"There seems

derstanding as to the present attitude of the department regarding rural free delivery. The statement has been published quite generally, particularly in the west, that rural routes that do not handle 3,000 pieces of mail per month and supply 100 families are to be discontinued. It is not the purpose of the department to disturb routes already established unless they are manifestly unnecessary. There are now on file in the department pe titions for more routes that will supply more than 100 families than can be established with the present appropriation. This being the case, the department does not feel it wise, equita ble or just to establish a route supply ing less than 100 families, the greatest good to the greatest number being the fundamental principle upon which rural free delivery is being established. As long as all the routes asked for cannot be established because of the lack of sufficient money, the routes that will supply the greater number of families should certainly have pref-
