—Ed. Butler accompanied his brother Walter to Cedar Rapids last week to assist him in getting settled in his new home.
—Dr. McKinley of Humphrey was in town Thursday on his way to Ohio where he was called by the serious illness of a brother.
—Wm. Schils makes boots and shoes in the best style, and uses only the very best stock that can be procured in the market.
—Miss Mand Parker is teaching school in Fullerton, taking the place of another teacher who has been granted temporary leave of absence.
—Miss Alice Wiss returned Thursday from Richland where she was engaged for a week serving Gus Kluck through a siege of pneumonia.
—The Bachelor girls met with the Misses Baker Thursday evening. Next Thursday they will be entertained by Miss Bertha Stamler.
—Miss Lydia McMahon left Thursday for Geneva where she has been appointed to the position of matroness in the Girls' Industrial school.
—Miss Tina Zinnecker came home Thursday from Creton near where she is teaching. She was compelled to take a vacation because of sickness.
—A large circular window has been placed in the south wall of the First National Bank building. The appearance to the edifice has been greatly improved.
—Ordinarily Nebraskans enjoy good roads, streets and crossings, but during the past week these have been in a very muddy condition, making it unpleasant for pedestrians.
—I. Sibbernson of Omaha was in town Monday, delayed by the flood, on his way to Clark. He was on one of the passenger trains that were sidetracked here on account of the high water.
—Joe Mahaffey of the Fullerton News-Journal was in the city over Sunday visiting friends. He is well pleased with his position. While in town he paid THE JOURNAL a fraternal visit.
—The ladies' aid society of the M. E. church will give a tea Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Ferrand. The same evening at the same place ice cream and cake will be served. All are invited.
—The entertainment and box social which was to have been given last Friday in the Bean school house south of the river, was postponed to this coming Friday. The proceeds will go toward the buying of books for a library.
—F. N. Stevenson was in the city Saturday. We learn that some time ago he resigned his position as manager of the Iowa-Nebraska creamery company and that in the not far distant future he will again claim Columbus as his home.
—Rev. Halsey of the Presbyterian church will give a series of sermons on Sunday evenings during the month which will be of special interest to men. Next Sunday evening the subject will be "The man who said he would and couldn't."
—Mrs. Eisenhauer, an aged German lady living in the east part of town, was operated upon by Drs. Arnold and Tiesing for kidney trouble last Tuesday. Mrs. Wm. Crocker of Boone county, a daughter of Mrs. Eisenhauer, is with her mother.
—David Baynon, who for twenty years has been a farmer in Joliet township, moved his family to Gage county last Friday. Mr. Baynon has not sold his farm here and should he not be pleased with the new location will return to Platte county.
—After planning to that end for two years, Nebraska bowlers are finally to have what they earnestly desire. A state bowling association, with an annual tournament, is formed, and the opening journey will in all probability be held at Lincoln early in May.
—A. B. Cramer has resigned his position as manager with the Columbus Tank Line Co., and will move the first of next week to the James Horn farm northwest of town. John F. Myers of Platte Center, a cousin of Mr. Cramer, will take the position with the company.
—Thomas Deck is making some valuable improvements in the Skillman drug store building recently purchased by himself. New large plate glass windows have been placed in the north window and this week a steel ceiling will be put on. New show cases have been purchased, and an elegant oval water fountain. The room will be freshened also by painting and papering.

—Dr. L. G. Von, Homoeopathic physician, Columbus, Neb.
—If you have a sprain or other ailment, try Dr. G. W. Dowell's Ointment. It is the best in the world, at Grays'.
—Miss Esther Johnson, who teaches north of town, spent Sunday at home.
—Fresh Roll Butter at 15c. Percy Roll at 17c, at Herman F. H. Oshlrich's.
—Hon. W. A. Way came up Saturday from Lincoln to spend Sunday at home.
—Mrs. E. S. Nowlin has been confined to her home by sickness the past two weeks.
—The Auditorium orchestra give their concert this Tuesday evening at Orpheus opera house.
—Jim Frasier has shipped to the South Omaha market since February 7, nearly one thousand head of cattle.
—A position as farm hand is wanted by German speaking man in a family of English speaking people. Apply at this office.
—The physicians of Leigh, Creston and Humphrey are contemplating establishing a hospital at Humphrey for which initial steps have been taken.
—Fred A. Roberts, who has been in Grimes's clothing store for several years, has accepted a position in the clothing department of Friedhof's store.
—Editor Wm. Morris of the Claris Enterprise has sold his plant to Will E. Burr, formerly editor of the Axtel Advertiser, who takes possession next week.
—Otis H. Clark of Woodville township died Saturday morning after a few days' illness. Mr. Clark was assessor at the time of his death and has been a prominent man in the county.
—Ernest and Brock have leased the Grand Pacific hotel from Samuel Mahood, and will take possession the 15th of this month. These gentlemen expect to put the building in good shape to accommodate roomers and boarders.
—The "Telephone Girl" company did not get to Columbus to fill their engagement Monday evening. Their baggage was here but the company stopped in Grand Island. They have telephoned to manager Saley that they will be here in about two weeks.
—The Boone County Argus is authority for the statement that a little girl baby was born in Albion last week whose grand mother and great grand mother were present to bid it welcome, and that its great great grand mother is still living in Iowa.
—G. Jay, the son of W. S. Jay who is attending an art school in Chicago, is developing a splendid talent for art. Recently he took an examination and out of one hundred and fifty he was one of three who passed the test. He is studying to be a cartoonist.
—R. S. Dickinson, J. H. Galley, Dr. Hansen, C. C. Gray and Henry Ragatz, by the republicans and T. W. Adams, L. G. Zinnecker, Louis Phillips and J. G. Teicher by the democrats are names we have mentioned as probable candidates for mayor at the coming spring election.
—Fred Walker of Haverhill, Mass., stopped in the city Thursday on his way home from Colorado where he had been on account of poor health. Mr. Walker was a schoolmate of Rev. Luce in their boyhood days and the two gentlemen had not seen each other for many years.
—Rev. Cash, the Episcopal minister, was called to Neligh last Wednesday by the serious illness of his father, who died after his son reached home. Mrs. Cash accompanied him on his mission. Mr. Biele conducted services in the church Sunday, morning and evening, in the absence of the pastor.
—Gus Fries, painter, and C. B. Mills, paper hanger, have formed a business partnership. The firm name will be Fries & Mills. All orders for work should be left at Pollock's drug store. Paper hanging and painting will be done on short notice and work finished as contracted for, and a portion of your trade is solicited.
—Last Tuesday's Omaha World-Herald contains a cartoon picture of our honored senator from Platte county, W. A. Way. Mr. Way is represented by the artist as in an animated conversation with Meredith of Sarpy county, his feet tucked under the chair and his hands extended as in explanation of an important subject under discussion.
—Last Saturday Joseph Sokol fled a suit in district court here against Mary Koslowski for $3,000. He claims he received injuries while intoxicated by liquor bought at the saloon owned by the defendant in Danca. Sokol says he was allowed to go home in a wagon in this condition from which he was thrown and received serious injuries.
—A "Wise Woman" has been secured as the attraction at the North opera house next Saturday evening, March 14. The company is headed by Miss Marie Lamour, heretofore a prominent and attractive member of Augustin Daly's New York company. The play through which Miss Lamour will be introduced to our theatre-goers is Wilfred Clarke's great London comedy success.
—The old soldiers of our neighboring town, Silver Creek, have asked General O. O. Howard to deliver a lecture there under the auspices of the Grand Army of the Republic; the General has replied signifying his willingness to come, and the date will be at no distant day. No doubt some of the old boys from this vicinity will take advantage of this opportunity to hear the old war horse.
—Charles H. Davis and John Jorgensen, together with their families, will move Saturday to University Place, this state. As soon as possible Mr. Davis, Mr. Jorgensen and Benjamin Davis will build residences in Havelock where they expect to make their future home. Columbus will lose one of the oldest and best families by their removal, but good wishes for their prosperity will go with them.
—City council met in regular session Friday evening. A complaint was filed by Hanna Ball and C. A. Lund claiming that Thomas Kesting had blocked the walk at the east side of lot 1, block 192.
—The matter was referred to committee on streets and grades. Chief of fire department L. P. Gottschalk reported to the council that he had sold the old hook and ladder truck to Alva A. Bim of Douglas, Wyoming, for $93. Chief of police in his monthly report said he found a shortage of street lights of 125 hours. Regular bills for the month were allowed.

—Dr. E. A. Vallier, Osteopath, has located in Columbus for the practice of his profession. Those who wish to do so may call on him at his office, 17th street and 1/2 block north of the Barber Building.
—W. G. Saley has resigned his position as manager of the P. D. Smith lumber yard and Henry Bieder now has charge of the place. Albert Bieder, formerly of Council Bluffs, a brother of Henry, has accepted a position as helper in the yards. Mr. Saley has not yet decided where he will locate. Henry Bieder has been in the employ of the Smith Co. ever since they started the business here, fifteen years ago and has the confidence and good will of their many customers.
—The "Old Mill Stream," the new drama which Daniel Sully is to present at North opera house on Monday, March 16, has the same delightful atmosphere as "Big Harbor," "The Old Homestead" and "Shore Acres," but in development and treatment it resembles none of those plays. It possesses a sustained interest which begins at the rise of the curtain on the first act and continues until the end. Sully played in the "Parish Prison" in Columbus last winter, and all who saw it pronounced it the play one of the greatest ever produced in our city.
—In this age of wisdom, a play full of satanism is what the theatre-goers of today want. Thinking this theory to heart Mr. Daniel Sully has had written a play that for realistic homeliness has never been equalled. "The Old Mill Stream" contains what so many so-called dramas lack, namely a story that is told in everyday life and characters who talk and act as real folks do. For clean, clever comedy and intense interest there never was a better play written than "The Old Mill Stream" which is to be the attraction at the North opera house, Monday evening, March 16.
—A recent issue of the Lincoln State Journal says that "Mr. and Mrs. A. V. Whiting announce the engagement of their daughter Adelphy, to Fred C. Williams. The wedding will take place in June. Miss Whiting and Mr. Williams both graduated from the State university in the class of 1900, the former being a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma and the latter of Beta Theta Pi. Mr. Williams is now principal of the High school at Seward." Fred Williams grew to manhood in Columbus and has numerous friends who are interested in his future happiness and success.
—The school board held several meetings the past week and disposed of some unruly boys. On Wednesday Ned Post was suspended until he should make a suitable apology before the school for his misconduct. He complied with the requirements. J. E. Hoffman and Prof. Lake were present before the board in regard to the punishment inflicted on Arthur Hoffman, a pupil of Prof. Lake. The matter was discussed at great length. John Hoffman and Fred Baker, pupils in the High school, were suspended, the former one month and the latter for two weeks.
—The verdict of the jury in the Lillie murder case at David City, of which we have an account on the first page of today's JOURNAL, was a surprise to many people because the evidence of the prosecution was entirely circumstantial. The prosecution demonstrated that the bullet which killed Lillie must have been fired from the side of the bed next the wall which was occupied by Mrs. Lillie. The second shot which Mrs. Lillie claimed was aimed at her by the burglar and which passed through the window was proved by the prosecution to have been shot but a few inches from the bed instead of several feet away as claimed by Mrs. Lillie. They showed that Mrs. Lillie was financially embarrassed at the time, through investments on the board of trade. The defense made much of the good character of the accused and of the cordial relations which existed between the husband and wife. A motion for a new trial will be argued on March 31.
—Manager Saley of the North opera house has closed negotiations for the appearance in this city next Saturday, March 14, of Miss Marie Lamour in Wilfred Clarke's great London success, "A Wise Woman." This announcement is of considerable importance to our theatre patrons as Miss Lamour has created no end of a sensation wherever she has been seen this season for her finely developed gifts as a comedienne and for the remarkable beauty she is said to possess. In addition to these important qualifications Miss Lamour has had the advantage of a splendid training in the companies of the late Augustin Daly for whom she played for several seasons. The comedy is undoubtedly one of the jolliest, brightest and best written efforts of its kind recently brought before the public. "A Wise Woman" proved a sufficient attraction to draw a record-breaking business at the Strand theatre in London, where it ran for nearly an entire season. A supporting company of prominent players has been engaged.
—A terrible tragedy was committed by Mrs. Susan Anderson of the Lookingglass neighborhood a week ago last Sunday. It has been difficult to obtain particulars of the affair but we take the following facts from the Newman Grove Herald: "Mrs. Anderson had been troubled with insomnia and headaches for some time and was unable to rest on the night of the tragedy. Along in the morning Mr. Anderson built a fire in a down stairs room so that she would not catch cold in going about the house, and then lay down on the floor and was soon asleep. About 4 o'clock he was awakened by a burning sensation about his mouth and neck. In swallowing he found the door locked but finally opened a window and went to his brother-in-law, Hendrickson's home, a short distance, where he received help. Soon after his daughter came also with word that the mother was dead and the baby dying. The woman had attempted to give the daughter a dose of the carbolic acid saying it was a cough medicine. The girl finally took a small quantity in her mouth. The mother then gave the thirteen-month-old baby a dose, from which it died, and drank the last in the bottle herself from which she soon after died. Dr. Munk of Newman Grove was called. About a year ago Mrs. Anderson attempted suicide. The funeral of Mrs. Anderson and the baby was held last Thursday. Mrs. Anderson had sued for a divorce from her husband but the judge last month decided that there was no cause for either and so the husband and her husband, two boys and two girls."

WATERFUL WATERS.

The Loup River Overflows and Does Considerable Damage.

Word was received here early Monday morning that the water in the Loup river was overflowing at Monroe, reaching that place about 5 o'clock, and washing out railroad culverts and small bridges in the swift current.
Mayor Dickinson notified the residents in the north part of town here, so that suitable protection was given to their stock and belongings.
About 9:30 the overflowing river became a reality and by 11 o'clock the water was at its height, and rushing through the valley at a rapid rate. The ice came in large quantities, goring at the Union Pacific railroad bridge, and retarded from passing by the railroad embankment, flooded the country north of the track a good distance back, and from the bridge to the Union Pacific round house. The river finally broke through about thirty feet of embankment to the east of the bridge and town, making travel of the road impossible until it shall be repaired.
Further down the river, the ice took out the north approach to the Loup wagon bridge and the small culvert bridge near the river. The B. & M. bridge was also badly damaged, from 25 to 35 beams being destroyed by the ice, so that it will be three or four days before trains can pass over.
In the valley, and in the west part of town, a great many small buildings were carried from their foundations and a few good sized ones. The two houses of Mr. Braggall and one of Tom Noonan were carried quite a distance. One of the dwellings of Mrs. Braggall was recently purchased by her from John Nelson. The home of A. Berger, west of town, was surrounded by water but did not get into the house. The "Y," in Highland Park, was covered with the flood of water and ice.
Communication was cut off from the west by the telegraph and telephone poles being torn down, and the independent telephone poles in the country south to Rochon are down.
Word received here Monday evening in regard to the condition of the Platte river was to the effect that the ice has not yet gone down. The largest overflow in the Loup seemed to drift to this side and those who have been to the railroad bridge say that the river has cut a new channel east of the bridge, leaving the bridge stone work about thirty feet out into the stream.
The water began to subside about noon and by evening nearly everybody who had left their homes to come to dry land, returned to their abodes for the night.
The Monday overflow will go down in history as one of the big floods of the country. In the past there have been three large floods of the Loup which are of historic interest,—March 10, 1893, March, 1891, and in 1867. The 1867 flood carried out about 300 feet of the Loup river railroad bridge, the R. & M. bridge was taken out and many homes made miserable by the water and ice. In March, 1891, occurred the largest flood in our history, although old settlers at that time claimed the 1867 overflow as extensive. In 1891 the water raged and flooded the country down the valley from Thursday, March 17, to Saturday, March 26, when the ice broke and carried houses, bridges and everything within its power down stream.
