IT may be pretty disagreeable to the fusionists to have it "rubbed in" that their candidate for supreme judge has twice endorsed the republican candidate, Judge J. B. Barnes, by appointing him to the highest office and the most responsible position in the gift of a supreme judge, but the hard fact stands out prominently, and every time a fusionist criticises Judge Barnes as not desirable for the position for which he is a candidate, such criticism bears strongly and directly on the judgment of their own candidate for the office. Judge Barnes' ability as a commissioner of the supreme court has never been questioned, and all that has been brought against him was as pertinent when the fusion judges appointed him as court commissioner as it is now.—Norfolk of the most fractuating and impressive beings whom I ever met. I have with : Carlyle and Tennyson, with Victor Hugo and Massini, with Bright and Robert Browning, but no ality, with the inexplicable light of tanequaly from beart and brain. It scorn such as Cartyle and Byron never sached, who in print was so often Athenesius contra mundum, who opened every written assertion with "I know," was in private life one of the entiest, gayest, humblest of men.

M. de Parville, a well known French esturalist, told a remarkable story about a rat in the Journal des Debata. A gardener planted one afternoon 250 tulip bulbs on a terrace, and next morning he noticed that the ground had been disturbed and that they had all been taken away. He was conadent that rats had done the work, and, taking a spade, he began to dig Soon he uncarthed a large female rat, few more minutes he discovered an underground chamber lined with hav and leaves and connected by a corridor with two holes, which were eviently used as storehouses, for he found the 250 tulip bulbs. This was the fact that they were neatly arregular weekly test of the Ninth grade ranged in two rows and that not one of them had been gnawed or otherwise injured.

A ridiculous but amusing story used to be told of Charles Reade's dramatisation of Tennyson's poem, "Dora." We do not, however, vouch for the truth of the anecdote. "Dora" was being performed one night years ago, and when Mary Morrison made her exit to bring on her little Willie, aged Miss Gusta Goedeke of Osceola visited girls have been organized to play backet lubberly boy of at least fourteen, and, ball and have already began practice. as he was the only Willie at hand, on Mrs. L. Cheerfulness is a duty one owes to meself as well as to one's neighbors, for nothing so unfits one for the ordinary duties of life or so quickly brings on premature old age as a morose temper, says the Brooklyn Eagle. There are plenty of artificial aids to cheerfulness within the reach of every one who has real or imaginary cause for ill humor or a congenital tendency to surliness. When things don't go tion is an infallible remedy for the most acute fit of blue devils. If you
