Again Fall & Winter Season Approaches.

We have made the most careful preparations to be able to offer the very best goods for the lowest prices. We buy for cash and give our customers the benefit.

Another Advantage we have over those dealers that sell "everything" (all kinds of merchandise and no assortment of "anything") we buy in big quantities and it stands to reason at a lower price than being bought in small lots.

It would please us to show what we can do for you. For instance, with a Ten Dollar Bill of yours. Bring your boy along and let us dress him from head to foot for little money. Would you buy the best Shoe in town for the least money? Best repairing neatly and promptly done. Well, get our prices and be convinced.

—We have a 200 acre farm in Sherman township for sale at a bargain. This is one of the best improved farms in the county and is a snap for somebody. Becher, Hockenberger & Chambers.
—Miss Louise Key of Central City, who was a dressmaker in our city a few years ago, has just received a diploma from the Clarkson Memorial hospital of Omaha, having completed a course there.
—Saturday morning some portages of the city looked as though a cyclone had been doing business—sidewalks and curbs, buildings overturned, wagons and other movables out of place, all in celebration, we suppose, of Halloween's.
—Rev. Laco was given a surprise Wednesday evening by his congregation. He was attending the meeting of the evangelists in the church when he was called to his home and given a shower of substantial for the dining table.
—Mr. Ivory Campbell, whose husband lost his life by accident a few weeks ago at Genoa, a note of which was made in these columns, has been allowed $3,000 on a life insurance policy her husband carried in the Royal Highlanders.
—Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Faubus are parents of a daughter, coming to their home last Tuesday. On the same day and almost the same hour and very near neighbors of the Faubus a son arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Rathburn.
—The Daily Star of Lincoln, Neb., wants agents in every locality, and in addition to paying a liberal commission, is offering some very handsome premiums to club readers. Fall particulars may be obtained by addressing The Star, Lincoln, Neb.
—Indications now are that the railroads will do an immense business this fall—moving the crops and stock to market. A train load consisting of fifty double-deck cars filled with western sheep passed through the city Monday over the Union Pacific.
—Miss Kate Vogel entertained about twenty of her young lady and gentlemen friends Sunday evening to a card party. Miss Lizzie Farley and J. T. Cox received first prizes and Miss Anna Kamp and Will Kerenbrock the booby prizes. Refreshments were served.
—The match game at bowling ten pins between Columbus and Schuyler at the latter place Tuesday night of last week resulted in a victory for the home team. Three games were played, Columbus' total being 2306 pins, Schuyler 2319—five expert bowlers from each city contesting the teams.
—Otto Pohl of Fremont, together with two friends, returned from a hunting trip to Wyoming last Wednesday bringing some valuable trophies of their vacation. Otto captured two elk and one bear, the latter weighing 300 pounds and declared by the natives to be the largest killed in that section for a long time.
—Among the substantial improvements in the city will be cement gutters in front of all the Gluck store buildings on Eleventh street, also the Gleason, Levy and Martyn buildings, and to the north of Friedhof's store. The east front of the latter has a new gutter placed by Jacob Gluck, who has the contract for all these improvements.
—The 680 acres of land near Bobest, belonging to the Herman Landis estate, was sold Thursday at auction's sale in front of the court house in this city for a little less than $50 an acre, bringing $30,303. Two sons of the deceased purchased one-half section, Mrs. Landis 80 acres, Herman Sander 160 acres and George Sander 90 acres.
—Closing out china at November's, etc. on the 4.

—Dr. H. J. Arnold returned Saturday from Colorado where he spent several weeks in hunting wild game.
—Dr. Evans was called to Richland last week by the serious illness of Mr. and Mrs. Nelson's infant child.
—A rabbit hunt was enjoyed by a number of sportsmen on the Barnum farm across the river, last Sunday.
—Don't miss hearing the concert by the Schubert Symphony Club and Lady Quartette this Wednesday evening.
—Dr. and Mrs. Gieseler are the happy parents of a young son who arrived at their home Monday night. All are doing well.
—Jackets, furs and capes, at Omaha prices at E. D. Fitzpatrick's, the white frost dry goods store.
—Howard Geer and Peter Duffy, both recently students, came up to vote, the former coming Saturday and the latter Monday evening.
—Mrs. J. D. Stires and Mrs. F. W. Herrick have issued invitations to an "at home" Thursday afternoon in honor of Mrs. C. A. Weed.
—Mr. Watkins was operated on this Tuesday morning for a tumorous growth on one of his limbs, which has been troubling him for some time.
—A club dance at Masonic hall Monday evening was enjoyed by a number of young people. The Omaha Italian orchestra furnished the music.
—F. T. Walker has removed his real estate office from second door north of the First National bank to a location on the same street opposite Brodthueser's.
—The city horse-car house which for several years stood just across the alley south of the Park livery barn was removed Monday to its new location west of Friedhof's store.
—Mr. David Redpath of Marengo, Ill., is here looking after his land interest in Polk and Butler counties. He will be remembered by many JOURNAL readers as having formerly lived here.
—THE JOURNAL, as usual, goes to press Tuesday afternoon this week. The election is passing off very quietly; reports from the polls of the city and Columbus township indicate that there will be a light vote cast here.
—Mrs. Goodell and Miss Cooney both of Opalita, Nebraska, arrived here Saturday. Mrs. Goodell to visit Mrs. Garlow and Miss Cooney to take medical treatment at the hospital where she will undergo an operation.
—T. H. Williams came up Monday from Lincoln to vote on Tuesday. He is manager of the 800-acre farm at the State asylum, and is kept very busy looking after the grain, cattle and machinery of the place.
—Alonzo V. Miller, president of the South Omaha school board, had preliminary hearing before Judge Vinsonhaler Thursday last on the charge of having accepted bribe money and was bound over to district court under $1,000 bond.
—Master Archie, son of Robert Saley, who broke his arm last summer while visiting in Fullerton, will have to undergo some special treatment for the injured member. The bone has not knit properly and his arm was left in a stiffened condition.
—Next week Wednesday Madeline Booder, Hickok and Geer will give an "English Tea" at the home of Mrs. Booder. Those wishing to visit London can do so for the small sum of 5 cents. Refreshments will be served, for which 10 cents will be charged.
—G. T. Everett, the local manager of the new Independent telephone line, was married last Wednesday to Miss Edith Moorman of Packwood, Ia., at the home of the bride. The couple arrived here a few days later and expect to make Columbus their future home.
—Shane McKellar of Cedar Rapids was in town Saturday on his way home from Omaha where he accompanied his mother and sisters on their way to San Antonio, Texas, where they will make their home. Mr. McKellar will yet be in Cedar Rapids for several months yet.
—Fred W. Wotke has filed complaint in the district court against Robert A. Hunter charging him with misrepresenting a certain piece of land in Buffalo county purchased by Wotke from Hunter. Wotke says Hunter represented the land as good and tillable, whereas it is the opposite.
—Nicholas Elmsner made this office a friendly business call Saturday. Mr. Elmsner has been spending a good deal of his time lately on his farm across the river. He tells us that at Dunca 5,000 sheep are being fed which gives a good market for hay and grain. Hay is selling there for $5 and $6 a ton.
—The Columbus Poultry and Pet Stock club will meet this Wednesday evening in Fireman's hall to complete arrangements for the poultry show, which will be held in this city the first week in December. L. P. Harris of Clay Center, a well known poultry man, has been engaged as judge.
—Miss Anna Gess entertained about twenty young lady and gentlemen friends last Thursday evening at her home to a high five party. Miss Lillie Engel and Albert Rasmussen were the winners of the prizes, each receiving a box of bon bon. As a reminder of Halloween's, a fortune-teller appeared to tell the future of the guests. Refreshments were served late in the evening.

—At the ministerial association Monday evening the advisability of holding union services beginning some time in January was discussed. It was also decided that the union Thanksgiving services be held in the Methodist church, Rev. Rosenman of the Baptist church preaching the sermon.
—During a dance at David Kluck's farm residence near Richland one night last week, a man named Young, about 25 years old, was seriously stabbed during an altercation with a man from Schuyler. His assailant has not yet been apprehended, but the Colfax county officers claim to know who he is and are after him.
—At the public sale of the Barnum lands last Saturday, the home farm of 1100 acres just across the river was sold to George Barnhart for $24,700; 100 acres in Gosport county was bought by Howard Robinson for $1,500, and 100 acres near Dunca was sold for $1,275 to J. M. Goodring. Mr. Barnhart represented several heirs in the estate who together held a large interest.
—The State University football team defeated the Haskell Indians in Lincoln Saturday, the final score standing 28 to 0. There were 4,000 noisy enthusiasts out to witness the game. This, together with their splendid victory a few weeks ago in Minnesota encourages the supporters of Nebraska to believe that Booth's men will go through the season without defeat.
—Owing to strict orders from the mayor, the usual number of Halloween pranks were not committed about town, although there was some damage to property reported. The advertising signs south of St. Francis academy were pulled down, which will be an expense of about $20 to some one for repairs. The guilty offenders should be punished for such extravagant sport.
—George Scott, jr., entertained a large number of young lady and gentlemen friends last Wednesday evening at the Masonic hall, in honor of Miss Nellie Barnhart of Ft. Worth, Texas, who is here with her father visiting friends. The Masonic orchestra furnished the music for the dancing. Refreshments were served in the hall and all present spent a most enjoyable evening.
—On account of not being able to get the right kind of coal for use in the furnace at the electric light plant, the lights in the city have been somewhat short the past week. On account of the strike on the Union Pacific many cars of coal are sidetracked in the west and although there is no danger of a coal famine in soft coal, dealers experience a good deal of trouble in keeping up their supplies.
—During the past season Buffalo Bill's Wild West has covered the territory between New York and San Francisco. Thence to New Orleans, and from there to Memphis, Tenn., where they close the season next Saturday, the 6th. On December 6, they will leave New York for London, England, where they hold forth during the winter. At present their plan is to remain three years touring foreign countries.
—Rev. and Mrs. Wood of Joplin, Mo., were entertained last week by their friends of the Episcopal church. Monday evening Mr. and Mrs. Herrick gave a dinner party to a few friends, Tuesday Dr. and Mrs. Evans entertained them to a 6 o'clock dinner and later in the evening the Ladies Guild gave a reception at the home of Homer Robinson. Rev. Wood left Friday for his home and Mrs. Wood remains to visit with friends.
—Jack Keating was married October 23d to Miss Mamie Longton of Riverport, Nebraska, at the home of the bride's parents. The bride is the sister of Mr. Keating's first wife and passed her girlhood days in this city. Mr. Keating is baggage agent for the Union Pacific in Kearney and the newly-wedded couple have begun housekeeping in that city. Mr. and Mrs. Keating have the hearty congratulations of their many friends in Columbus.
—Mrs. E. M. Eisenman is expected home today from her month's visit in Washington, D. C., and Chicago. In the latter city Mrs. Eisenman visited her son Josie who is in the McCowan school for deaf children. The school is conducted on an advanced plan for the unfortunate who are thus afflicted. After a few years' training in this institute children are able to talk and converse the same as anyone with good hearing. The school has demonstrated by several years' trial what wonderful advancements are being studied for the benefit of unfortunate.
—Walter Galley returned Wednesday last from a three months' trip into the Dakotas. He reports crops good in that section, wheat averaging 25 to 35 bushels per acre. New settlers are flocking to that section at a lively rate, and land is fast increasing in value, ranging in price from $5 to $25 an acre. All grains that do well here are also grown there with the exception of corn which they do not plant. Stone in considerable quantity is found there which is mostly used for foundation purposes. Walter is much pleased with the newer country but likes Nebraska a little better.
—Warwick Saunders, who ran the Platte Center Argus in this town not a great many years ago, is now located at Davenport, Iowa, managing a ready print house, which is under control of a trust. When Warwick lived in Nebraska he would cross the street to avoid meeting anyone connected in the remotest manner with a trust, because he hated them so—much so that he suspected there might be something in it for him. Mrs. K. A. Kabos arrived home Wednesday evening from Canada, where she was called on Oct. 10th by a message announcing the serious illness of her mother. Upon arriving she found that her mother had passed away.—Platte Center Signal.
—There is rarely seen these days in stage work such a really enjoyable combination of comedy and humor and deep, biting pathos as is shown in that centrally quaint play of country life in central Indiana, "Six Hopkins," which comes to the North opera house Saturday evening with Miss Rose Malville in the title role. "Six Hopkins" is a character which Miss Malville originated some years ago and it has grown to be one of the most artistic and greatest stage plays now before the public. This is Miss Malville's fourth tour as "Six" and her popularity is so firmly established that it seems as if she might go on playing the character which has made her famous, for an indefinite period.
