—Wanted, girl for general house work; three in family; good wages. Inquire residence of Mrs. Garrett Hulst.

—L. R. Latham left Monday afternoon for Rochester, N. Y., where he was called by the serious illness of his aged mother.

—Miss Marguerite Neumann entertained a number of her young friends Friday afternoon at the home of Dr. Neumann.

—Dr. Thomas Sexton of Seward preached in the Presbyterian church Sunday. He did not come as a candidate for the church.

—Miss Elizabeth Watkins returned Sunday to Omaha where she expects in a few months to complete her course in a commercial college.

—Ralph Coolidge expects to leave in a few days for Lead City, S. D., where he will work at his carpenter trade on a magnificent new depot which is being built at that place.

—O. L. Baker's force of men were putting in ice at the Hagel cold storage and ice house Monday and Tuesday. It is of fine quality—clear as crystal and sixteen inches in thickness.

—LOST, a white greyhound about one year old, with scar on right side of neck. Five dollars will be given to any one giving information leading to the finding of him. A. M. Gray.

—We have a 200 acre farm in Sherman township for sale at a bargain. This is one of the best improved farms in the county and is a snap for somebody. Beecher, Hootenberger & Chambers.

—Joseph Herrod comes here from North Platte to take the position of round house foreman with the Union Pacific company. He is a married man and will move his family to Columbus.

—Dr. R. A. Vallier, Osteopath, has located in Columbus for the practice of his profession. Those who have failed to be cured by other methods will do well to try Osteopathy. It's cures are permanent. Office, Barber Building.

—The stage settings and scenery are far above the average and the company is an exceedingly clever one throughout. "The Missouri Girl" made a hit and is in line for a big week.—St. Louis Globe Democrat. At North opera house, January 15.

—The Crescent bowling team of Lincoln will be here Thursday evening to meet Columbus bowlers in a match game at Hagel's alley. An admission fee of 10c will be charged to help defray the expenses of the visitors. An interesting game is expected.

—The twenty-fifth annual meeting of the Nebraska state historical society will be held January 13 and 14 in Lincoln. A splendid program has been arranged including speeches from Robert W. Furnas, Hon. George L. Miller, Edward Roosevelt and others.

—Miss Nellie Evans entertained friends at her home Thursday evening in honor of her guest, Miss Billa, of Fairbury. A Christmas tree loaded with decorations and gifts for the guests furnished the principal amusement of the evening. The rooms were decorated in holly and mistletoe.

—Prof. Kern was honored by the State Teachers' association last week in Lincoln, being elected vice president for the coming year. C. A. Fulmer of Pawnee City was elected president, A. O. Thomas of Kearney secretary and A. L. Carvines of Fairbury, treasurer. Prof. Kern is the only officer from the north part of the state.

—The school board held their regular meeting Monday. The resignation of Miss Clara Hohl, primary teacher of the West End school, was read and dismissed at length by the board. Miss Hohl has been offered a position in the Albion schools and has resigned her place here. The board finally decided to wait until a suitable teacher could be obtained, before taking action.

—We have a bargain to offer our former subscribers. We can give you THE COLUMBUS JOURNAL and Nebraska Farmer, the two papers one year for $1.75. Now is the time to subscribe. Don't wait, as this offer may not be of long duration. The Journal will give you the city and county news while the Farmer is valuable to every one who is interested in agriculture.

—Dan Linnaeh, who has held the position here of round house foreman with the Union Pacific for about eighteen months, left Monday for Beatrice where he will have a district foreman's position at a much better salary. The round house at Valley, Valparaiso, Lincoln and St. Joseph will be under his charge. While Dan's many friends will be sorry to see him leave here, they will be glad to learn of his success.

—In its account of the state teachers' association meeting held in Lincoln last week the Star says: "The educational council met last night in the library building of the university. W. M. Kern of Columbus gave a report on the graded schools for the committees on this subject. In this report Mr. Kern noted the scarcity of teachers, the untimely parting of teachers, the unwillingness for their calling that many show and especially dwelt upon the need for reform in the training of teachers."

—H. H. Hunsman and family accompanied by Mr. Hunsman's mother, and Henry Quatman and family, left Monday for Cordova, Maryland, where they will make their future home. R. Pingus and family left last Wednesday for the same place. Julius and Oscar Hunsman went several days ago, accompanying the two cars of freight shipped by the families. The Nebraska neighborhood will miss some of their best farmers and the friends regret their removal from this county, but sincerely wish that they may be prosperous in their new location.

—Accounts from other towns in regard to the security of coal convoys are that Columbus has been especially favored in that line. The Schuyler Quill says: "The rush for coal Wednesday morning when a car load arrived resembled a foot ball match. When a freight arrived with a load consigned to H. C. Wright all the draymen in the city surrounded the car before it was set in place and each time the switch engine moved the car the draymen roared for the place. The car was practically empty before it was set."

—The city council held their regular meeting last Friday. From the report of the city water commissioner it was found that there is one city from the water fund for sprinkling the streets, the sum of $1,000.00. There is one from private parties the sum of $163.37. The West End Sewer Co. and the council are having a little trouble in regard to the payment of $30 which has been turned over to the city attorney for collection. On the 4th of July, 1919, George Cecil of Ballou drove into an uncovered ditch of the West End Sewer Co. containing injuries to his horse and buggy. He sued the city for the sum of $120, which was finally reduced to $20 and paid by the city, and which the city now sues from the Sewer company. The council allowed bills to the amount of $774 for the month of December.

—A few business houses in the city changed hands the first of the year. Charles Stillman sold his drug store, which is one of the oldest established in this part of the state, to Charles H. Deck. The invoice was taken for the first of the year but the formal transfer of the business has not yet been completed. Mr. Stillman will remain in the city for some months but may decide to locate some place in Nebraska. He will retain his office of secretary for the State Pharmacists. Another change of business firms is the Fred Stevens livery barn. Mr. Stevens selling part of his stock of carriages and horses to his brother-in-law, Frank Hunkford, who has for some time had charge of the barn on west Thirtieth street. The Duffy feed store has been sold to Mr. Greenwalt of the firm of Drake & Greenwalt, the second-hand store operators opposite Friedhof's. The transfer was made on the 1st.

—A double wedding occurred at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James T. Bonner five miles south of town last Thursday noon, when their two daughters were married. The parties were Edgar V. Price and Miss Caroline H. Bonner and Arxel G. Anderson and Miss Mary E. Bonner. Rev. G. A. Luce of this city officiating. Messrs. Fred H. Price of York and August G. Samuelson of Polk county were best men, while Miss Nellie Lyon of Seward and Miss Lucy Henning of Stromberg were bridesmaids. Mr. and Mrs. Price will reside in Polk county where the groom is a teacher in the public school, while Mr. and Mrs. Anderson will live in Kearney county. The wedding, which was attended by about forty friends, was somewhat unusual in several ways. Just twenty-five years before the parents of the brides were married. Mr. Price and his brother who acted as his groomsmen are twins.

—J. F. Siems, the inventor of the natural hen incubator, was a business visitor to this office last Saturday. Few people know the extent of business Mr. Siems transacts on his farm four miles west of Platt Center. Several years ago he invented what he calls the "Natural Hen Incubator" and which, through a thorough system of advertising, has made him a rich man. Eastern agencies are employed to superintend and contract with papers and periodicals for their space. Mr. Siems tells us that his advertising, in one year, amounts to over $5,500. He advertised in 200 or more periodicals, 30 of which were poultry papers. His mail reaches up to as high as 800 letters daily. At his home on the farm Mr. Siems has four printing presses which he uses for printing his literature, part of the time running all at once. Last Saturday he received word that a patent had been granted him for a "Thermometer" an invention of Mr. Siems for the regulation of heat in an artificial incubator, which he has had in mind for about a year and a half. The "Thermometer" is contrived with alcohol and mercury and is so simple in construction that it seems surprising that something of the kind has not been thought of before. As soon as arrangements can be made Mr. Siems will contract for the manufacture and sale of the "Thermometer," which he has great faith in being a success. He says he believes it can be put on the market for $11 apiece. This is the city of Washington, D. C., last fall, Mr. Siems purchased a fine residence property and expects at some future time he will move to that city to make his home.

—The trial of Mrs. Lena M. Lillie in David City, who is charged with the crime of murdering her husband, is still in progress, and will probably be continued through this week. While Mrs. Lillie is beginning to fully realize the gravity of the awful crime with which she is charged, she is standing the ordeal with remarkable fortitude. Counsel for the state contends that they scored a strong win with which the crime was committed. Dr. S. C. Beede, Dr. H. E. Burdick and J. D. Sprague. These are the best witnesses for the prosecution that have yet been introduced. The attorneys say their best and strongest evidence is yet to come and that they have plenty of it. The revolver which was unquestionably brought into court is said to have been found by Sheriff West in the commode drawer on the morning of the murder. There were four cartridges in it, two empty and two loaded. It is a .32-caliber long, and the bullets now in evidence fit this revolver. The revolver will be more fully identified by the sheriff and offered in evidence. The attorneys for the state say this is possibly the pistol with which the crime was committed. It is also claimed that this revolver was the property of Mr. Lillie, and that Mrs. Lillie so testified before the coroner's jury. County Attorney Walling was asked if any other revolver would be produced, he said: "We have nothing to say on that point now." Monday the strongest witness was Edward L. Bannan, a board of trade dealer who testified that Mrs. Lillie had transacted business with him for the past four years, and according to his books her loss from Aug. 7, 1919, up to the time of Mrs. Lillie's death was $1,025. The shooting was done during the evening. Judge Miller, attorney for the defendant, moved to dismiss the case, but was overruled.

—At the meeting of the Masonic society Sunday they decided that hereafter the hall should not be rented to parties who engage orchestra talent from out of town for dances. The Orpheus society at their next meeting will bring up for consideration a similar resolution. This action is taken because those interested in orchestra music claim that our home talent is not receiving the recognition they should. There are several first-class organizations who spend much time and money for their improvement, and they feel that those who hire music for dancing should protect the home product.

—Eggs kept for hatching, says Wallace's Farmer, are better in a basket with a flannel cloth thrown over the bottom and sides than in any thing else. A tin or earthen vessel works too easily. A wooden vessel is good, as are also the egg crates, but these necessitate so much trouble in turning the eggs that we would rather have two baskets, cloth lined, and change the eggs every other day than to be bothered with the fillets of the egg crates. Every one knows that eggs for hatching should not be handled with greasy hands, but every one does not know that the eggs should not be exposed to strong odors. A setting of eggs in a room where a vapor-cresoline lamp is burning would stand a very poor chance of hatching.

—The Commercial club of Schuyler held a meeting for this Wednesday to consider an offer from J. F. Ritter an expert packer of canned goods who offers to invest $10,000 in a plant in Schuyler providing a company can be organized that will furnish $15,000 or $25,000 more. The estimated profits on such a plant are from 30 to 40 per cent to the investor. The Quill says: "During the existence of the Blair concern the entire season's pack has been sold each year before the goods were boxed. The last carload of this season's output was shipped from Blair before Christmas. Mr. Ritter has the assurance from Omaha jobbers that they will contract for all the goods he can pack; the jobbers knowing his reputation. It is the custom of a canning factory to contract with farmers to buy all the corn they raise before the seed is planted, and corn for canning is a sure crop in Nebraska, as it is harvested before the time dry weather usually affects grain. The usual price paid for green corn is $5 a ton and three tons to an acre can safely be relied on." Columbus will be glad to see Schuyler a prosperous factory town in another year.

—District court convened Monday afternoon for the Borchers murder trial, within three hours a jury was selected. The jurymen are August Bostelcher, John Deegan, J. F. Balford, Z. T. Moran, H. L. Kneenan, Henry Gehring, John Finger, Lucius Hungerford, T. C. Hogan, Gus Ernst, David Schupbach and Gus Halgren. Herman and Charles Borchers are young boys, either one looking under twelve years old. Tuesday morning the younger boy Charles, was put on the witness stand. He seemed perfectly unconscious of the enormity of the crime, and in answering the questions put by the county attorney, Wm. O'Brien, told what has already been given to the public of the shooting of his father by his brother Herman Gerhard Borchers on the farm near Hum phrey, last August; how that the older brother, not yet 14 years old, shot the father in the back of the head, hauled the body to a straw stack where it with the stack was burned. The attorneys for the boys will make the defense that the testimony of Charles should not be considered in the case as he is not responsible, being too young. The court room was crowded this morning and scarcely a whisper or sound could be heard while the young boy almost whispered the answers to questions put to him.

—Word was received here Saturday of the death of Andrew Easton, the aged father of C. S. Easton of this city. Mr. Easton left here a few days before Christmas for a visit to Denver and Leadville, and no intimation of his ill health had been given until a telegram telling of his death was received Saturday. A letter written later stated that he died suddenly and peacefully at 3 o'clock Saturday morning, Mr. Easton was born November 6, 1819, in Onondago, New York. Later he came to Marengo, Illinois, where he lived many years. He was married March 20, 1855, and by this union six children were born. Mrs. Esther Covey of Wisconsin, Mrs. Emma Eckhardt of Leadville, (at whose home the deceased passed away), Bert, living south of Columbus and Charles of this city, survive him. Albert Pike, also of this city, was a step-son of the deceased. Mr. Easton had made his home in and near Columbus for the past thirteen years. He was always known as an unassuming, honest man, and lived the life of a true Christian. He was a devout Methodist and until his hearing failed his was a faithful attendant at church. The remains were brought through Columbus Monday night accompanied by Mrs. Eckhardt of Leadville. From here the two sons, Charles and Bert, accompanied their sister to Marengo, Illinois, where interment will be made. Peace to his memory.

—The Leigh World says: "A cablegram was received in Leigh Sunday by Mr. Cowdry from Manila announcing the arrival and marriage of his daughter, Miss Alice Cowdry. The cablegram stated that she arrived on December 27, and was married the same day. Her husband is Mr. M. L. Stewart, formerly of Lincoln, Neb., but who now has a government position in the Philippines. As is the custom in such arrangements the groom together with a party of friends met the transport in the harbor and the ceremony was solemnized before Miss Cowdry's journey had a happy ending, but from the unattended press dispatches regarding the transport Sherman on which Miss Alice Cowdry was a passenger, she certainly had a very thrilling experience just before her journey terminated. The dispatch says that the Sherman struck a rock near San Bernardino street, south of Leason Friday night. The transport sustained a heavy shock and some of its plates were damaged. After the accident thirty-three inches of water was found in its forward bilges but fortunately was controlled by steady pumping and the transport proceeded to Manila under its own steam.

When the rock was struck great excitement prevailed on board, and the passengers promptly took their places on the small boats with life preservers but it was not found necessary to put them in active use. We are glad to state that Miss Cowdry's experience on the boat was no worse and that the ending was a happy one." The young lady referred to in the above was a former resident of Columbus and is remembered by many readers of the JOURNAL.

—Thursday's Omaha World-Herald had the following in regard to the A. V. Miller bribery case, in which many Columbus people have been interested, as Mr. Miller formerly resided here: "At 8:30 o'clock Wednesday night, the jury in the case of the state against President Miller of the South Omaha school district, charged with bribery, appeared in court and returned a verdict of not guilty. The prosecution rested Wednesday forenoon and the jury was excused while the lawyers argued a motion made by the defense to take the case from the jury and instruct a verdict of not guilty. There is another case pending against Miller. Judge Baxter overruled the motion to instruct the jury, and the jury was so notified."
