—The Humphrey band has been engaged to come to Columbus on the Fourth to help make music for the celebration. This and the home band ought to keep the air pretty well filled with harmonious sounds on that day.
—A funnel shaped cloud with all the appearance of a cyclone appeared south of the river and west of Ballwood Sunday afternoon about 3 o'clock. People who saw the peculiar twisting black snake like mass thought the point of the cloud did not reach the earth.
—Somebody broke open the tool chest of R. E. James Sunday night, stealing all the contents which are valued at $35. Mr. James had his chest in the yard of the Second ward school where he was engaged in putting down the walk to the south and west of the school building.
—Mrs. L. E. Stewart of Silver Creek, a former resident of Columbus, was in town Thursday on business. Mrs. Stewart was a few weeks ago surprised by a large number of her friends calling on her with baskets laden with good things for refreshments to celebrate her sixtieth birthday.
—Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Pohl of Springfield, Nebraska, arrived in the city Saturday for a short visit with relatives and friends. Although the distance to that place is something like one hundred miles, they made the trip horseback in two days and apparently enjoyed the unusual mode of travel.
—Theodore Steinbach of Woodville township has been bound over to the district court by County Judge Ratterman in the sum of $1,000 on a charge of bastardy, preferred by Ida Lutka, a young girl living near St. Edward.
—The young man's mother went on his bond and secured his release.
—The Platte Center Signal says that Prof. E. C. Hinks who has been superintendent of the schools there has gone to Mandan, North Dakota, where he will, in company with his father, enter the real estate business. The older Mr. Hinks has for several years been superintendent of schools in Missouri.
—About two days ago Bert Easton had a gold watch stolen from his vest which he had hung up while at work on a shed at the rear of the hardware store. A few days later the watch was found at the jewelry store of Carl Froumal where it had been left by Peter Hoffman who is supposed. Mr. Hoffman says he purchased the watch from a tramp for $2.50. It is a solid gold case and valued at about $75.
—Rev. and Mrs. Luce and Miss Winnie Young leave next Tuesday for their trip east to Boston, taking advantage of the excursion for the teachers' national association which meets in that city. In Omaha a car will be made up of Albion, Fullerton, Columbus and Craig people who, with the exception of Rev. and Mrs. Luce will be together on the entire trip to Boston, going by way of the lakes and through Canada. Rev. and Mrs. Luce will take a more southern route from Chicago east, and will be absent about one month, spending most of the time in their native state of Maine. Miss Young will visit her mother's relatives in Canada on her return trip home from Boston.
—A number of business men of the city met H. E. Babcock in the council rooms Thursday evening, when he invited them to become stockholders in the proposed canal power enterprise. After explaining to them the present situation of the company in regard to the probable outcome, the gentlemen were pleased with the report Mr. Babcock had to give, and subscribed for shares in the enterprise beyond what had been expected by those who have been working for the canal power. Mr. Babcock left the first of the week for New York in the interest of the company. The contest seems to be now wholly between Columbus and Fremont and we believe Columbus has the advantage, as has been stated before in THE JOURNAL.
—The city council met last Friday evening, present councilmen Clark, Galley, Gressen, Phillips, Sheldon and Mayor Becker. A petition was presented requesting that Seventeenth street, between Washington avenue and Olive, be graded suitably for public service. The request was granted. President J. G. Roscoe and Secretary I. H. Britton of the public library board submitted reports for the year ending June 2, 1920, which were accepted and placed on file. Lee Rollis in behalf of Company K asked the council for permission to erect a bowery dance hall on the east side of Frankfort park to be used on July 4th. The request was granted. The committee on streets and grades recommended that the petition asking that Tenth street, from block 136 to 138 be filled and graded suitably for public service be adopted by the council. The streets and grades committee also recommended that the petition asking that sidewalks be ordered built on part of Seventh street be granted. The council will meet again this Wednesday evening.
—Last Saturday about noon A. M. Covert, a railroad employe of the Union Pacific, was struck and seriously injured by a westbound passenger train which was just leaving town. Mr. Covert had been working on the night force in the yards until Saturday when he was transferred across the track on an errand and struck by his back toward the approaching train having returned as far as the center of the track before he noticed the engine which was then almost upon him; at that instant it is supposed that he jumped but the engine struck him, throwing him about thirty feet and striking his head upon a rail. When picked up it was thought that he was dead, but his condition has improved slightly and at present there are hopes for his recovery, although he has not gained entire consciousness. His injuries are several scalp wounds, a bruised hip and shoulder. He was taken to St. Mary's hospital Saturday evening where he is being cared for. His brother John, from Mountain City, Iowa, arrived Sunday morning. About noon today (Tuesday) Mr. Covert regained consciousness and his entire recovery is now expected.
—G. A. Schroeder returned Saturday from a week's trip to Shreveport, Louisiana, where he went to attend a shooting tournament. Shreveport is a city of about 25,000 inhabitants located in the hard pine lumbering district, the greater part of its population are negroes, not the lowest class of indolent negroes as one might expect, but the more intelligent thirty class. Mr. Schroeder thinks the city government is the best that has come under his observation. The train that he was on was the first to go to the union depot in Kansas City after the flood. The water had stood seven feet high in the depot. The Missouri Pacific round house and all the engines in it were totally wrecked, several engines and Pullman cars were so completely washed away that no trace of them had yet been found. The Armour packing house, a great many dwellings in the neighborhood were entirely washed away leaving nothing to show that the place had ever been inhabited except cellar holes filled with water. Speaking of crop conditions Mr. Schroeder says those in Indian Territory were the farthest advanced of any he saw; both north and south of these crops were about as they are in Nebraska. Gas says he enjoyed the trip hugely.
—Mrs. Mary Jane Elliott, mother of H. S. Elliott of this city, died Tuesday evening last week at 7 o'clock at the home of her daughter Mrs. E. H. Andrews of Leadville, Colorado. Mrs. Elliott, whose maiden name was Smiley, was born February 6, 1821, in Carlisle, Pa. She was married November 1, 1849, to John Elliott who died about three years ago in Columbus. They came to Platte county from Pennsylvania in 1875, settling on their farm west of Platte Center. In 1883 they moved to Columbus where they lived until the death of Mr. Elliott, since when Mrs. Elliott has made her home with her son H. S. and daughter Mrs. Andrews. Her children who survive are Hans S. of this city, Mrs. Rebekah Glass of Trinidad, Colorado, Colorado, and Joseph C. whose present address is not known. Mrs. Andrews arrived here Thursday with the remains of her mother and funeral services were held Friday afternoon at the home of her son, Rev. Halsey preaching the sermon. A choir composed of Messieurs Garlow and Whitmoyer and Messrs. Garlow and Hietok furnished the music. The quartet had been chosen by Mrs. Elliott to sing at the funeral, before her death. After services at the home, the body was laid to rest in the Columbus cemetery.
—Wednesday afternoon and Thursday the members of the Catholic church celebrated the twenty-fifth anniversary of the priesthood of Father Seraphim. Wednesday afternoon twenty-five little girls from the school, who were all dressed in white and veiling silver
