—Walt Henry was over from Ballwood Saturday. With 1,500 acres of land and several hundred head of stock to look after he is kept pretty busy these days.
—Charles Boehlke, living south of the Platte, brought in a pie pumpkin to Aech's store Thursday which weighed 65 pounds. He has others that are still larger.
—Helen Borth Terry has invitations out for a birthday party this afternoon (Tuesday) from 3 to 5:30, at the home of Dr. Martyn. She is celebrating her second anniversary.
—W. R. Jones, an old settler of Platte county but now of Wayne, was in the city several days last week. He reports the corn crop of his section as considerably damaged by frost.
—A. Dussell and H. E. Hewitt were visitors to the Warren sheep ranch of Dunca Sunday. C. C. Gleason, who has charge of the feeding, has between 5,000 and 6,000 sheep to care for this winter.
—Among the appointments by the Bishop of the Methodist ministers whom Columbus people may be interested in are: Alvo, W. H. Shost; Ithia, W. M. Worley; Lincoln, Trinity, N. A. Martin.
—Go away from home for the news. Friday's Ballwood Gazette says: "A little twelve pound barber arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. Beard of Columbus at an early hour yesterday morning."
—Martin Schils went to St. Edward last week and assisted the musicians there in furnishing music for the Boone county fair which was held in Albion. He reports the fair a success and a large crowd in attendance.
—Telephone No. 108 calls up Hagel's new bowling alley. When you feel drowsy or tired from business cares use your phone, secure an alley and take relaxation by bowling a few games. A cure cure for that tired feeling.
—Grading for the new switch at Cayuga, three quarters of a mile long, was finished last week and the gang left for Cedar Rapids. The grading is on the north side of main track and we understand will be used later for double track.
—Nebraska people were very much disappointed in the abandonment of President Roosevelt's western trip. Columbus would have sent a large delegation to Omaha last Saturday to see and hear him. He promises to visit the west in early spring.
—Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Davis of Lincoln came up Saturday to visit a few days with the Davis family. Ben is employed in the drugstore corner of the R. & M. office in Lincoln. They will leave Wednesday for Chicago and will visit in Iowa on their return.
—Among those who went to Omaha last week were: Mrs. Wm. Murray, Mrs. Frank and daughter, Mrs. C. B. Spieck, Mrs. Henry Lobbs, Fred and Miss Margaret, Mrs. I. Ghosh, Mrs. D. H. Newman, Fred Hagel, Frank Smith, W. H. Hensley, W. Frank, Dennis Sullivan.

—Mrs. E. E. Jones has been very sick the past few days.
—Dr. L. C. Von, Homoeopathic physician, Columbus, Neb.
—Duffy has ground oyster shell for chickens at his feed store.
—Pillsbury's Best XXXX Flour, the best in the world, at Grays'.
—D. M. Sullivan started for Omaha Friday to take in the street carnival.
—Highest market price paid for eggs, either case or trade, by C. S. Easton.

—See Forbarger & Spaidell for marble and granite work, 233 N. Eleventh street, Lincoln, Nebraska.
—Les Esay, of near Monroe, came down Saturday and visited with Columbus friends over Sunday.
—Mrs. Florence Hammett will give a face massage with every jar of skin food sold, for just two weeks.
—Carl Kramer started Monday afternoon for Chicago, called by the death of his brother, Ferdinand Kramer.
—The Baptist church is receiving a fresh coat of paint which gives it a more cheerful and inviting appearance.
—A fine 80-acre farm north of Columbus for sale at a bargain. Enquire of Becher, Hochstetler & Chambers.
—A traveling band consisting of six pieces were in the city Saturday and treated our citizens to some good music.
—The State bank building is having a new hot air furnace put in which will certainly prove a valuable improvement.
—C. B. Tomlin has treated his residence with new paint and made other improvements that enhances the value of his property.
—Columbus streets Saturday last presented a very lively appearance, many people being in from the country. Merchants report good sales.
—Dr. Condon of Humphrey was in town Saturday on his way west, as he said, to see the president. We wonder if he wants a post office?
—The ladies aid of the Presbyterian church will give a tea at the home of Mrs. W. H. VanAlstine on next Friday, Oct. 3d, from 3 to 6 o'clock.
—Attorney J. P. Westberry of Norfolk was in the city Saturday between trains en route to Omaha where he joins his family for a few days' visit.
—Capt. Bond expects to start for the east on Thursday. He will attend the G. A. R. reunion at Washington and visit a brother who lives in the capital city.
—Deputy Grand Master Miller of the A. O. U. W., one of the best fraternal societies in existence, was in the city Saturday. He was on his way to his home at Norfolk.
—Word was received here Monday that Adolph Loren was lying seriously sick with typhoid fever in a hospital in Oklahoma. Mrs. Henry Loren has gone to be with her son.
—Today being the first of the open season for prairie chickens, Will Egan and Fritz Finsinger are bagging a few up in Wheeler county. We may be able to give results next week.
—The Edit came out Monday, and we understand with this issue the paper will be discontinued, L. A. Ewing, the editor and proprietor, having accepted a position to travel for a firm in Lincoln.
—I. S. Leavitt, representing the Child Saving Institute of Omaha, spoke for about ten minutes in the Congregational church Sunday morning. Thirty-seven dollars was raised as a donation for the work.
—Martin Schils started on an early train Tuesday for Omaha where he will help the Broken Bow band make music during the Al-Sar-Ben parades. He will play the baritone and will stay till Friday.
—Paul Both and Miss Bertha Heibel will be married this (Tuesday) afternoon at the home of the bride's father, Robert Heibel, northeast of town. A large circle of friends have been invited to witness the ceremony.
—A. B. Allen, secretary of the republican state committee has written that Hon. John T. Kelley, of Wisconsin, who ranks with the best talent of republican orators in the country, will speak in Columbus Friday, October 10.
—Good teachers are very hard to get in Nebraska. Three weeks ago Prof. Kern had a request from the editor of the Nebraska Teacher to send an instructor. Mr. Kern says he does not know of a teacher out of employment.
—The old settlers of Colfax county held their first annual celebration in Schuyler Thursday. A very large crowd enjoyed a picnic dinner and a program consisting of speeches and singing on the lawn of the court house.
—More than fifty tickets were sold at the Union Pacific station Saturday for Omaha. Had "Teddy" been able to have finished his western trip, Columbus would no doubt have seen many times that number to the carnival last week.
—The bowling alley on Twelfth street owned by George Haller was opened to the public Saturday and was well patronized by local bowlers who pronounce the tracks all right. Ed Hagemann will have the management of the hall.
—The sessions of the Federation next Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday will be free to all, and no admission fee charged. The art exhibition in the southeast room of the North opera house will also be free and all visitors will be made welcome.
—Olin Britton came down Monday from St. Edward where he has been spending the summer, and left in the evening for Chicago. He has six months yet in the Rush Medical school before finishing his course. He then expects to locate somewhere in the west.
—Fred Stegner has put in 100 acres of winter wheat on his farm northwest of town. Last Wednesday he plowed his fields for seeding 100 bush of wheat. Mr. Stegner says that several years ago he had experience in feeding soft corn to his cattle and never had better success in fattening them. The soft corn seemed to be relished by the stock.

—Rev. Foster, who had been called by the Episcopal church here to become their pastor, resigned after two weeks' service to accept a call from the Episcopal church of Pueblo, Colorado. Rev. Foster had not yet moved his family here from South Omaha.
—Saturday Wm. Dwyer brought in to town three bunches of Ponderosa, a southern plant grown for food. It is of the same family as corn, grows about ten feet high. The advantage in growing it being a saving of seed and each seed will produce about twenty stalks.—Berwell Tribune.
—Olin From, Dr. McCann, Volts Graves and Joe Ryan left Saturday morning for Cedar Rapids, where they will work on the speaking extension of the Union Pacific. Large groups are going to the new place, and we understand the company expect to finish the work in time for the fall business.
—Hattie Broadbent gave a party Friday afternoon to about forty of her young friends. The entertainment for the afternoon was a game in which all were to make as many words as possible beginning with the letter C. As prizes Florence Gooding received a souvenir spoon and Miss Clifford a ping pong ball.
—Judge Eastman has issued marriage licenses to the following parties: Paul Roth and Miss Bertha Heibel; John Wolke, Surber, and Miss Helen Sopha of Colfax county; John J. Rodewig of Lindsay and Miss Gertrude Hansen of St. Bernard; August Crossman and Mrs. Mary Sherman both of St. Bernard.
—W. O. Marler returned Friday from the west where he has been the past six months, spending most of the time in Idaho and Oregon. He likes Idaho very much and expects to return there with his family in the spring. Coming home he helped with a large shipment of horses, thirty-six cars, which were taken to Omaha.
—Judge Hensley of Columbus is getting his invention patented in sections. When the job is completed and the new car comes into market it won't be a year until when the judge takes a seat at the pilotage he will be billing himself. The newspaper boys would all be glad to see him harvest a half a million.—Bixby.
—At the Methodist district conference held in Grand Island the following appointments of interest to Columbus people have been made: Columbus, Rev. Lester; Omaha, D. E. Tyrndall; North Omaha, J. Q. A. Fleisher; South Tenth Street, Omaha, A. L. Mize; H. L. Powers, D. W. McGregor, and F. W. Brown, missionaries.
—Peter Phillips, living near Ballwood, brought suit last Thursday in the district court against Louis Hahn, as one of the directors of the Ballwood bank which was wrecked by the cashier, Gould, several months ago. The suit is for about $2,000. Mr. Hahn is one of the old settlers of the state and has a habery on Thirteenth street, this city.
—Millinery Opening Wednesday and Thursday, Oct. 1-2, at Mrs. M. J. Rodman's.
—Some man's shirt several nights ago stole from D. McDuffy's chicken house in the eastern part of the city twenty valuable chickens, kindly leaving him the remaining half dozen. Mac is a generous-hearted man and desires us to thank if the person or persons who took them will call again they are welcome to the remainder—or something else.
—P. R. Darrington, who has been the very efficient foreman in the Schosteg factory for several years, is now cashier in the Gray Mercantile store, beginning his work there Monday morning. C. A. Newman who has had the position for the past year, is now bookkeeper in Baggs' grocery, and W. E. Towns takes Mr. Darrington's former position at Schosteg's.
—M. A. Carleton, specialist of the department of agriculture at Washington, has written J. M. Maher requesting a sample of his seedless winter wheat. He says: "I have always considered this to be a very good variety but I never would have expected it would stand the winter that far north." It stood the winter here forty bushels to the acre this year.—Fremont Tribune.
—Dr. Evans has had the building south of the office of Martyn, Evans, Gear & Hansen on Nebraska avenue torn down. This leaves all the lots south of the office vacant. Dr. Evans has not yet decided about building on this place. This location was the one on which Daniel Fancosta's harness shop stood in the early '70s, giving employment the year round to several men.
—J. Armstrong, day switchman in the Union Pacific yards caught his right foot in what is known as the three throw switch south of the round house this Tuesday morning about an hour after he stepped to work. He then crawled under the morning train, and dragged quite a distance. He apparently escaped with nothing more serious than bruises. It is not positively known yet, however, how badly he has been injured, but it is hoped he has received no internal injuries.
—"Oon" Darling was in town Friday and a welcome caller at the J. J. Rodman office. He told about attending the old settler's picnic and dance at Schuyler Thursday and such a time he never enjoyed before. Old times who had been walking with the aid of canes for years, for the time being threw them away and joined in the dance and other festivities as they had done in their younger days. "Oon" did the "talking" for the dance which seemed like old times to him, but his vocal powers did not stand the strain as they did thirty years ago.
—Mrs. Anna Dorovick, aged 70 years, died Wednesday last week after a few days' illness at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Joseph Gutsmier in the southern part of the city. Mrs. Dorovick was born in Poland and came to America in 1838. She leaves five children, Mrs. Joseph Gutsmier, Mrs. John Kryski, Mrs. Joseph Chupak, Leo and Martin Dorovick. One sister, Mrs. Frank of Indianapolis, Ind., attended the funeral, which was held Saturday morning in the Dunson Catholic church. The body was held to rest in the Dunson cemetery beside that of her husband who died some also years ago.

—A reception will be given at St. Mary's new Catholic hospital Wednesday, October 14th, from 9 in the morning and continuing all day and evening.
—All citizens will be made welcome, and shown through the entire building which has been built and furnished in substantial and excellent up-to-date style, equal to any hospital in the state.
—Invitations have been sent out to about sixty clergymen, many of whom will be here at the dedicatory services.
—An admission of 25 cents will be charged. Lunch will be served to all visitors.
—We see that Peter F. Duffy of this city is advertising manager of the Daily Nebraskan, one of the State university papers. By the looks of the publication, which is more than half advertising, we know that Peter has secured employment which will be of good financial benefit to him through his years of university instruction.
—Among the interesting attractions during the Federation of Women's clubs next week will be the large display of pictures and hand-painted china in the southeast room of the North opera house. Miss Minnie Becker, one of the committee on credentials, has received a great many letters from delegates over the state notifying the committee of their coming.
—Fremont's business men do not like the rate of twenty-five per cent on insurance rates and are corresponding with parties in this and other cities in the state as to what ought to be done about it. The likelihood is that the rate will give to the mutual companies a boost the likes of which they have never had before. It would seem that here is a field for some idle Nebraska money and a way in which to keep more Nebraska money at home.—Grand Island Independent.
—Editor Howard has filed a complaint with the inter-state commerce commission against the Union Pacific Railroad company charging them with asking exorbitant freight rates for hauling coal from Book Springs, Wyoming, to Columbus. Mr. Howard says he will demand a hearing soon. The JOURNAL has advocated for years cheaper coal from Wyoming to Mr. Howard would have the thanks of numerous people in central Nebraska should be secured in reducing exorbitant rates. Some day the inexhaustible supply of Wyoming coal will be laid down in Columbus at $5 or less per ton we verily believe.
—Alphons M. Briggs, a former resident of this city, and well known to older readers of THE JOURNAL, died Wednesday last week at the home of his daughter, Mrs. George Bieder, in Council Bluffs, from cancer, aged 69 years. Three sons, E. J. Briggs of Idaho Falls, Idaho, Henry C. Briggs of Victor, Montana, and Clifford G. Briggs of Warm Springs, Montana, and two daughters, Mrs. George Bieder and Mrs. F. M. Compton of Council Bluffs, survive him. The funeral was held Friday afternoon from the residence of his daughter, Mrs. Bieder, interment in Walnut Hill cemetery. The deceased will be kindly remembered by all old-time friends here.
—The Senior class of the Columbus High school are at work listing the town for the coming lecture course. Among other attractions an attempt is being made to secure A. L. Bixby and the quartette of singers that travel with him for the opening number. All persons should secure their season tickets at once. Although the expense of the course will be somewhat greater than heretofore, the price has been kept down to the $1 mark. "Bob Burdette" will be the first of the lecturers. As the price for single admission to any of numbers will amount to 50 cents, there will be a great saving in buying season tickets. Admission to the five entertainments, $1.
—Friday's Omaha Bee contained the following in regard to a former Columbus boy, now of Fremont, whose friends here will hope for his speedy recovery: "Otto Fohl, a Sixth street druggist, met with a serious accident this noon, burning his face badly. He was unpeeling and marking some metallic sodium, when from some cause or other it exploded. His face and neck were burned off. His eye lids were injured considerably, but it is not thought that his eye sight is in any way impaired. It is not known what caused the explosion, but it is supposed that the sodium in some way came in contact with some water. He will probably be confined to a dark room for some time."
—A souvenir of the Stanford University of Palo Alto, Calif., sent by Mrs. Mary Williams, has been received by friends here. The book is a collection of really artistic pictures. The Stanford University having been built by Mrs. and Mrs. Leland Stanford, millionaires, has not suffered for want of money in construction or decorations as most of the public schools have. The buildings, both interior and exterior, are works of art and look more like private palaces than the usual stiff, formal public school. Some idea may be obtained in regard to the library advantages when it is known that an annual fund of $100,000 is set aside for the purchase of new books. All courses in the school are entirely elective and tuition in all departments is free.
—A week ago last Thursday, Lester Jenkinson, a pupil of Mrs. U. S. Mace in the Second ward school, was punished for disobedience by Prof. Lake at the request of Lester's teacher. The following Monday, complaint was filed with the county judge by the boy's father, R. Jenkinson, for assault, against Prof. Lake, and the case was brought up for hearing Saturday afternoon, continuing until 12 o'clock Saturday night and Monday morning, when at noon the complaint was withdrawn before the case was left to the decision of the jury. It is deplorable that such an affair should be brought into court. Lester had received his punishment after school on Thursday and the same evening did his regular work of driving the team herd of cows. He has not been absent from school any day and although the complaint stated that the punishment had been very severe, no scars or bruises were visible on his body a few days after. As a result of the strain for several days and of being the witness stand for over two hours, Mrs. Mace is ill and will be unable to teach again. Her father and sister were telegraphed for arriving Monday, and will take her home with them as soon as she is able to travel.
