—Rev. Neumann and Rev. Miller of this city and Rev. Rosenbaum of the Shell creek German church all attended the outdoorman in the Madison Lutheran church Sunday. Rev. Neumann, the pastor, preached the Thursday evening sermon, and both of the other gentlemen took active part in the program.

—A crowd of Columbus gentlemen left today, Tuesday, for Fremont, South Dakota, near where they expect to enter homestead claims. Among them are Mort Murphy, Ed. Early, Frank Baker, Will Kambach, Louis Gutierrez, W. R. Baber, John Huber, Frank Hagel, Bert Engleman, L. F. Phillips, Joseph Bush, Charles Sogelke and August Bosticher.

The local restaurants and hotels were notified that stops for meals would be made here and considerable preparation was made for the guests.

—At a meeting of the school board last Tuesday Prof. Bristol was re-elected principal of the High school. There are still two more teachers to be selected for the rooms of Prof. Lake and Mrs. Maco, these two teachers not having applied for positions for the coming year. The room taught by Miss Green will probably be discontinued next year. The board will meet this afternoon.

—"Comrades" by the home talent dramatic company will be repeated this (Tuesday) evening in the North opera house. The play received such praise from the public, and so many requests to repeat, that they have decided to do so, and the proceeds will be divided between those taking part in the play. Mr. Tomson deserves great credit for so ably drilling the members of the troupe.

—Charles Thompson, aged 74 years, died at his home about eight miles southwest of the city last Sunday morning. The cause of his death was a complication of diseases. He leaves three sons and four daughters all grown and married. His wife died seven years ago. The funeral services were held Monday afternoon in the Brown school house, Rev. Roberts officiating. Interment was at Bellwood.

—An exchange says that "a" is the most unfortunate letter in the English alphabet because it is never in cash, is always in debt and never out of danger. It forgets that the aforesaid peace is never in war but always in peace. It is the beginning of ease and at the end of trouble. Without it there would be no water, no bread, no meat, no life, no father, no mother, no sister, no brother, home or heaven.

—Chief Justice Sullivan has issued the stay of execution of Mrs. Lillie of David City, asked for by her attorneys, who have appealed to the supreme court for a rehearing of the case. The writ was secured in this city last week and was filed with the supreme court clerk and the authorities at David City later. Mrs. Lillie will remain in the county jail at David City until the court passes on the petition for a rehearing.

—The G. A. R. encampment held in Fremont last week was one of the most interesting to those present and the membership reached 291. Omaha secured the encampment meeting for next year, and Kearney was selected as the place to hold the 1916 meeting. Judge Estelle of Omaha was the only nominee for commander and was accorded the honor of a unanimous election. John Letz of York was elected senior vice commander.

—The Free Lance, Schuyler's new paper edited by John C. Sprecher, made its first appearance last week. Mr. Sprecher is an old time newspaper man who made a success as editor of the Schuyler Quill, and now comes back to the editorial ranks after a few years from the business, as gladly as a duck would return to water if it had been kept away a month. Mr. Sprecher announces that the paper will be entirely independent on political lines.

—Weather permitting the City Band will give a concert in Frankfort park this Wednesday evening. We understand it is the intention of the band boys to continue the weekly concert during the summer months. The citizens are interested to the extent of assisting the organization financially, and that an subscription paper will be circulated for that purpose. We believe the concerts in former years have been appreciated by our citizens and the boys surely deserve encouragement.

—Mrs. Rosa Eisenhauer died at the hospital last Friday of Bright's disease. Mrs. Eisenhauer was born in Germany and was 65 years old last September. She leaves four sons and three daughters all grown, her husband having died 21 years ago. Funeral services were held in the German Reformed church Sunday morning, conducted by Rev. Neumann. The body was taken to Dancon for burial.

—Mrs. Eisenhauer for a number of years has lived in this city, her residence being just south of D. Schupbach's.

—Saturday afternoon in a three-holed game of ten pins Alvin Drake broke the state record by making twelve consecutive strikes, scoring 221. The record was previously held by F. Zimmerman of Omaha with a score of 220. There were a large number of bowlers witnessed the play who all agreed that the strike was clean and well delivered. Drake was a price of $25 in gold which has been up for two years and never won before. Mr. Hagel expects to have his allies replace one which will add greatly to their value notwithstanding the fact that they now rank among the very best in the state.

—The David City Banner makes the following complimentary comment:

"The Columbus Dramatic company which appeared at the David City Banner last Friday evening is composed of the most talented and talented young people of Columbus, and the play was all and more than it was advertised in the Banner last week. The rendition of the play 'Comrades' was a genuine treat and was greatly enjoyed by all who heard it. Although an amateur company it is superior to many of the traveling companies which have visited this city."

—A common complaint of citizens about town is that their cellars have more or less water in them. In a great many places where they have brick walls the water has seeped through between bricks. Columbus is not the only town that is experiencing this trouble, however, for we notice Fremont and other places are reporting the same condition of affairs. The public roads into the city have also been put in bad condition by the rainy season. In places they are almost impassable for a loaded wagon, but Nebraska will soon dry up if it has a few days of sunshine, and then can show the best of country roads.

—Quartermaster Hull of the First Nebraska regiment, inspected company K Tuesday evening of last week and found their equipment in good order. The company now has some forty members and is expected to get fifty or twenty more. If the young men of the city realized the benefits to be derived as a member of a militia company the work of recruiting would be very light. The officers of the company are working hard to make the Columbus boys the best drilled in the regiment; they need and deserve the support of every citizen of Columbus. The company expects to receive new equipment in a few months which is always quite an inducement to recruits.

—The Carr-Nichols brick factory is now working with a force of ten men, beginning Monday. The machinery was all tested and a few bricks made last week. Mr. Nichols says they have the best clay in the state for brick making, as it contains plenty of sand and iron already mixed. They have received a great many inquiries about tiling which is encouraging, as the company expects to put in machinery for the manufacture of tile as soon as the brick work is well started. As soon as they begin burning brick the force will be increased by about twenty men, and Mr. Nichols says they expect to have brick on the market in about twenty days. The sound of the steam whistle at the meal hours is a welcome noise.

—Carl Herman, a liverman from Humphrey who was brought to the Columbus hospital for treatment for nephritis only a few days ago, strayed from the hospital Friday noon and has not yet been found. Mr. Herman is 35 years old, 5 feet 7 inches tall, weight 150 pounds, has dark brown hair and mustache. When he left the hospital he wore a soft black hat, a dark gray suit of clothes, white shirt with pink stripes and red necktie. He is a Bohemian by birth and talks English with an accent. For several years Mr. Herman was section foreman on the F. E. railroad and was well known in the north part of the county. A reward of $25 has been offered by the family to any one giving information leading to his whereabouts. Mr. Herman is a member of the Modern Woodman lodge of Humphrey.

—A delegation consisting of about forty-eight German agriculturists who are making a tour of the country, passed through Columbus Friday evening on their way west. One day was spent in Omaha visiting the packing houses and another at the best sugar factory in Ames before reaching this city. The distinguished guests of the United States were met here by the City Band and an outpouring of citizens who gave them a hearty reception during the short stop made. David Schupbach and Charles Sogelke each gave a short address and were responded to by a member of the visiting party. The travelers are all young men and come to spend a few months studying our agricultural institutions, and during their visit will no doubt find many things to surprise them in the way of advanced methods. They expressed themselves as much pleased with the country.

—Schuyler has been having a serious time with a flood. The last issue of the Quill says: "The damage caused by high water in said about Schuyler during the past week is impossible to estimate. Over fifty different pieces of property were affected, many families were compelled to move, and almost all of the garden plots in the Third and Second wards were ruined. For some time past the water from the hills north and west of the city has been standing in the draw west of the city and through the Third ward. On Saturday night a heavy rain commenced to fall and on Sunday morning until Tuesday afternoon a series of showers fell. There is not a cellar in the Third ward that is not filled with water. Melkus' orchard is a lake and is within a few feet of his residence. John Lammert's carpenter shop was surrounded and a foot of water is in the building. His engine and lathes are badly damaged. In cutting the bank between the railroad ditch and the sand pits quite a flood was caused in the Second ward. The water found its way along the streets between the railroad and the High school and resembled small rivers. The volume was heavy enough to float a tall grown hog as far as the corner in front of the Wells-Abbott-Nieman company mill. The citizens affected are greatly stirred up against the county officials and threaten to sue for damages. The matter has been called to their attention a number of times, but nothing was ever done to relieve them. It is claimed that the water comes from the country between Richmond and Schuyler, and as the natural course has been cut off it banks up against the railroad and there is no way to drain it. When the railroad was first built through this country the rails were laid on the sod, and the road bed has been raised gradually until it is now fully two feet higher through this city. When first laid the water found its course over the tracks and did no damage. Shell creek is out of its banks and is doing considerable damage. The water from this stream is running against the Union Pacific tracks and threatens to wash out the road bed. Two car loads of sand in sacks were placed in the wash place Tuesday morning."
