W. F. THOMPSON, secretary of the Nebracks food commission, has notified the officers of the Retail Grocers' accociation that in future he will hold merchants directly responsible for the wares they have in stock. This does not mean that when articles bearing a deceptive label or containing injurious substances are found in a merchant's store he will be carted off to jail, but it signifies that retailers must break themselves of the habit of repeatedly purchasing bogus vinegars, ciders, etc., and then pleading ignorance of the fact that the stuff is not all that the labels indicate. Under the new plan, should a merchant persist in offering for sale goods which he must know to be inferior, or even continue to patronize houses which he has been warned are doing an illicit business, Secretary Thompson will apply the state law to his case and endeavor to impress him with the fact that the statute means all that it says.
