NORTH OPERA HOUSE

Wed., Feb. 14th.

—James Livingston, brother-in-law of Eugene Rice of this city, who came here for the first of the year from Wyoming to receive medical treatment, died at St. Mary's hospital Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock. Mr. Livingston was 45 years of age, and a steam cutter by trade. He leaves two boys—John aged 14, and Walter 9,—his wife having preceded him to the spirit world some nine years. The funeral was held this Tuesday afternoon.

—New officers to occupy their places for the next six months were elected at the business meeting of the city band Tuesday last week as follows: Bob McCreey president; L. Schreiber, jr., vice president; Bert J. Galley secretary; Frank Schils treasurer; Martin Schils assistant leader; Herb Clark and John Stovick, jr., trustees. The boys are casting about for a leader, having been without one since Prof. Garlick left the city.

—"A Messenger Boy" at the New Theatre last eve, played to a large and enthusiastic audience, and gave excellent satisfaction. Mr. George D. Sweet in the character roll of Grit, the Messenger Boy, won the hearts of the entire audience and his support was excellent.

—THE JOURNAL was misinformed in regard to an item which appeared in last week's issue. At the business meeting of the Monarch society the proposition was presented to not rent their hall to parties who engage orchestras from out of the city for their dancing music. Contrary to what the paper stated the motion was defeated. The Orpheus society will not hold a business meeting for some time and this question will probably not be brought up for consideration.

—David Berry, who was arrested several weeks ago charged with the stealing of a number of fur coats from the store of F. H. Rascha, was sentenced last week by Judge Hollenbeck to two years in the penitentiary. Berry says he was not the one who stole the articles, but that he was sent by others of his gang to dispose of them and is doing so was caught by the police. —During the heavy gale Tuesday night and Wednesday last week which is said to have traveled at the rate of sixty miles an hour, some little damage was done to property in this city. The metal cornice on the north front of the Henry building corner of Eleventh and Olive streets was torn from its fastenings; a section of steel roofing was lifted from the Park livery barn; the tent west of the Vienna shooting gallery was torn into shreds and is a total loss; branches of trees and loose boards were hurled through the streets at a rapid rate that at times was dangerous to pedestrians.

—"Are You a Mason" the big comedy farce success adapted from the German by Leo Dietrichstein will be the attraction at the North opera house next Wednesday evening. The play is now in its third season and has made a laughing and financial record unequalled by that of any comedy ever presented on the American stage. Of the many comedy productions sent out by Rich & Harris this one is considered as the champion laugh inviter. The play apart from its story and dramatic excellence possesses genuine merit and is pure and clean in its fun. It provokes incessant laughter of the kind that one is not ashamed to acknowledge. The theme of the story is based on the pretended signs, ceremonies, grips, etc., of Masonry. The humor is so direct that the fun of the Masonic pretense is clear to everybody.

—George S. Truman of Genoa, who for many years has furnished THE JOURNAL with the government weather report, is known to his friends as honest man. The Genoa Leader has the following, which coming from Mr. Truman has its weight of truth: "The Leader gives it up and hereby apologizes to both Harry Fonda and Uncle George Truman. We were skeptical about their statements in regard to it knowing when there were no clouds to be seen, and, as our readers know, intimated as much in these columns. But Uncle George has convinced us that it is not only sometimes rains out of a clear sky but also that in some sections of the world it rains cats and in the future, if he should tell us that it rained rattles snakes, elephants or alligators we shall accept it without question. He brought us a Pennsylvania paper this week containing the following: 'It is reported that the Chester pits, from Leipsville to Sharon Hill was struck with cats, large and small, Saturday morning. Ed. White, an Edington teacher, picked up quite a number along the pits in Prospect Park. Some of the cats were two feet long and still alive. Daniel Hodgman, of Prospect Park, found six cats near No. 3 toll gate, and T. Elwood Urian, watchman at No. 3 toll gate, saw several cats wriggling in the road while on his way to work that morning. It is the general belief among the residents of Prospect Park that the cats fell during the heavy rains of Friday night.'" their town records in a building which was consumed. At Cedar Rapids several stores were destroyed, the total loss being estimated at $150,000 with insurance of about $8,300. The fire started at 5 o'clock in the morning, in a restaurant, and on account of the strong wind it was very hard to save the greater part of the business portion of the town.

—After a trial of Herman Borchers in the district court last week for the murder of his father, extended from Monday to Thursday night, the jury returned a verdict of not guilty after five hours deliberation. With the evidence in hand many people were surprised that such a verdict was reached, but those who listened to the evidence were sympathetic for the boy, and believe that in the reform school he will receive the proper training he has lacked in past years, and may develop a bright boy. Judge A. M. Post and W. M. Cornelius, who had been appointed by Judge Hollenbeck, defended the boy's interests in an able manner, while County Attorney O'Brien conducted the prosecution for the state. On Friday August Johnson, an uncle of Herman Borchers, filed complaint against the boy and he was taken before Judge Ratterman who sentenced him to the Kearney reform school until he is 21 years old. The younger boy, August, who was implicated with Herman in the murder, has requested to be sent to the school, and charges will probably be brought against him soon to have him sent there also. Sheriff Byrnes will take Herman to Kearney today.
