorado, dated August 21, says: "A large corps of government surveyors today began making a preliminary survey for a ditch to carry water from the Platte river to the great Pawnee reservoir, which, it is believed, the government will build. It will require from two to three weeks to complete the survey and it is estimated the cost of the ditch will be seventy-five miles long, six feet deep, fifty feet wide at the bottom and seventy-five feet wide at the top. From excavations made by members of the surveying party the impression is gained that the Pawnee basin has practically been decided upon as the site for one of the great national reservoirs."

H. C. SPALDING, a prominent citizen of Valley county, received $18,074.04 Friday last for 100 head of cattle, making over $100 per head for his steers. Mr. Spalding said they were his own raising, and were fed on grass and fat on corn. The Omaha World-Herald says it was a fine bunch, and so acceptable to men in any business. Mr. Spalding was pleased with his sale and the market generally. He is an old shipper.

SAMUEL PRYOR, founder of Fryor's brand of St. Joseph, Mo., died in that city Friday last of a gastric disease. He was an interesting character 58 years of age, and had never performed a day's labor at anything except music. His hand has filled engagements in many of the leading cities of the country. In response to a request of the dying bandmaster, his musicians played lively airs for him as he passed away, several pieces being of his own composition.

At the commencing being held in Mustard's grove, Polk county, just across the river from Silver Creek, the Lord came near claiming one of his own, last Sunday evening. As Presiding Elder Wright immersed Miss Heinsoyner, a young woman convert, in the waters of the Platte, he lost his grip and she disappeared, but a big husky farmer appeared and dragged the straggling girl out.

Last spring an eastern seed company offered a prize of $50 for the best onions grown from their seed. Mrs. George Heibaker of near Long Pine, Neb., who recently sent a sample of some of her growth to the firm has been notified that she will be the winner of the prize. Under favorable conditions Nebraska can be cleared in the front rank and average with the best of them.

At Belfast, Ireland, on August 21, the steamer Oedre, of 21,000 tons, the largest liner afloat, was successfully launched at Harland & Wolff's yards. It is 700 feet long, has 76 feet beam and draws 25 1/2 feet of water. She is carrying capacity is 10,000 tons and it has accommodations for 3,000 passengers. It is expected that Oedre will be ready for service in autumn.

Additional Local.

A series of parties were given last week in honor of Miss Helen Hoyt of Dowagiac, Mich., who has been spending the summer with Miss Lillian Adams. Thursday evening Miss Alfreda Post entertained at a dancing party for a few hours, after which the crowd went to the Orpheum opera house to attend the opening ball given by the Orpheum. Friday evening Miss Clara Segalle entertained about ten couples at her home in the eastern part of the city. Dancing was the order of the evening. Saturday evening Miss Lillian Adams gave a ping pong party and also had a guessing game. Familiar advertisements from magazines with the names cut out were distributed, and the crowd guessed who they belonged to. Refreshments were served at each party.

W. H. Lewis returned Tuesday last from a week's visit to Battle Creek, Michigan. He says that though Iowa and Illinois the fields were very wet, but corn looked immense and Nebraska led them all for that crop. Battle Creek is a city of 18,000 inhabitants, about 165 miles from Chicago and 130 from Detroit, with a great many manufacturing industries; among them are Nichols & Shepards and the Advance threshing machine plants; a great many factories making cereals, where costly machinery is required. The large Sanitarium which was destroyed by fire is being re-built and will be one block in length, 535 feet. Electric cars run west 25 miles to Kalamazoo, also to Gull Lake, a summer resort, another line runs north and one east. Mr. Lewis says the reason Battle Creek is such a prosperous city is because of its manufacturing industries. Platte county has better farming land. When Columbus succeeds in getting the power canal there is no reason why we can not be a city of 20,000 in a few years.

D. L. Hough, president of the United Engineering and Contracting Company of New York, who recently made a tour of Nebraska in the interest of the irrigation facilities of the state, has made an encouraging report on the electric power possibilities of the Loup river canal in Platte county, which is to empty into the reservoir north of Columbus and is known as the property of the Nebraska Central Irrigation Company. He says the flow of water can be developed to an average of 10,000 horsepower a day, but sent a distance from Columbus to Omaha. Part of the time the flow will be capable of generating 20,000 horsepower a day. A plant to do this would cost not to exceed $2,000,000. The proposed canal is to be twenty-three miles long, emerging from the Loup river near Geneva. It will approach Columbus over high land and when near will undergo a fall of eighty-five feet. Direct action upon the turbines could be secured from 1,800 cubic feet of water per second, according to the figures of the engineer. Now if eastern capitalists can only be induced to take hold of the scheme what a magnificent improvement it would prove for this vicinity!

The city council met in regular session last Friday evening. A petition signed by Frank J. Gerbers and twenty-four other resident tax payers praying for the extension by the city council of additional water mains through certain streets in the northern part of the city, as being much needed for fire protection and for other uses, was presented and read and upon motion was referred to the committee on public property and water works. The finance committee submitted a report finding the accounts for July of City Treasurer O'Leary, correct. Councilman Clark introduced the following resolutions: "Whereas, The waterworks of Columbus at present rates charged for water, which is far below rates charged by other cities, do not pay running expenses, therefore be it resolved, by the city council, the rates should be raised to a price that will make the waterworks self sustaining." The resolution was adopted by the council. The council find that some change must be made in the price of water rates, as they are running behind in the expense.

The Grays Turned Blue. Thursday afternoon the weather being fine and the game well advertised the park was well filled with fun-loving people. The grand stand being filled with well dressed ladies who could applaud a good play in loud voice. "Jimmie" Jones, the umpire, called out "play ball" right on time, and the battle was on between the Gray aggregation and Hulet & Adams' stalwarts. Both sides had an enthusiastic following and a good play by any of the eighteen men brought forth great cheering. The JOURNAL reporter noticed that pitcher Murphy was as right in his mind and as good as he would strike out a man a broad mind would lighten his countenance; he must have strengthened himself with some of Hulet & Adams' "Fores."

Several of the players on either side were badly pestered with the sphere on different parts of their bodies, but some so badly hurt as to necessitate a stretcher. October Hookerberger got a "hot" one on his right thigh, which caused to his skin, carrying away part of the epidermis. Up to this time Ed had been playing good ball behind the bat, but was sent to the hospital and Frank Reuber put in his place. Ed Williams, who tried to tie up a hot liner of Hulet's but got one in the upper portion that a sting gave him a bad one of the blind player, but as he was navy he stayed with the game. There was any amount of fun and the score only climbed to 17 to 14 in favor of Hulet & Adams.

No Hot Nights in Colorado.
The nights are cool without dampness from dew. The air is pure without undue moisture. There is no excessive heat in summer, the average temperature being 80 degrees. There are no cotton-wool, saturating rainfalls, but rather brief showers, which pass away quickly, leaving clear skies behind them. The summer nights are invariably cool, inviting out-door exercise and inducing rest and refreshing sleep.

Illinois Letter.
WYOMING, Ill., Aug. 15, 1920.
EDITOR JOURNAL:—Thinking a few words from here at this time would be like a chat with some of your readers, I jot a few notes. I arrived at my brother William's in Williamsfield, Knox county, Ill., early Tuesday morning. Next morning, in company with brother went to Wyoming, took lively there for mother on the old homestead which lies about midway between Wyoming and Toulon; found mother, two brothers and three relatives there looking for me, and sure enough, a happy greeting it was. The next day was old settlers' meeting at Toulon, so all rose early on Thursday, Aug. 14, the women folks having prepared a huge picnic dinner for the occasion, your humble servant and others were preparing for a big day. Arrived at O. S. M. at 10 o'clock a. m., and having lived in Toulon for seventeen years prior to moving to Columbus I thought I would know them all, but there is where I made a mistake. Many of them had moved away, many have died, even then, a few I met had to tell me their names before I could recognize them, but nearly every one I saw and recognized seemed to be as happy to meet me as though they were a near relative, and the day will always be fresh in my memory as one of the happy events of my life. We returned to grandma's in the evening after I had promised about twenty persons that I would spend one day in Toulon before returning—my time will be up one week from next Monday. A heavy rain fell last Wednesday morning and another Thursday night. The bottom lands on Spoon river and Indian creek have been overflowed most all spring and the corn has been submerged so many times and so long that it is almost a complete failure. The oats harvest looks just like ours, lodged, weedy and patches left which were too wet to operate the harrower. Since my arrival the days have been cloudy but showers will probably spend day in Wyoming on tomorrow.
