In- THEY CALL ON PORTO RICANS stead of complying Forney made a move as if to draw a revolver from his Secretary Moody and Payne Have hip pocket and the robbers immediately opened fire. The first shot went wide of the mark, passing through the stove, near which Forney and Chaney were sitting, the ball imbedding itself in the woodwork of the building.

Chaney relied off his chair on the floor as though shot and the robbers paid no further atention to him. Fornev however, jumped up and started to run for the front door. the University of Chicago.

CHICAGO-President Roosevelt's sixty-day tour of the west began in earnest here Thursday, when he stepped from the Pennsylvania special at 8:45 o'clock and was received by Mayor Harrison and a special reception committee, not to mention a huge crowd which made its unofficial presence known by cheers which could be heard across the river.

While the greetings were being exchanged and members of the reception committee and the Evanston hosts presented by Mayor Harrison, the president's special train was switched to the tracks of the Chicago, Milwankee & St. Paul road for the run to the north shore suburb.

As the guest of President James P. and D. Shepard of Northwestern university, F. P. Grandon, G. B. Jenkins and J. S. Shaffer of Evanston, the presidential party, within a half hour after arrival, again entered the cars amid the cheers of the assembled crowds and the waving of hats, the train pulled out of the station.

At Evanston the president was greeted by Major J. A. Patten and then, headed by a detachment of cavalry from Fort Sheridan and a military band the party made its way through lanes of school children in the streets and of capped and gowned students on the campus to the steps of Lunt library. As the university ground were entered a salute of twenty-one guns was fired.

"The better the school training." he said, "the better the work you can do. We have no room for the idler-the man who wishes to live a comfortable life, and if a man has not the right in this life and proceeds vigorously
