—Mrs. R. Yates, Misses Etta Smith and Jennie Bonwick, Ed. Grisinger, Mr. and Mrs. Wilton, Mr. and Mrs. Casper, Mr. and Mrs. Bunting and Mr. and Mrs. Hofrichter all of Bellwood were Columbus visitors last week.
—Pyrography machines from $3.00 to $5.00 at von Bergen's.
—The International Harvester company of America, Piano division, has filed a summons with the county judge to have William Stevenson appear in court July 22. The defendant purchased a black tractor, M. Rothelstein, valued at $125 and acted contrary to the contract made between them.
—Miss Beulah Wheeler arrived here Wednesday evening from University Place and will be the guest of Miss Alice Watkins several weeks. Miss Wheeler graduated one year from the Wesleyan university and has accepted a position as principal of a school in Plains, Montana. Miss Maudie Wheeler, her sister, will teach in the same building with her.
—Quite a crowd assembled at the ball park Sunday afternoon to witness the game between the Fullerton Specials of Madison and a Columbus team. The home boys played good ball notwithstanding the fact that they have no organization and are without practice. At the end of the ninth inning the score stood:
Columbus..... 2 10 0 2 10 6 0—12
Madison..... 0 0 2 0 0 1 0 0—3
—Mrs. E. E. Baker met with an accident Monday morning which has caused her much pain. She was helping lift a boiler full of scalding-hot water from the stove to the washing machine and failing to lift her end of the boiler high enough some of the water splashed on her hand which caused her to let loose of the handle and the water ran into her shoe scalding her foot so severely that the flesh came off. No serious results are anticipated.
—The Monroe Republican says that during the storm Wednesday evening Isaiah Lightner was returning from Genoa and was compelled to remain at the Friends church until the storm was over. His reports it very severe at that place, the lightning striking a stack of grain in Charles Miller's field and burning it up.—Mrs. C. S. Jencks, Mrs. J. J. Williams and Mrs. E. E. Watts attended a meeting of the Eastern Star in Columbus Tuesday evening.
—Members of the Baptist church on Sunday unanimously voted to call Rev. E. J. Ulmer as their pastor. He has preached here several times recently and gave general satisfaction to his congregation. Should he accept the call to this church he will probably take up his work about August 1. Rev. Ulmer is a young man of ability, being a graduate of a Rochester, N. Y. seminary, receiving a thorough education in both English and German, and is also a musician.

—George Bennett of Marquette, Ill., is spending a few days with C. B. Easton and family. Mr. Bennett is in the mail service establishing rural routes in Illinois and Indiana. His wife and daughter, who have been here for some time, will accompany him home.
—Judge R. P. Duffy of this city and Miss Lois M. Foster of Genoa were married last Thursday in Fullerton. The Judge surprised his friends here, who are now offering congratulations. The couple went to housekeeping at once in their home in the west part of town.
—Among the candidates for the democratic nomination for county superintendent of schools are: Miss Ella Coleman of Humphrey, Mr. Whitehead of Creston, E. L. Hicks of Monroe and M. M. Rothelstein of Columbus and the present incumbent L. H. Leavy.
—H. E. Babcock went to Fremont Monday where he will remain several days. The canal power enterprise is now at a standstill awaiting the completion of the survey at Fremont and the decision of the engineers report of the two projects. There will be nothing definite to announce until these reports are complete.
—Mike Mostek, married, and 35 years old, was brought to the county jail here from Humphrey Saturday. He was taken before Justice Schmeck of Humphrey Saturday charged with felonious assault with an attempt to commit rape upon Mrs. Angeline Henry. He was sentenced to the county jail for 30 days, with a fine of $100, and a $500 bond for his appearance at a session at Tarnov a few months ago. He is now in jail here, having failed to give the required bond.
—We learn that a deal has been nearly completed for the consolidation of the Fremont Tri-Weekly Leader and the Fremont Daily Herald, the two democratic newspapers of that city. The Dodge County Publishing company, which owns the Leader, will buy the Herald plant and business from N. W. Smalls, who has edited and published the last-named paper for nearly thirty years. Under the new management a daily and tri-weekly paper will be issued.
—Headquarters for fine coffee. E. B. London & Bro. sell the celebrated gold medal.
—The county board of supervisors were in session a few days last week for general business. The resignation of Dr. Hans Peterson as county coroner was accepted and Dr. E. R. Jones of Lindsay was appointed to take his place. J. L. Fincus and John Maty were given the right to sell spirituous liquors in Tarnov when they have paid the $500 license required by law. A number of bills were allowed and several roads in the county ordered opened to the public. The board met again October 6.
—The Columbus Fire Department, accompanied by numerous friends, left this Tuesday morning on a special train of eight cars for Norfolk where the State Firemen's Tournament is being held for three days beginning Tuesday. The train returns this evening, but a good many will remain over. There are about eighty who went from here this morning. Several horse carts and teams from other places passed through the city all expecting to win honors in the race. Today the big parade takes place.
—Mr. and Mrs. Charles Miner of Plattsmouth came up Saturday to spend a few days with relatives. Mr. Miner has been engaged as coach repairer with the E. & M. Railroad Co., but is now receiving treatment for an arm which did not heal perfectly from a fracture received about two years ago. Mr. Miner tells us that his brother-in-law, Ernest Wells, who left this city several months ago for Missoula, Montana, to engage in the printing business, is much pleased with his new location and getting along nicely.
—The hail storm on the 12th which visited a strip of country east of St. Edward and south to Onosola, did great damage to crops. The St. Edward Sun reports grain entirely ruined east of there. Still as large as a bean ball fell in quantities here and other fields as here as if the ground had just been plowed. Many chickens and pigs were killed and window glass broken. Farmers have already begun planting buckwheat, millet, corn for fodder and other things. The storm extended from one to three miles in width.
—Frank Seiberger, an old resident of this community, died at his home in the southeast part of town Thursday. Mr. Seiberger had been an invalid for fifteen years and died of dropsy. The deceased was born March 19, 1830, in Prussia, coming to America when he was fourteen years old and living in Indiana twenty years when he removed to Nebraska. Two years ago he moved from his farm to Columbus. He leaves a wife and twelve children to mourn his death. Nearly all his children are married and live in this neighborhood. Funeral services were held Saturday morning at 10 o'clock in the Catholic church, and interment was made in the church cemetery.
—Coffee that is coffee. The celebrated gold medal. E. B. London & Bro.
—Carl, the young son of Mr. and Mrs. John Osborn died Friday evening after only three days of illness, aged four years and ten months. Carl had several days before he was taken seriously ill, received a fall while playing in the yard, bruising his leg, which later developed into blood poisoning, from which he died. Services were held Friday evening at the home in the north part of town, Rev. Halasy officiating, and Saturday morning the remains were taken to Fullerton for burial beside a sister. At Fullerton a short service was held in the Presbyterian church at 12 o'clock.
—Anton Barney, brother of George Barney and uncle of Joseph Barney, is in the city visiting relatives. He is accompanied by his wife, Mr. Barney came here from Pretoria, South Africa, where he has lived for twenty-two years, going there from Switzerland. He fought during the late war in Africa, spending over three years in the service. He says that the country is left in bad shape on account of the war, which will take years to overcome. Geeseboppers are one of the pests of the farmers of Africa and ants are another destroyer of farm land. They build large mounds of earth which become so compact that it requires a sharp spear to break up the hills. Cattle raising is the most profitable industry of the country. Mr. and Mrs. Barney expect to remain in Columbus and make it their future home.

—Mrs. Brindley's many friends will be glad to learn that she is receiving very kind attentions from the people of McCook, especially in her recent affliction. Mr. George Thomas, conductor of the Normal, spent no trouble or expense to make it easy for her to join her relatives in their hour of sorrow when the comfort of her presence was so much needed last week at the time of Mrs. C. A. Newman's death. Mrs. Brindley returned Wednesday to McCook where she will continue teaching for five weeks.
—The Genoa Times has the following favorable mention relative to a Columbus man: "J. G. Reader of Columbus is said to be a candidate for district judge. He is the only candidate of republican complexion mentioned up to date and there will probably be no opposition to his nomination as he is an able lawyer and a man of unquestioned integrity. He has the promised support of a large number of democrats in the event of his nomination who believe that the time has come when more consideration should be given to a man's integrity and ability for a judicial position than to his politics. As there are two judges in this district it would reflect credit on the republican and democratic parties alike to divide the honors—each party making one nomination."
—Joseph Clark of Cadiz, Ohio, was in the city Thursday and Friday, coming over from Burlington on a visit to friends here. Although making his home in the east, he is what you might call a full-blooded westerner, having crossed the plains in 1869, during the gold discovery times, was a member of the first hook and ladder company organized in Omaha, is interested extensively in Nebraska lands to which it has been his custom to make annual visits and believes fully in this section of Uncle Sam's domain as the garden spot. We consider him a man of extra good judgment and very conservative. He predicts that not far in the future farm lands in the corn belt in Nebraska will be selling for $100 per acre. A dozen years has elapsed since his last visit to this city which he considers has made wonderful progress.
—Grand Island enthusiasts of a "rest room" for farmers' wives and daughters are agitating the setting apart one room in their new court house for this purpose. Central City has such a place and the Fremont Tribune advocates the same thing for that city. If a few of our city men and women could experience the inconvenience of the majority of the women coming from the country into town on business we doubt not that within a few years not only Columbus but every town would possess a "rest room." A convenient apartment with toilet facilities, comfortable chairs, couches on which sleeping children could be laid and where women could wait after having finished their shopping, would be the means of making a trip to town a pleasure. The men have many places to pass their time in town but there is absolutely no place for the women and children.
—The following completion of affairs is recorded by the Lincoln Star in regard to a former Columbus newspaper publisher: "The First National bank of Columbus has brought suit against the state of Nebraska to recover a bill originally filed by Warwick Saunders against the state, while the latter was a member of a committee appointed by Governor Holcomb to investigate interstate freight rates. The committee was appointed in 1897 under a resolution of the legislature, and according to the petition Saunders performed his duty as a member of the commission. He traveled throughout Nebraska, Kansas and Oklahoma and attended meetings of the interstate commerce societies and commissions. He submitted an itemized report to the auditor and the legislature allowed the bill, but the governor vetoed it. Afterwards the First National bank of Columbus purchased the claim against the state and now sues for $274.16."
—Besides being a great showman Col. W. F. Cody is peculiar in the care and ardent lover of his native land. No matter in what part of the globe he may be with his Wild West show, no anniversary of the natal day passes by without "extra doings" on the occasion. The last Fourth of July was no exception and must have been celebrated in grand style judging by the menu card which Prof. Wm. Sweeney, leader of the Cowboy Band, has sent us from across the ocean. The first page contained two flags and shield printed in red, white and blue colors with the following wording: "Our National Day. July 4th, 1908. Many happy returns of the day. Buffalo Bill's 'Wild West' dinner. Aberdeen, South Wales." The second page contained this verse:
"With faces glowing in her natal glow,
Brothers in heart and arms once more we turn
On the strong cycle of our Nation's years;
And to the music of 'Atlantic'—"
The menu was sumptuous and consisted of about thirty different toothsome articles. The attendance at the show that day was very large, reminding them of Fourth of July crowds at home.
—The city council met last Friday evening in regular adjourned meeting. A petition to have the ditch on the north side of Tenth street from Washington avenue four blocks east closed up, was read and referred to the committee on streets and grades. Messrs. Karr & Nichols appeared before the council and complained of the surplus water which flowed on to their brick yard and asked assistance in removing the same. The matter was referred to committee on streets and grades. A. Heints presented a proposition to change the present street ramps for the Normal incandescent lamps which he claimed would give better satisfaction than those now in use. He also informed the council that he will not permit any further reductions from his bills for lights out, unless it is shown that the abatement is caused by his neglect. W. B. Gardner presented a sprinkling contract and bond for $250, which was accepted. The matter of collecting poll tax was discussed and left to the committee on streets and grades with power to act. The committee on streets and grades submitted reports recommending that the petition to have sidewalks built on certain parts of Eighth street and to have certain parts of Seventeenth and also Hayes streets graded be granted. A special committee was appointed to confer with the county supervisors and the U. F. B. Co. with a view of getting assistance in grading the Madison road from the tracks to the river.

—The school board held a regular meeting Friday afternoon. Miss Elise Zaunbruchen of Illinois was elected science teacher in place of Prof. Graybill, who resigned to accept a better position. Miss Zaunbruchen comes highly recommended to the board. It was decided at the meeting Friday to add a course of manual training to the High school department. This department will not be compulsory with any of the grades, but pupils taking it will receive credits for the study. The basement rooms in the High school building will be fitted up with the necessary tools. A turning lathe and other expensive machinery will not be purchased before next year. Sup't Kern was instructed by the board to procure a teacher for this department who could also instruct pupils in the city in free hand drawing. The manual training will be conducted on the line of instructing pupils in the foundation work of the carpenter, foundry and other mechanical work. This has been so unanimously successful in schools where taught, that the school board feel that they are not making an experiment in introducing it. The free hand drawing will also be welcomed by parents and children as a profitable addition to the course of study.

Card of Thanks.
We desire in this way to express our heartfelt thanks to the many friends who so kindly assisted in so many ways during the recent sickness and death of our beloved wife, mother and sister.
