—Your breakfast is not complete without a cup of the celebrated gold medal coffee. We sell it. E. B. London & Bro.

—In Monday's Lincoln State Journal, Birby reviews, in his droll way, the bill introduced in the state legislature several years ago, by Moran of this county, which provided for the inspection of beer.
—The Platte county democratic convention will be held at the Orphan opera house next Monday afternoon; the next evening at the North opera house the democratic state convention will convene.

—Farmers, do you want to get the best threshing coal in the market? R. S. slack, Butte slack, Kammerer slack, Cherokee nut or any kind of lump or coal at this market, always on hand. C. A. Spieck.
—We have removed our office from North opera house to the second door south of Niewehner's jewelry store. Just received a new line of machines and invite you to call and inspect them. Frank Schram.

—Rather than take my piano east with me and ship from place to place, I will sell at a great bargain. Those who wish an elegant piano call at once, just north of North opera house. D. Ross Cunningham.
—Father Seraphin is spending a few weeks in Denver and Colorado Springs. Father Hilarius of Teutopolis, Illinois, is taking his place during his absence. The latter is a professor in the Catholic college at that place.

—Dick Logansen, a farmer who lives near Platte Center, had his back quite seriously hurt a short time ago by the falling of a windmill which he was helping to raise on the farm of Hick Schiltz. He is now recovering slowly.
—Coffee that is coffee. The celebrated gold medal. E. B. London & Bro.

—Miss Ethel Galley has returned from Lincoln where she spent part of the summer studying under Prof. Edmund J. Meyer of New York City. She is prepared to give instruction on the piano in the use of the voice and the piano production of songs. Call or write for terms.

—The Schuyler Free Loan says that Peter Schmidt, who runs a mill up on Shell creek, over the county line, in Platte county, was in the city Tuesday on a trip, looking after matters relative to his business.
—Mrs. John Alvord refused an offer last week of $25 per acre cash for 100 acres, the northwest quarter in section 23, five miles northwest of town. This is the highest price yet offered for farm land in this section.

—The shooting tournament under the direction of the Columbus Gun Club is being held this Tuesday and Wednesday at Gotschall's grove northwest of the city. About thirty gentlemen are present from out of town.
—Bessie, the little son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Butler living just northwest of town, died this Tuesday morning at 6 o'clock from bowel trouble, aged two and a half years. Funeral services will be conducted by Rev. Lenz Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

—Work on the new depot is progressing as rapidly as the weather will permit. A spur was built south of Adams' lumber yards and a car placed thereupon which Agent Lander is using for an office until the completion of the new structure.—Genes Leader.
—Will Bower was found lying unconscious in the barn at his home Thursday afternoon, and for a few hours was a very sick man. The cause of his sudden illness was apoplexy from which he has been a sufferer for some time. He has now almost entirely recovered.

—Notwithstanding inclement weather during several days of last week, the Schuyler paper mentioned the Collins Carnival Co's engagement there to have been quite successful from a financial standpoint. From Schuyler the company went to Stromburg where they exhibit during this week.
—Mrs. John Stauffer returned Friday from Ellensburg, Washington, where she went about three months ago to spend the summer with her daughter Mrs. Kohler. Miss Ross, who went out with her will remain this winter and attend the State normal school which is located there. John Stauffer, who has been there several months, will also remain for some time.

—A tennis tournament will be held on the Howard court in this city Tuesday afternoon and Wednesday morning, players coming from Albion, Genoa, Fullerton, Schuyler and possibly other places. Fin Howard and Will Hensley represent the Columbus players, and will be assisted by Chasney Abbott of Schuyler and Charles Spieck of Kingfisher, Oklahoma.
—James McGlinchey was in town Sunday on his way to Primrose where he has been appointed the first Union Pacific agent at that town, which is located between Cedar Rapids and Spalding. Many years ago Mr. McGlinchey was a gunsmith here in the store now owned by L. Phillips. Since leaving Columbus he has been located as agent for the Union Pacific at St. Edward and Cedar Rapids and now leaves a position in Omaha to go to Primrose.

—During the electrical storm last Thursday lightning struck and killed one of the cattle in the pasture of Fred Meadell, west of this city and across the Loop river. In the same neighborhood, at Christ Ross' farm, a stack of wheat was struck. Neighbors who discovered the fire wound ropes around it, hitched horses to the ropes and hauled the burning mass a safe distance from other stacks near it, thereby saving a large amount of grain.
—Reports come from the vicinity of Bellwood that wheat and rye is being damaged by the continued damp weather, much of which has begun to sprout in the shock. North of town on the bluffs grain is in better condition but the rains and extremely heavy dews have prevented threshing and may still be the cause of much injury to the crop should it continue for a few weeks. Corn, although a little backward, is in excellent condition and will make an immense crop unless an early frost interferes.

—The grocers of the city are considering plans whereby they may have all their merchandise delivered through a central lot to some one who would make a special business of it. Grocers here have been investigating plans adopted by eastern cities which have proved entirely satisfactory, and who claim better service can be given at less expense to all. Each store would contract for the delivery, and be independent of any other, on the same plan as they engage a drayman to do their hauling.
—The Boone County Agricultural society held their 19th annual fair at Albion September 22 to 25 inclusive. This is one of the few counties in the state which has kept up the good old fashioned fair, and made a social and financial success of the institution. The farmers and merchants of the county take pride in these gatherings where they meet to exchange ideas and enjoy visiting with friends. The premium list for the exhibition shows a long list of prizes offered which are well worth working for. Eight hundred dollars will be expended alone on horse racing.

—The innkeeper of a "rust" room in Central City is being commended on quite generally by the papers of the state and several towns, following the example set by the ladies of this city, have established "rust" rooms of their own. The county commissioners of Hall county have set aside three rooms of the new court house in Grand Island for this purpose and the intention is to fit them up in good style. There can be no doubt of the value of the idea and the liberal patronage which the rooms have received is an evidence that they are popular among those whom they are intended to serve.—Central City Nonpareil.
—H. E. Balouch is in Fremont and is expected to return this Tuesday evening. The expert engineers representing the Fremont and Columbus canals may possibly return with him and together all would go over the grounds of the Columbus survey before returning to New York to give their final decision. In reference to the Fremont project the Omaha News says: "Just what power can be developed will not be known for some days, but the indications are that there will be enough to supply all Omaha, the suburbs at South Omaha, the surrounding towns and several thousand horsepower to spare. There is some talk of transmitting the power as far as Des Moines."

—At 2 o'clock this Tuesday afternoon occurred the marriage of Mr. Joe Strick and Miss Tillie Kruger at the German Evangelical Protestant church, Rev. Wurdeman officiating.
—G. E. McGill of Albion, formerly of Columbus, was committed on the municipal tablet last Saturday for drunk of the district court. A manifestation on the republican ticket in Boone county is as good as an election. At the convention there Saturday 400 men were present.

—J. H. Galley's large advertisement in today's Journal, tells all about a business of summer goods now going at his store. You surely need something they are offering and as you get the goods at great bargains it will be to your interest to call and make purchases while you have the chance.
—The democrats of the city are making all preparation possible for the entertainment of the state convention which meets here Tuesday of next week. Committees for reception, music, decoration, etc., have been selected and all are working to make the day a great event in Columbus. The democratic county convention will be held here Monday afternoon, the judicial convention Tuesday morning, and the state convention Tuesday evening. Several hundred people will attend the state gathering.

—General Miles was greeted by a large crowd Tuesday evening at the depot. They had come to pay their respects to him as he passed through the city on his way to San Francisco. When he was first recognized through the car window by J. R. Meagher, who had known him thirty years ago, a cheer was given and a call made for a speech, which he responded to in a few complimentary words in regard to the country. General Miles is a candidate for commander in chief of the National G. A. R. which is now in session in San Francisco, and his friends are urging his candidacy before the democratic convention for president of the United States.
—Mrs. J. N. Kilian and daughter Estelle and son Leo and Alfonso arrived here Friday from the Philippine Islands, and remained until Monday visiting Mrs. Kilian's sister Mrs. C. S. Shidner, going from here to Blair to make their home for the present. Captain Kilian of the U. S. army is stationed at Do Do, Panay Island, and will remain for one year longer. Mr. Kilian and family left here over a year ago for that country. Mrs. Kilian was not at all pleased with the place. She returns in order to place the children in school, the advantage there being very meagre for educational purposes.
—Prof. L. H. Britell has been spending many days in the country this summer botanizing with the senior class of the High school. The crowd start out in the afternoons, furnishing their own vehicles, and take with them their lunches for an evening meal which they enjoy in true picnic fashion. Botany is not one of the subjects taught by Prof. Britell, but he is taking these excursions with the class for his own pleasure and in order to help them secure the fifty specimens which is required from each pupil in the High school course. The class have now made trips in nearly every direction out of town. Prof. Britell has a collection of 400 flowers, all from this vicinity, and nearly all of which are wild flowers. This is the largest herbarium owned in the city.
—H. H. Hantemann, who with his family moved last winter to Cordova, Md., arrived in the city Friday to spend a few days with old friends. Mr. H. is accompanied by H. Bedenhop who is a member of the state board of immigration of Maryland, and the two are making a trip through the states of Kansas, Nebraska and South Dakota to interest farmers in lands of that state. The object is to better the condition of farms there by introducing up-to-date machinery and enterprise, which can be found in these western states. Mr. Hantemann is well pleased with his location and says he would not think of returning. His family were at first a little homesick for Nebraska but are now as delighted with the country as himself. The abundance of fruit and the convenience of being near the large market centers are among the attractions. It is certainly a new experience to the westerner to be sought for from the eastward.

—H. J. Alexander returned Saturday from a visit to relatives in the east, where he has been since July 14. His mother, who is 84 years old, is in feeble health and it was to see her that Mr. Alexander made the trip. In St. Lawrence county, New York, where his brother and mother reside, Mr. Alexander says 95,000 milk cows furnish practically the entire living of the inhabitants. The county is given over to the dairy industry and one-tenth of the cheese in the state of New York is made in that county. The great lakes are a means of much transportation and pleasure excursions, a ride on lake Erie from Detroit to Cleveland costing only 25 cents, which is the regular fare. Mr. Alexander says the best corn along his return route was seen after he left Cedar Rapids, Iowa, and he thinks Nebraska is the best of all in which to make a living.

—Rev. Peter Solyman, D. D., an Armenian who is in America for the purpose of placing orphan christian children in homes in this country, gave addresses both morning and evening at the Methodist church, Sunday. The conduct of the natives who have turned from the Mohammedan religion to the christian, is indeed pitiful, as described by Rev. Solyman, and he pleads with Americans to help them in their distress, not in giving money but in taking a stand as a government against the Turkish rule. In the Sunday school and in the evening his talks were more in reference to the customs of the country. Rev. Solyman was educated in Paris and has been in America a little over one year. After the lecture in the morning $120 was subscribed by the congregation to the regular missionary funds. Miss Hattie Ben of David City, who is the guest of Miss Hedwig Schenck, gave "Sinner My God to Thee" in the foreign language at the close of the morning service. The motions were made by Miss Ben as she watched the lips of singers who sang the hymns, and the audience was greatly touched by her beautiful interpretation of the song. Miss Ben graduated from the state school for the deaf at Omaha this spring and will continue her education in a government college at Washington, D. C.
